Federal Student Loan Debt

Most recent three-year cohort default rate, as reported by the United State Department of Education.¹	The percentage of enrolled students in 2016 receiving federal student loans to pay for this program.	The average amount of federal student loan debt of 2016 graduates who took out federal student loans at this institution.	The percentage of graduates in 2016 with federal student loans as calculated by the institution
N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A

¹The percentage of students who defaulted on their federal student loans is called the Cohort Default Rate (CDR). It shows the percentage of this school's students who were more than 270 days (9 months) behind on their federal student loans within three years of when the first payment was due. This is the most recent CDR reported by the U.S. Department of Education.

Students at BRADFORD UNIVERSITY are not eligible for federal student loans. This institution does not meet the U.S. Department of Education criteria that would allow its students to participate in federal student aid programs.

- “Number of Students Who Began the Program” means the number of students who began a program who were scheduled to complete the program within 100% of the published program length within the reporting calendar year and excludes all students who cancelled during the cancellation period.

- “Students Available for Graduation” is the number of students who began the program minus the number of students who have died, been incarcerated, or been called to active military duty.
- “Number of On-time Graduates” is the number of students who completed the program within 100% of the published program length within the reporting calendar year.
- “On-time Completion Rate” is the number of on-time graduates divided by the number of students available for graduation.
- “150% Graduates” is the number of students who completed the program within 150% of the program length (includes on-time graduates).
- “150% Completion Rate” is the number of students who completed the program in the reported calendar year within 150% of the published program length, including on-time graduates, divided by the number of students available for graduation.
- “Graduates Available for Employment” means the number of graduates minus the number of graduates unavailable for employment.
- “Graduates Unavailable for Employment” means the graduates who, after graduation, die, become incarcerated, are called to active military duty, are international students that leave the United States or do not have a visa allowing employment in the United States, or are continuing their education in an accredited or bureau-approved postsecondary institution.
- “Graduates Employed in the Field” means graduates who beginning within six months after a student completes the applicable educational program are gainfully employed, whose employment has been reported, and for whom the institution has documented verification of employment. For occupations for which the state requires passing an examination, the six months period begins after the announcement of the examination results for the first examination available after a student completes an applicable educational program.
- “Placement Rate Employed in the Field” is calculated by dividing the number of graduates gainfully employed in the field by the number of graduates available for employment.
- “Number of Graduates Taking Exam” is the number of graduates who took the first available exam in the reported calendar year.
- “First Available Exam Date” is the date for the first available exam after a student completed a program.
- “Passage Rate” is calculated by dividing the number of graduates who passed the exam by the number of graduates who took the reported licensing exam.
- “Number Who Passed First Available Exam” is the number of graduates who took and passed the first available licensing exam after completing the program.
- “Salary” is as reported by graduate or graduate’s employer.

- “No Salary Information Reported” is the number of graduates for whom, after making reasonable attempts, the school was not able to obtain salary information.

STUDENT'S RIGHT TO CANCEL

You, as the Student, have the right to cancel this enrollment agreement, and obtain a full refund of charges paid, through attendance of the first class session, up to the seventh business day after your initial enrollment date, and not incur any costs to the school (except for any books and supplies that have been issued), Before signing this enrollment agreement, you should review and understand the school's cancellation, withdrawal, and refund policies, as you will be required to acknowledge and agree to them all. If, in addition to funds you may have paid "out of pocket", you receive Federal student financial aid funds to attend school, you may be entitled to a refund of those funds; a refund calculation will be performed to ascertain whether this is the case. The procedures described in this Enrollment Agreement are required for you to cancel or withdraw from school and obtain a refund.

If you obtain any loan proceeds to pay for all, or a portion of your educational program, you will have the obligation and responsibility to repay the full amount of the loan plus interest, less the amount of any refund.

If you received loan funds guaranteed by the Federal government and you default on that loan, both of the following will occur:

- (1) The Federal government will take action against you, including the assignment of any Federal income tax refund to which you are entitled, to reduce the balance owed on the loan.
- (2) You will not be eligible for any other Federal student financial aid at any educational institution, or other government assistance until the loan is repaid.

- “No Salary Information Reported” is the number of graduates for whom, after making reasonable attempts, the school was not able to obtain salary information.

STUDENT'S RIGHT TO CANCEL

You, as the Student, have the right to cancel this enrollment agreement, and obtain a full refund of charges paid, through attendance of the first class session, up to the seventh business day after your initial enrollment date, and not incur any costs to the school (except for any books and supplies that have been issued), Before signing this enrollment agreement, you should review and understand the school's cancellation, withdrawal, and refund policies, as you will be required to acknowledge and agree to them all. If, in addition to funds you may have paid "out of pocket", you receive Federal student financial aid funds to attend school, you may be entitled to a refund of those funds; a refund calculation will be performed to ascertain whether this is the case. The procedures described in this Enrollment Agreement are required for you to cancel or withdraw from school and obtain a refund.

If you obtain any loan proceeds to pay for all, or a portion of your educational program, you will have the obligation and responsibility to repay the full amount of the loan plus interest, less the amount of any refund.

If you received loan funds guaranteed by the Federal government and you default on that loan, both of the following will occur:

- (5) The Federal government will take action against you, including the assignment of any Federal income tax refund to which you are entitled, to reduce the balance owed on the loan.
- (6) You will not be eligible for any other Federal student financial aid at any educational institution, or other government assistance until the loan is repaid.

Federal Student Loan Debt

Most recent three-year cohort default rate, as reported by the United State Department of Education.¹	The percentage of enrolled students in 2016 receiving federal student loans to pay for this program.	The average amount of federal student loan debt of 2016 graduates who took out federal student loans at this institution.	The percentage of graduates in 2016 with federal student loans as calculated by the institution
N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A

¹The percentage of students who defaulted on their federal student loans is called the Cohort Default Rate (CDR). It shows the percentage of this school’s students who were more than 270 days (9 months) behind on their federal student loans within three years of when the first payment was due. This is the most recent CDR reported by the U.S. Department of Education.

Students at BRADFORD UNIVERSITY are not eligible for federal student loans. This institution does not meet the U.S. Department of Education criteria that would allow its students to participate in federal student aid programs.

- “Number of Students Who Began the Program” means the number of students who began a program who were scheduled to complete the program within 100% of the published program length within the reporting calendar year and excludes all students who cancelled during the cancellation period.
- “Students Available for Graduation” is the number of students who began the program minus the number of students who have died, been incarcerated, or been called to active military duty.
- “Number of On-time Graduates” is the number of students who completed the program within 100% of the published program length within the reporting calendar year.
- “On-time Completion Rate” is the number of on-time graduates divided by the number of students available for graduation.
- “150% Graduates” is the number of students who completed the program within 150% of the program length (includes on-time graduates).
- “150% Completion Rate” is the number of students who completed the program in the reported calendar year within 150% of the published program length, including on-time graduates, divided by the number of students available for graduation.
- “Graduates Available for Employment” means the number of graduates minus the number of graduates unavailable for employment.
- “Graduates Unavailable for Employment” means the graduates who, after graduation, die, become incarcerated, are called to active military duty, are international students that leave the United States or do not have a visa allowing employment in the United States, or are continuing their education in an accredited or bureau-approved postsecondary institution.

- “Graduates Employed in the Field” means graduates who beginning within six months after a student completes the applicable educational program are gainfully employed, whose employment has been reported, and for whom the institution has documented verification of employment. For occupations for which the state requires passing an examination, the six months period begins after the announcement of the examination results for the first examination available after a student completes an applicable educational program.
- “Placement Rate Employed in the Field” is calculated by dividing the number of graduates gainfully employed in the field by the number of graduates available for employment.
