The Director of Education may temporarily suspend students whose conduct is disruptive or unacceptable to the academic setting. After appropriate counseling, students who demonstrate a genuine desire to learn and conform to school standards of conduct, may be allowed to resume attendance. Refund Policy Example

Computer Applications Online Course refund example. This example is based on 100 hours attended before withdrawal.

Total Course Cost: $5,500

-$ 1,000

Materials.

-$ 250

Non-Refundable fee

= $4, 250

Tuition

Divided by 240

Total amount of course hours Equals $17.71 charge to student per hour

Multiply by 100

100 hours attended before Written Notice of Withdrawal

= $1,771

Tuition for training hours provided owed to School

If the student is eligible to pay the Student Tuition Recovery Fund fee, STRF fee amount will be added to the total amount. Currently STRF Charge (non-refundable fee) of $0 per $1,000 which equals to $0.

Therefore, the total amount owed to the school will be:

$4,250

Total Course Cost (except materials fee) which school received

-$1,771

Tuition for training hours provided owed to School

= $2,479

Total Amount of Refund owed to student

The above example is a guideline to help the Student and the School determine the amount owed to the School and the amount of the refund returnable to the Insurance Company, under the terms and conditions provided in this agreement.

NOTE: If the school has transmitted the student the balance of the material as the student has requested, the school will provide the other educational services it agreed to provide, such as responses to student inquiries, student and faculty interaction, and evaluation and comment on lessons submitted by the student, but it will not be obligated to pay any refund after all of the lessons and material are transmitted.
