INTRODUCTION

History of the Colburn School

The roots of the Colburn School date to 1950 and a preparatory program, the Community School of Arts, of the University of Southern California. In 1986, the school officially became an independent community school (still housed at USC) and was renamed the Colburn School of Performing Arts. Re-named the Colburn School in 1998 when it moved to its Downtown Los Angeles campus, the school continues its community arts mission through various divisions: the Community School of Performing Arts, offering fee-based enrollment in music, drama, and early childhood classes; the Trudl Zipper Dance Institute, which includes pre-college dance classes and the pre-professional Dance Academy; the pre-college Music Academy for advanced instrumental music students; and the collegiate Conservatory of Music. The Conservatory of Music opened in 2003 offering a Bachelor of Music degree and a Performance Diploma for undergraduate students, and an Artist Diploma and Professional Studies Certificate for post-baccalaureate students. In 2013, the Conservatory added a Master of Music degree to its offerings. In 2015, a Graduate String Quartet-in-Residence program was added to the AD and MM curricula (expanded to Chamber-Ensemble-in-Residence in 2016); and in the 2019-20 academic year, the Conservatory launched its Conducting Fellows program with Director Esa-Pekka Salonen. This highly selective division offers instruction in instrumental music performance and conducting and due to its benefactor, Richard D. Colburn, students accepted into the conservatory receive full scholarship and grants for tuition, room, and board for the length of their programs.

The School's Mission and Purpose

The mission of the Colburn School is one of access and excellence, to enable all students to reach their highest potential in the performance of music, dance, and drama.

The purpose of the Conservatory of Music within the Colburn School is to provide intensive post-secondary training to classical instrumental performance majors through five distinct programs: the Bachelor of Music in Performance degree, the Performance Diploma, the Master of Music in Performance degree, the Artist Diploma, and the Professional Studies Certificate, and conducting instruction through the Conducting Diploma and the Artist Diploma-Conducting Emphasis.

The Conservatory Student Catalog and Handbook

The Student Catalog and Handbook of the Colburn Conservatory of Music provides students with important information regarding degree and program requirements, classes offered, and policies and procedures. Please note that other divisions within the Colburn School have separate policies and procedures that may differ from those defined in this handbook.

Important note: As a prospective student, you are encouraged to review this catalog prior to signing an enrollment agreement. You are also encouraged to review the School Performance Fact Sheet, which must be provided to you prior to signing an enrollment agreement.

The Student Catalog and Handbook also presents information mandated by the State of California. Any questions a student may have regarding this catalog that have not been satisfactorily answered by the Colburn School may be directed to the Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education at 1747 N. Market Blvd #225 Sacramento CA 95834; phone 916-574-8900; or 888-370-7589 toll-free; fax 916-263-1897; or www.bppe.ca.gov.

APPLICATION AND ADMISSION INFORMATION

The Colburn School strives to maintain and develop a diverse, inclusive, and supportive educational environment centered on both access and excellence. The Colburn School does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, citizenship, age, gender, sexual orientation, gender expression, ethnic origin, religious belief, familial status, disability, veteran status, or any other generally accepted "protected class" in its admission, retention, student aid, scholarship, or other educational policies. There is no age limit for applying. Students must have completed secondary education in order to enroll in the Conservatory. Preference is generally given to students in the formative stages of their careers, with consideration of quality and potential as determined by the Admission Committees of the Conservatory.

Applying for a new program

If you are completing a program at the Colburn School and wish to enroll in a new program after graduation, you must re-apply to the school following all of the admission and audition requirements found on the school's website:

<https://www.colburnschool.edu/conservatory/apply-to-the-conservatory/>. All deadlines must be met and all application materials, including audition videos, are required unless waived by the Director of Admissions and the appropriate applied faculty member. In general, transcripts and letters of recommendation are waived. Students applying to a new program should contact the Director of Admissions to determine if any application requirements may be waived.

Applying after withdrawing from the school

A student who withdraws from the Colburn School for any reason must re-apply following all of the admission and audition requirements found on the school's website: <https://www.colburnschool.edu/conservatory/apply-to-the-conservatory/>. When re-applying, all deadlines and application materials are required unless waived by the Director of Admissions and applied faculty member. Students re-applying to the school should contact the Director of Admissions to determine if any application requirements may be waived.

Transfer of program

Under some circumstances, and in consultation with the applied teacher and the academic advisor, students may transfer from the program to which they were admitted to a different program at the school. A transfer of program does not require re-applying to the school. Students may transfer (before graduation) from the AD to the PSC, the PSC to the AD, the MM to the AD or PSC or from the BM to the PD without re-applying to the school. Students wishing to transfer programs must submit the Change/Extend Program Request Form to have the transfer considered. Students admitted to the PD program who are approved to transfer to the BM at the conclusion of the first year of study are not required to re-apply for admission, but do have another internal application process for the transfer. Students in the CD or AD-Conducting Emphasis are not eligible to transfer to another program at the school.

Students who request approval to move from the AD or PSC program to the MM program must submit the Change/Extend Program Request Form to have the transfer considered. Such students will be required to take the music theory and music history placement exams and any other required activities during Orientation. The decision to approve a change to the MM program is made during the Admission Committee meetings following auditions. Admission to the MM program will depend, in part, on the student's previous undergraduate work, the results of the assessment tests, and the student's proficiency in the English language (if not a native English speaker). Approval is not guaranteed. If the program change is approved, the student is expected to complete the MM program in two years, not including time already spent in the AD or PSC program.

International students who change programs must immediately notify the school's Principal Designated School Official (PDSO). This applies to students who may move from the MM to the AD or the PSC, students who transfer from the AD to the PSC; students who transfer from the PSC to the AD, students who transfer from the BM to the PD, and students who are approved to transfer from the PD to the BM at the end of their first year of study.

International Students

Student F-1 Visa and Visa Services

An F-1 student visa for studying at the Colburn Conservatory of Music can be obtained by an international student only after the student has applied, been admitted, submitted all required paperwork, and paid the enrollment deposit. The school will issue a Form I-20 once all the above has occurred and the student has supplied the information required (including a passport copy and proof of finances). It is then the student's responsibility to contact the nearest U.S. Embassy/Consulate (preferably in his/her home country) and follow the necessary steps to apply for an F-1 visa. Please refer to <https://www.colburnschool.edu/i-20s/> for additional instructions. Interviews may be required and the processing time to secure a visa will vary depending on the Embassy or Consulate (some locations may take up to three months or more). Exceptions may apply to certain countries. Please see the U.S. government link for more information on the visa application process: <https://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/us-visas.html> and communicate with your DSO if you anticipate the visa process to take longer than 6 weeks.

Note that although the Colburn School does not charge for providing the I-20, the U.S. Government charges a SEVIS fee of $350. This mandatory fee must be paid online before a student applies for a visa. Go to www.fmjfee.com/i901fee/index.html for more details. In addition to the SEVIS fee, an F-1 student will need to apply for an F-1 visa and complete the DS-160 form for the respective consulate, which involves a separate visa fee. Please note, Canadian citizens do not need to obtain an F-1 visa, but they still need to pay the SEVIS fee. These are mandatory fees and must be paid by the applicant to the U.S. government before a visa is issued; the Colburn Conservatory does not pay these fees.

It is important to remember that all international are responsible for following Federal immigration regulations. Federal laws are established at national level, and Federal laws override State laws. As an international student, you are subject to Federal law and must adhere to these regulations to maintain your F-1 immigration status. Failure to comply can result in deportation or being barred from entry into the U.S.

English Proficiency

All instruction at Colburn is held in English and the ability to communicate in English is critical to succeeding at Colburn, therefore English proficiency is a requirement for admission to all programs, with the exception of the Performance Diploma. In order to demonstrate proficiency, applicants who are not native English speakers must submit a TOEFL or IELTS test score. To prevent delays in the application process, it is recommended that you take the test no later than November 1 in the year prior to your desired enrollment date (i.e. no later than November 1, 2024 for a desired enrollment in the fall of 2025). English as a Second Language courses are offered, please see Appendix A for the course descriptions.

TOEFL minimum score requirements for admission are:

AD and PSC	65 iBT
MM	86 iBT

Please note, Colburn only accepts TOEFL iBT scores from a single test date, not MyBest scores.

IELTS minimum score requirements for admission are:

BM	6.0 with no sub score lower than 5.5
AD and PSC	6.0
MM	6.5 with no sub score lower than 6.0

More Information

Information on study in the United States and help regarding visa matters may be found in your home country through EducationUSA advisers. To find the adviser nearest you, go to educationusa.state.gov. EducationUSA advisers are affiliated with the U.S. Department of State.

Transfer of Credits

Credit earned by applicants at another accredited post-secondary institution may be transferable to the Colburn Conservatory Bachelor of Music or Performance Diploma. In general, credit is granted only when the coursework involved and the level of the transfer applicant's achievement is such that would permit the student to complete the remaining coursework at Colburn successfully. All requests for consideration of transfer credits must be made within the first semester of enrollment. Please see the admissions guidelines/transfer of credits on the school's website: <https://www.colburnschool.edu/conservatory/apply-to-the-conservatory/transfer-applicants/>.

Determination of Transfer Credits

Transferability of courses to the Colburn Conservatory is determined by the appropriate department chair or Dean of the Conservatory. This determination is made individually and is based on a review of the applicant's academic record and placement testing. Normally, acceptance of transfer credits is finalized during the registration process or the first semester of enrollment and is done so at the discretion of the school.

PROGRAMS OF STUDY and STUDIO BENCHMARKS

PROGRAMS OF STUDY

The Colburn Conservatory of Music offers six programs of study: three undergraduate (the Bachelor of Music degree, the Performance Diploma, and the Conducting Diploma) and three graduate (the Master of Music degree, the Artist Diploma, and the Professional Studies Certificate). All students in the Conservatory are performance majors; the core of the curriculum for all six programs is formed by applied lessons, chamber ensembles, and orchestra.

The Bachelor of Music (BM) degree program is a four-year undergraduate curriculum focusing on the development of highly-skilled performing musicians. Academic requirements include courses in music theory, ear training, music history, and the humanities. Students in the BM present recitals in the junior and senior years. Students completing this program are prepared for graduate study in performance, or for employment within the profession. A minimum of 120 semester units is required for completion of the program. Please consult Appendix C of this handbook for requirements and recommended course sequence for the BM.

The Performance Diploma (PD) is a four-year curriculum designed for the student who has not completed a baccalaureate degree, but whose performance activities require more flexibility than is possible in the Bachelor of Music program. Academic requirements are limited to courses in music theory and ear training, keyboard harmony, and music technology; students in the PD will present recitals in the junior and senior years. Students completing this program are prepared for study at the diploma or certificate level, for a Bachelor of Music degree, or for employment within the profession. A minimum of 80 semester units is required for completion of the program. Please consult Appendix C of this handbook for requirements and recommended course sequence for the PD. The Performance Diploma program also supports students who need extra time to solidify their English language skills prior to enrolling in the BM program (see section on "Performance Diploma for ESL Reasons").

The Conducting Diploma (CD) is designed for the student who has not yet completed a baccalaureate degree. The Conducting Diploma focuses on the development of highly skilled young conductors who audition and enter the school as part of the Conducting Fellows program. The program is three years in length and has the requirement of a conducting recital or its equivalent in each of the second and third years. A minimum of 50 semester units is required for completion of the program. Students must have completed a high school diploma or its equivalent prior to beginning the program. Please consult Appendix C of this handbook for requirements and recommended course sequence for the CD.

The Master of Music (MM) degree program is a post-baccalaureate curriculum that includes academic coursework in music theory and music history; it may also include coursework in music pedagogy through the Teaching Fellows emphasis. The coursework for this program, including the Teaching Fellows emphasis, is detailed in Appendix C of this handbook. Students must have completed a baccalaureate degree or the equivalent prior to matriculating. The MM student presents a culminating recital in the final year of the program. Students completing this program are prepared for further graduate study in performance at the doctoral level, or for employment within the profession. A minimum of 45 semester units is required for completion of the program. Within the Master of Music program there is a Chamber Music emphasis to which a student may be admitted as part of an existing ensemble. See Graduate Chamber Ensemble-in-Residence below for details of this emphasis. Please consult Appendix C of this handbook for requirements and recommended course sequence for the MM.

The Artist Diploma (AD) program focuses on the development of highly skilled performing musicians. The program is a minimum of two years and a maximum of four years in length, with a minimum requirement of four recitals. A minimum of one recital must be given during every year of residence; a maximum of two of the four required recitals may be given in any single semester. Students must have completed a baccalaureate degree or the equivalent prior to matriculating. Students completing this program are prepared for further study at the post-graduate level, or for employment within the profession. A minimum of 36 semester units is required for completion of the program. In addition to performance, there are three emphases within the AD: Teaching Fellows, Conducting, and Chamber Music. See Graduate Chamber Ensemble-in-Residence and Graduate Conducting - Conducting Fellows below for details of these two emphases. See the Teaching Fellows Curriculum, Appendix C in this handbook, for the program requirements. AD students electing the Teaching Fellows emphasis do so in the first semester of residence.

The Professional Studies Certificate (PSC) program emphasizes professional and pre-professional activities outside of the Colburn School. It is designed for students seeking intensive training in their applied area, often with specific goals in mind (such as preparation for competitions or auditions). Students are not required to have completed a baccalaureate degree but must have completed an undergraduate diploma or certificate to matriculate. Students completing this program are prepared for employment within the profession. At the conclusion of each semester of enrollment, the PSC student must submit the PSC Semester Activities form detailing outside professional activities required of the program (auditions, competitions, performances, etc.). Students in the PSC may apply to be in the Teaching Fellows emphasis in their first semester of enrollment; see the Teaching Fellows curriculum, Appendix C of this handbook, for the program requirements. A minimum of 26 semester units is required for completion of the program. Under exceptional circumstances, a PSC may be awarded to a student who has completed a minimum of two semesters of study and has won a professional appointment or equivalent full-time Fellowship program through a competitive audition process.

Graduate Chamber Ensemble-in-Residence: The Colburn Conservatory has available an appointment of a chamber ensemble-in-residence for qualified pre-formed ensembles of three or more players. ## Piano and Percussion

PIANO

UNDERGRADUATES

Piano students enrolled in the Bachelor of Music degree and the Performance Diploma program are expected to achieve at a pre-professional level, perform in orchestra, chamber music, and play in master classes. Students are admitted to the undergraduate programs based on an achieved technical mastery, abilities and talent, potential for progress, and potential for a future as a professional performer. The objective of the piano studio is, through guidance, teaching, and collaboration, to create a group of students who each can be musically and personally independent for life and make a living in the arts. In their four years as undergraduates, all students are expected to participate in concerts including Performance Forum, Chamber Forum, Orchestra and CCMS, and in teaching through community engagement programs.

The Bachelor of Music and Performance Diploma student will necessarily experience a period of adjustment in the first semester of study, and therefore, expectations during that first semester are somewhat more elastic than in subsequent semesters. Curriculum is highly individualized, but in general, the goals for the four years of study at Colburn in piano are:

- The undergraduate years are seen as the time in a young artist's life for the crucial development of repertoire. This will be the focus of the undergraduate sequence for piano students
- In each semester of study, a student will study and prepare for performance one baroque, classical, romantic, post-romantic, and modern composition and one concerto. These pieces will be ready for performance by the end of each semester
- Each semester the student will perform a recital as part of studio class.

- All repertoire choices are individualized, based solely on the student's level, particular abilities, aptitudes, and talents. There is no specific list of required pieces. Some students will have a particular need to develop a specific repertoire (e.g. contemporary, baroque, etc.) Students will be given all possibilities for development
- By the senior year, the student will have mastered the repertoire as appropriate to the individual's level and artistic maturity. At the point of graduation, each student will have a full repertoire list appropriate to the individual's level and artistic interest and talents. The completion of the degree presupposes the accumulation of every tool possible to be independent for life, whatever a student may choose to pursue
- All students, at every point of study, are expected to be fully involved in the musical life of the school. This means a student must avail themselves of all the appropriate performance possibilities and must be available for all performance needs of the school. This is an essential element to understanding life as a musician: to be capable and available and to fully integrate into the artistic fabric of the school and the community. This, above all, will prepare the student for life beyond the walls of Colburn

GRADUATE STUDENTS

Students admitted to the piano studio in the Master of Music, Artist Diploma, or Professional Studies Certificate programs are of a level as to be competitive at the professional level. Students in these programs will participate in chamber ensembles, orchestra (when needed), and be part of the Teaching Fellows program or in some other way immersed in the Community Engagement programs of the school.

Students in the graduate programs are expected to achieve at a professional level and to meet the following benchmarks in their program:

- Students in the graduate programs are expected to participate in the appropriate activities to continue and enhance their careers, including festivals, recordings, and/or competitions
- Students need to be adept in the use of all technological tools available to expand their own career possibilities
- Graduate students follow the same programmatic outline of study as the undergraduates, though at a necessarily higher level: in each semester each student will prepare repertoire in the baroque, classical, romantic, post-romantic, and contemporary eras, as well as a concerto. This repertoire will be prepared for performance at the end of the semester
- Each semester the student will perform a recital as part of studio class.
- Students with solo career aspirations are expected to enter competitions throughout their program at Colburn. This is an essential tool for exposure for the young artist
- All students, at every point of study, are expected to be fully involved in the musical life of the school. This means students must avail themselves of all the appropriate performance possibilities and must be available for all performance needs of the school. This is an essential element to understanding life as a musician: to be capable and available and to fully integrate into the artistic fabric of the school and the community. This, above all, will prepare the student for life beyond the walls of Colburn

Students enrolled in the Conservatory of Music accept the following responsibilities and standards of conduct as part of the contract of their enrollment:

- Students are responsible for conducting themselves with honesty, in accordance with accepted standards of professionalism and propriety, with proper regard for the rights of others, and for knowing and abiding by the standards and policies in this Handbook. Access to remote learning must be used in a responsible, safe, efficient, ethical, and legal manner.
- Students must demonstrate respect for the academic and personal rights of others. This includes acts of complicity. The absence of active participation in misconduct is an insufficient response to violations of the code of conduct. Students are expected to take an active role in disengaging themselves from all acts of misconduct. Failure to do so can be considered acts of complicity and may result in such students facing the same charges as active participants.
- The Colburn School abides by all state and federal laws regarding the use, manufacture, and/or sale of alcohol and drugs. Students are expected to comply with all such laws, and with school policy. Violations shall be dealt with according to the policies and procedures described in this Handbook.
- Students are expected to present work of high quality in both performance and academic studies. This includes a responsibility to attend all scheduled classes, rehearsals, and examination periods on time. (See Attendance Policy.)

- Students have the rights provided in the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA); these include rights against improper disclosure of information, and freedom of access to their personal records.

Academic Integrity

The Colburn School expects its students to act with integrity at all times. Although it is impossible to enumerate every form of academic dishonesty in a handbook statement, academic dishonesty consists of any action that unfairly advances one's academic progress. Cheating, falsifying information and excessive assistance by another person are examples of academic dishonesty, as is plagiarism. Plagiarism is using anyone else's work, words, or ideas and presenting them as one's own including using Artificial Intelligence tools to do so.

Absent a clear statement from a course instructor, use of or consultation with generative AI shall be treated analogously to plagiarism. In particular, using generative AI tools to substantially complete an assignment or exam (e.g. by entering exam or assignment questions) is not permitted.

Students will be notified in writing by the faculty member that a violation of the Academic Integrity Policy has occurred via their Colburn email. The student should provide a response no later than two (2) calendar days from receipt of the notice from the faculty member. The student will be required to meet with the faculty member to discuss the alleged violation within seven (7) calendar days.

The meeting outcome will determine the next steps as outlined below:

- If the student agrees that a violation has occurred, the faculty member will inform the appropriate Department Chair, the Registrar and the Dean. Academic Integrity sanctions will occur as listed below.
- If the Student disagrees that a violation has occurred, there are two processes:
  - If it is a complex case or the academic outcome could lead to the student's failure of the class and/or inability to graduate, the faculty member will refer the case to the Dean.
  - If the case is not complex or would not result in failing the class, the faculty member and appropriate Department Chair can determine the appropriate outcome (responsible or not responsible). If found responsible, the faculty member will inform the Registrar and the Dean and Academic Integrity sanctions will occur as listed below.

In cases involving alleged misuse of Artificial Intelligence, faculty members must present at least one form of supporting evidence/documentation of the alleged violation that does not include an AI detection report. Examples of such evidence may include: comparative samples of work demonstrating a different "voice," misinformation within the submitted assignment, inaccurate citations, repetitive patterns involving specific keywords or phrases, or the student's inability to speak knowledgeably of their own assignment.

Students are not eligible to withdraw from courses where they have had an academic integrity violation.

Violations of this policy shall result in the following disciplinary action:

- A student's first academic integrity violation shall result in probation (see "Consequences" below), and a record of the violation shall be placed in the student's permanent file and a failing grade on the assignment. Students placed on probation for reasons of academic integrity shall be on probation from the time of the violation through the following semester.
- If the violation involves an assignment or exam that represents a substantial portion of the grade for the semester, the student may receive a failing grade for the course if so noted in the syllabus.
- A second violation of the policy will result in dismissal from the school.

Violations of this policy may impact the success of future applications to the Conservatory.

Indemnity

Students (age 18+) agree, for the student and their respective heirs, assigns, and legal representatives, to indemnify, defend, and hold the Colburn School and its present and former Officers, Directors, Employees, Agents, Board Members, Representatives, Consultants, and the Colburn School's direct and indirect subsidiaries, (collectively "Colburn Parties") harmless from and against any and all damages (except damages caused solely by the gross negligence or intentional misconduct of Colburn School Parties) that may be incurred or sustained by the student or the Colburn School Parties arising from or related to any injuries to the student, or the student's acts or omissions.

Disability Accommodation

This policy confirms the Colburn School's commitment to providing reasonable accommodations to individuals with physical, mental, or learning disabilities recognized under the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) and the ADA Amendments Act of 2008 (ADAAA). Reasonable accommodation is the provision of aids, or modification to testing, services (including room and board for residential students), or a program of study, that allows access by individuals with disabilities. Note that the Colburn School is not required to provide accommodations that would create undue hardship; that is, are unduly costly, substantially disruptive, or that would fundamentally alter the nature of the student's program.

An individual requesting reasonable accommodation is required to submit the request in writing to the Dean, along with official documentation of the disability. Once eligibility has been established, accommodations are requested on a course-by-course (or exam-by-exam) basis. The requirements for documentation are as follows:

- Documentation must be from an appropriate, licensed professional who is certified in the area of the student's disability.
- Documentation must be an official document on official letterhead, signed by the licensed professional.
- Documentation must identify the specific disability and functional limitation(s).
- Documentation must provide a diagnosis (permanent or temporary and, if temporary, the anticipated duration).
- Documentation must specify the recommended accommodation(s), which must link to the functional limitation(s).
- If necessary, the school may request an updated or more extensive evaluation.

Accommodations will be determined based upon the documentation of the disability. If appropriate, the accommodation request will be forwarded to the Office of Housing and Residence Life for review and a response. In all other cases, the Dean shall confirm the specific accommodations with the student, and also will confidentially inform the course instructor(s) of the accommodations. Students are encouraged to establish documentation early in the academic year, so that appropriate support may be provided as soon as possible.

Student Grievance Procedure

A grievance is a complaint that a student makes arising out of a decision or action taken by a faculty or staff member in the course of their official duties which, in the student's opinion, a) is in violation of written campus policies or procedures; or b) constitutes arbitrary, capricious, or unequal application of written campus policies or procedures.

Whenever possible, the student is encouraged to self-advocate through the appropriate channels beginning with direct and open communication with all parties involved. If, for any reason, a student does not feel comfortable in communicating a grievance with any party involved, a confidential grievance may be filed through the Colburn website under "Student Resources."

The school strongly believes that grievances should be resolved promptly. There will be no retaliation against a student for presenting a grievance, and all parties shall proceed toward resolution of the grievance in a spirit of mutual cooperation. Once decisions are made, students have the right to appeal. While the school agrees not to retaliate against a student for filing a grievance or an appeal, it is understood that students shall not file grievances or appeals frivolously, nor take the lack of retaliation as permission to abuse or harass members of the Colburn community.

Procedure:

- A student who wishes to file a formal grievance must complete and submit the Grievance Form online, which is automatically routed to the Provost and Conservatory administration offices who will then determine next steps in the process. (In circumstances when the grievance involves the Dean, the form and supporting material will not be forwarded to the Dean.)
- The appropriate party to lead the investigation and process will be the Dean, unless the grievance involves the Dean, then other appropriate parties will be selected.

- The appropriate parties in consultation with faculty shall review the grievance within 10 business days, meeting with all parties involved as appropriate to the complaint.
- All complaints will remain as confidential as possible, consistent with the conduct of an effective investigation.
- The appropriate parties shall determine how to move forward depending on the nature of the grievance. When necessary, this step may include creating a special review panel, consisting of multiple members of the community. Pursuant to a resolution of the grievance, the appropriate parties may review of documentation, witness testimony, etc., as appropriate.
- The appropriate parties shall make a decision as to the required action, and shall communicate the decision to the student and other individuals involved.
- If the student wishes to appeal further, an appeal must be made in writing to the Provost, stating the grounds for appeal and including any further information related to the appeal.
- The Provost's decision shall be in writing and will be final.

Reporting Hotline

The Colburn School is committed to an environment where open, honest communications are the expectation, not the exception. The School offers multiple pathways for communication and encourages you to come to the Dean or Provost with any concerns. However, we realize that there may be times when you do not feel comfortable reaching out directly and prefer to remain anonymous. Our reporting hotline, operated by an independent company, was established for this type of circumstance. Any student can submit a report via phone or online.

Provider of Hotline Services: The Network

To contact by phone: 877-749-2895

To report online: colburnschool.ethicspoint.com

The information provided will be sent to us on a totally confidential and anonymous basis if the person making the report should so choose. Students making a report have our guarantee that their comments will be heard.

Staff Treatment

Duty to Follow Directives: Students and their guests are required to follow the directives of The Colburn School staff members. Directives may include, but are not limited to, requesting compliance with any policy, requesting that students open their door for discussion of any issue, and requesting students and/or guests produce their identification. If a directive seems inappropriate, the student should comply to the best of their ability and later follow up with a detailed report to the Dean of the Conservatory. At all times, it is expected that both the staff member and student will treat each other with dignity and respect.

Furnishing Accurate Information: Students and their guests are required to provide accurate information to all School staff and officials.

Harassment/Threats: The Colburn School staff are to be treated with respect at all times. Harassment, threats, and intimidation of staff members are prohibited. Any interference, physically or verbally, with staff members' ability to do their jobs is considered a serious policy violation and will not be tolerated.

Theft

Theft of any item belonging to a Colburn student, staff or faculty member, or of any item belonging to the School itself, is prohibited. This policy includes theft of food or merchandise items from the Colburn Café and other contracted vending services. Theft is considered an extremely serious matter by the School and will result in disciplinary action.

Weapons

Students and guests are not permitted to have weapons on campus at any time. This includes firearms (licensed or non-licensed), martial arts weapons, swords, knives (except small eating utensils and reed-making tools), cap guns, ammunition, or other weapons that may cause harm or cause fear in the community. This policy also applies to weapon facsimiles (e.g. fake guns, decorative swords, plastic nunchaku, etc.).

Damage/Vandalism/Theft of Property

The Colburn School believes that students should be held responsible for their actions and the actions of their guests. Therefore, students will be held financially responsible and charged for damages to the building, furniture, and equipment in the Residence Hall and Colburn buildings/spaces caused by either themselves or their guests. In addition, students will be charged with violation of policy and held responsible in the disciplinary process for excessive damage, vandalism, and/or theft of School property. In cases where the damage/vandalism/theft is severe or excessive (as determined by the School), legal or criminal proceedings may be pursued. If more than one student is associated with the damage, the total bill will be divided among the students associated with the space and charged to their accounts. See also Appendix D.

Gambling

Gambling is prohibited in all Colburn School facilities, including the Residence Hall.

Amnesty, Alcohol, Smoking, and Controlled Substances Policies

Amnesty

Colburn School supports a safe and holistic learning environment that enhances academic achievement and student success. An Amnesty Policy fosters responsible decision-making and encourages our students to take active steps toward wellness and self-care. Colburn School recognizes that there may be times when students face medical emergencies involving excessive drinking and/or drug use. Under this policy, if an individual seeks medical attention (for themselves or for another) due to a medical emergency, student conduct disciplinary action will not be taken against the student for consumption or possession of alcohol or drugs. Students may, however, be mandated to participate in counseling for drug or alcohol abuse.

Alcohol

The possession, consumption, and/or manufacture of alcoholic beverages is not allowed in the Residence Hall. The dry residence hall of Colburn School starts at the elevator shaft of the 3rd floor. This policy applies to all Conservatory students and guests irrespective of age or residency status. In addition, students may not be visibly intoxicated while moving about in the Residence Hall. Students are expected to follow all policies and to act responsibly if they have chosen to consume alcohol off campus.

As a reminder, California State law prohibits anyone under the age of 21 from consuming or possessing alcohol anywhere in the State. In addition, it is illegal to drive a motor vehicle with a BAC (Blood Alcohol Concentration) of .01 or more if under the age of 21. This level of .01 percent is less than one beer. Persons 21 years of age or older may not drive if they have a BAC of .08 or higher. Drinking laws in the U.S. are different from laws in other countries and are even different from state to state. If the police catch you, you are subject to criminal penalties, which could include fines and jail time. Students are encouraged to have a designated driver for a safe return to campus when planning to drink alcohol.

- Sanctions
  - 21 and Older
    - First Offense: Confiscation of goods, disciplinary meeting with a Resident Advisor, written warning, and a $250 fine

All international students are responsible for following Federal immigration regulations. Federal laws are established at national level, and Federal laws override State laws. International students are subject to Federal law and must adhere to these regulations to maintain their F-1 immigration status. Failure to comply can result in deportation or being barred from entry into the U.S.

Smoking

The Colburn School is a non-smoking campus. At Colburn School, the smoking of substances will not be tolerated, including but not limited to tobacco, marijuana, and/or vapes. Students may have these items in their possession (if over 21 for marijuana) but may not smoke on campus. Students that are found to be smoking on campus or in the possession of prohibited paraphernalia (see below in Controlled Substances) will be liable to the sanctions below.

International students are subject to Federal law and must adhere to these regulations to maintain their F-1 immigration status. Failure to comply can result in deportation or being barred from entry into the U.S.

Controlled Substances

The Colburn School requires the observance of all California State laws pertaining to illegal and prescription drugs. The Colburn School cares about the health and safety of its students and provides assistance for students who may need counseling or other services related to drug use or addiction.

- Illegal Drugs: The possession, sale, manufacture, and/or use of illegal drugs will not be tolerated anywhere on campus – including the Residence Hall.
- Drug Paraphernalia: The possession of any items commonly thought to be associated with the use of illegal drugs, including but not limited to pipes, bongs, and hookahs, is prohibited on campus – including the Residence Hall.
- Prescription and Over-the-counter (OTC) Drugs: The use of prescribed drugs by persons other than those to whom the drugs were prescribed is prohibited. The on-campus sale of any prescription drug is prohibited. The use of over-the-counter drugs for any purpose other than that for which they were intended is prohibited. The Colburn School reserves the right to require proof of prescription for drugs and/or controlled substances, including medical marijuana.

All international students are responsible for following Federal immigration regulations. Federal laws are established at national level, and Federal laws override State laws. International students are subject to Federal law and must adhere to these regulations to maintain their F-1 immigration status. Failure to comply can result in deportation or being barred from entry into the U.S.

Enforcement

When a Housing and Residence Life Staff member or other Colburn School staff member is made aware and/or suspects a potential violation, it will be the responsibility of the Housing and Residence Life staff to enter the suite and each of the bedrooms to determine whether there is a violation of the fire code and/or consumption/possession of alcohol, drugs or controlled substances. After making note of what may be found, the alcohol/drugs/paraphernalia will be confiscated. The staff member will ask to see the students' identification. Non-Colburn guests will also be required to show identification and may be removed from the Residence Hall. An Incident Report will be filed with the Manager of Housing and Residence Life. An individual meeting with the Manager of Housing and Residence Life will then be held to determine the level of responsibility of each person in the suite/rooms at the time, and the appropriate sanction to be given based on the circumstances.

Consequences

Probation, Suspension, and Dismissal

Students in the Colburn Conservatory may be placed on warning, probation, suspended, dismissed, or given a lesser sanction for failing to meet the standards of the school at any time during their enrollment. Decisions regarding warning, probation, suspension, and dismissal are communicated to the student by the Office of the Provost, Dean, Registrar &

Manager of Student Services, or Manager of Housing and Residence Life, and are based on the terms and policy stated herein. The student's applied teacher is included in the notification, unless otherwise noted; the Academic Advisor is included for academic statuses.

Probation

- This is a temporary status, usually lasting one semester, but it may be extended for a second semester. Students placed on probation for a violation of the school's academic integrity policy shall be on probation from the time of the violation through the following semester.
- The reason(s) for probation and the requirements for its termination are set according to the individual situation.
- APPLIED STUDIES/PERFORMANCE
  - The threshold for probation in applied studies/performance is one or more of the conditions below:
    - a grade of C+ or lower in Applied Studies (APL courses)
    - a grade of C+ or lower in Ensemble Studies (ENS courses)
    - a recital grade of F (Recitals are graded Pass/Fail)
    - Unexcused absence in any artistic class (see Artistic Attendance Policy)
- DISCIPLINARY
  - The threshold for probation for disciplinary causes is the violation of any of the non-academic policies stated in this Handbook. Whether probation is imposed shall depend on the nature of the disciplinary violation, as determined during the disciplinary review process. The disciplinary review process will be handled by either the Office of Housing and Residence Life or the Conservatory Office as appropriate to the violation.
- ACADEMIC
  - The threshold for probation in academic studies is:
    - For BM students, a semester's academic GPA of lower than 2.25 OR a final grade of F in any academic course will result in probation. Note that a second instance of a final grade of F earned by a BM student in any course may result in the student being moved from the BM program to the PD program, or the student may be dismissed from the school.
    - For PD, CD, AD, and PSC students, a semester's academic GPA of lower than 2.25 OR a final grade of F in any academic course will result in probation. A second instance of a final grade of F earned by a PD, CD, AD, or PSC student in any course may result in dismissal from the school.
    - For MM students, a semester's academic GPA of 2.99 or lower OR any academic grade of C or lower will result in probation. If the grade is a C-, D+, D, D-, or F, the student shall receive no credit for the course toward the degree and must retake it (or an equivalent course) within the two years of MM residency. A second instance of a final grade of F earned by an MM student will result in the student being moved from the MM program to the PSC program, or the student may be dismissed from the school. Because the Master of Music is a finite, two-year program, a second semester on academic probation may result in the immediate transfer of the student to the Professional Studies Certificate program.
    - As with all policies, the thresholds for academic probation may be revised. Students shall be notified of any revisions, which also shall be posted on the school's website.
  - Restrictions and consequences during academic probation
    - While on academic probation, a student may be restricted in the number of approved absences possible. The primary applied teacher has the prerogative to adjust performance assignments (chamber music, Orchestra, CCMS, etc.) to allow students on probation more time to spend on their academic studies.
    - Academic faculty shall be provided with the names of students on academic probation each semester. Academic faculty shall submit mid-semester progress reports for all students on probation to the Registrar & Manager of Student Services for review. The Registrar will forward the reports to the Dean, the student's academic advisor and applied teacher.

- During the period of probation, should the student violate any of the terms of probation, the individual's academic advisor or the Manager of Housing and Residence Life, as appropriate, shall notify the student and discuss the consequences of the violation.
- Students who are on probation for more than one semester, or who are placed on probation more than once, risk dismissal from the school.
- The Registrar & Manager of Student Services or Manager of Housing and Residence Life, as appropriate, in consultation with the Dean and the faculty, shall review the progress of all students on probation at the end of each semester, and shall then determine whether:
  - probation is lifted; the student returns to normal status;
  - probation is extended for another semester;
  - the student is moved to another program; or
  - the student is dismissed from the school.

Suspension

- This is a temporary status. The length of a suspension is determined on a case-by-case basis depending on the circumstances leading to the suspension.
- In general, students may be suspended for conduct that is in violation of the Student Standards of Conduct, including but not limited to behavior that:
  - is detrimental to the academic environment;
  - is detrimental to the well-being of the individual student;
  - is detrimental to the well-being of other students, faculty, or staff members; or
  - is detrimental to the residential community;
  - causes damage to the school's physical facilities.
- Once the decision is made to suspend the student, the Dean shall inform the student of the terms to be fulfilled before the student is allowed re-entry.
- In order for the suspension to be lifted, the student must demonstrate to the school that all terms of the suspension have been met.
- While on suspension, the student's scholarship is also suspended. This means that the student shall not remain on campus; shall not participate in classes, rehearsals, lessons, or performances; and shall not receive room and board from the school. Any impact to the student's academic progress shall be discussed on a case-by-case basis once the student has been allowed to return to active status.
- Prior to re-entry, the student is required to meet formally with the Dean to review the terms of reinstatement and determine whether they have been met.
- Once the student has met with the Dean and been approved for reinstatement, the student may return to campus. Room and board shall be reinstated on the date that the student returns to active status.
- A student returning from suspension is automatically placed on probation for a length of time to be determined by the Dean, in consultation with the appropriate parties.
- The Dean may require regular meetings with the student, or require other regular activities, in order to provide support for successful progress.

Dismissal/Expulsion

- This is a permanent status. The student's enrollment is terminated, financial support ceases, and all amounts owed to the school by the student come due.
- Dismissal from the Colburn School is a step not taken lightly and is generally the result of either severe lack of progress in applied or academic areas, or of some egregious disciplinary or ethics violation.
- The decision to dismiss is made by the Dean in consultation with the faculty and other administration as needed in the specific circumstances.
- Re-entry after dismissal: Students who have been dismissed must re-apply and re-audit if they wish to return; re-admission is not guaranteed. Students dismissed for reasons of academic integrity shall not be allowed to re-apply. Any exception to this requirement must be approved by the Dean of the Conservatory. Students who are granted permission to return shall be placed on probation for a minimum period of one semester after re-entry, and must demonstrate satisfactory progress in order to continue in attendance. Other stipulations may be set by the Dean, in consultation with the faculty, on a case-by-case basis.

Appealing a decision of probation, suspension or dismissal

Students who have been placed on probation, suspended, or dismissed from the Conservatory have the right to appeal the decision. Appeals are not intended to allow for a second review of the facts of the matter and determination of whether the student is responsible for misconduct. A review of the matter will be narrowly tailored to the stated grounds for appeal.

A student may appeal a sanction where:

- a. There is significant new information related to the situation that was not available at the time of the initial review(s) and that would alter the finding and/or sanction(s) assigned in the case. The new information must be detailed in an appeal letter with an explanation of why the information was not available at the time of the sanction decision.
- b. There is evidence that the School failed to follow established procedures.
- c. The assigned sanction of probation, suspension or dismissal is grossly disproportionate to the violation.

Appeals Procedure:

1. Appeal of the action is made to the Dean of the Conservatory. Appeal of any action must be made in writing, within seven calendar days of the action taken.
2. The Dean appoints a committee to hear the appeal. The three-person review panel will be comprised of members of the faculty and/or staff not directly involved in the student's infractions leading to probation, dismissal, etc. The committee shall make its recommendations to the Dean.
3. The Dean sets the day and time of the appeal review hearing.
4. At the appeal review hearing, the Dean provides the committee with a summary of the circumstances leading to the action taken by the school. The student may present the case, documentation, and arguments to the committee in person, or may choose to rely solely on the written appeal. The committee may ask questions of the student at this time. The review panel will consider the case and, if necessary, may request additional information from the student or other parties.
5. The review panel will make a recommendation to the Dean as to an outcome. The Dean will then make a ruling in the case. Once that decision is made, the student is notified by the Dean. Every effort will be made to notify the student within 24 hours of the hearing, but in some cases more time may be needed.
6. If the outcome does not overturn the probation, dismissal, etc. the student may appeal the decision to the Provost of the School within 72 hours. The decision of the Provost in this appeal will be final.

Withdrawal, Administrative

Administrative withdrawal is the involuntary withdrawal of a student as a result of official administrative action. This policy may be invoked when a student is unable or unwilling to request a voluntary withdrawal following the policy below ("Withdrawal from School").

Non-Academic and Non-Residential Code of Conduct Violations

Any violations of the student code of conduct that are not academic in nature or do not relate to life in the residence halls may be addressed to the Conservatory Office. Examples include, but are not limited to: theft, vandalism, harassment, inappropriate behavior, weapons, threats to fellow students, staff or faculty, etc. Based on the nature of the violation, a disciplinary committee will investigate the incident, and decide what kind of remedial measures (if any) need to be taken in order to preserve the integrity of the student code of conduct. The measures may range in severity from a written warning to expulsion, depending on the severity of the incident. Decisions by the Student Services disciplinary committee may be appealed to the Provost's Office.

Academic instructors shall complete a formal Mid-semester Progress Report for each student whose mid-term grade averages a D+ or lower (BM, PD, CD, AD, PSC), or C or lower for students enrolled in the Master of Music degree, and for all students on probation, regardless of the class grade. The progress reports shall be submitted to the Registrar & Manager of Student Services, who shall distribute copies to the student, the student's academic advisor, and applied teacher. Students on probation shall receive formal progress reports in all classes as a condition of their probation.

All class work (assignments, papers, exams) must be completed by the date of the last final exam of the semester. Final grade reports each semester shall be issued to the students by the Registrar. For the policy on Incomplete grades, see "Incomplete Grade Policy" below.

Credit and Time Requirements

Credit for completion of programs is calculated in semester hours. One semester hour of credit represents at least three hours of work each week, on average, for a period of fifteen weeks. Although ratios may vary depending on the individual class, in lecture-discussion classes, normally one hour of credit is given for one classroom hour plus two hours of preparation each week of the term. (i.e., a three-credit course involves three hours of classroom time plus six hours of outside preparation/homework/study time each week). For ensemble or laboratory courses, generally one hour of credit is given for two or three classroom hours per week.

This policy does not restrict individual teachers from requiring more student work per credit hour than the average indicated above. In all cases, credit is earned only when curricular, competency, and all other requirements are met and the final examination, or equivalent, is satisfactorily passed.

Program Information

Credit Transferable to Other Institutions

NOTICE CONCERNING TRANSFERABILITY OF CREDITS AND CREDENTIALS EARNED AT THE COLBURN SCHOOL: The transferability of credits you earn at the Colburn Conservatory of Music is at the complete discretion of an institution to which you may seek to transfer. Acceptance of the degree, diploma or certificate you earn in the educational program is also at the complete discretion of the institution to which you may seek to transfer. If the credits or degree, diploma, or certificate that you earn at this institution are not accepted at the institution to which you seek to transfer, you may be required to repeat some or all of your coursework at that institution. For this reason you should make certain that your attendance at this institution will meet your educational goals. This may include contacting an institution to which you may seek to transfer after attending the Colburn Conservatory of Music to determine if your credits or degree, diploma, or certificate will transfer.

The Colburn Conservatory of Music is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM). The National Association of Schools of Music has been designated by the U.S. Department of Education as the agency responsible for the accreditation throughout the United States of free-standing institutions that offer music and music-related programs (both degree- and non-degree-granting), including those offered via distance education. Our programs are tailored to and approved for the student who plans to become a professional musician. Universities and colleges are most often accredited through a regional accrediting body which approves degrees in all disciplines and whose general requirements are much broader than those of NASM; the Colburn School does not have regional accreditation through the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) or any other regional accrediting association. It is possible that if a student wishes to pursue a higher degree at a public or private college or university subsequent to earning a Bachelor of Music at Colburn, that school may not consider NASM accreditation sufficient. In such cases, the student should immediately inform the Dean of the Conservatory so that the Dean can contact the school directly to clarify Colburn's federal accreditation. When applying to an institution after completing a Bachelor of Music degree at Colburn, students should determine if Colburn credits and/or degree programs would transfer. Further, if, subsequent to completing the Bachelor of Music degree at Colburn, a student should wish to pursue a non-music degree/profession, it is probable that a college or university will not recognize a Bachelor of Music degree as having sufficient academic coursework to be fulfill pre-requisites for graduate study. In such cases, the student will most likely be required to earn a second bachelor's degree in the new field; the Colburn School will work with the student in an effort to transfer some of the earned credits to the institution.

Credit for Non-Colburn Classes

This policy is specific to current students. For the policy specific to transfer applicants, see the section on Transfer Applicants.

The Colburn Conservatory does not have an articulation or transfer agreement with any other college or university.

- Students enrolled in the Bachelor of Music degree program of the Colburn Conservatory of Music may request to fulfill a Colburn requirement by taking a course at another accredited institution by following the procedure below. This policy does not apply to graduate programs. The course must be in the areas of undergraduate General Studies, Music History and Literature, or Music Theory.

- Once the student has identified the course, the student must discuss the request with his/her academic advisor, and then request approval from the Registrar and the appropriate department chair in order to ensure that the course is acceptable, and credit will be granted. In requesting approval, the student must provide a course description, a syllabus, and the name of the accredited institution offering the course. If a syllabus is unavailable before the course is taken, one must be submitted upon completion of the course. Approval to take the course is given with the understanding that the student must achieve a grade of C+ or higher for the credit to be accepted at Colburn.
- In the case of a required Music Theory or Music History course, a student also may be required to take an exam to verify that the course material was equivalent to what is expected at Colburn.
- A final official transcript showing the course grade and credits earned must be sent to the Registrar, who shall then add the credit to the student's transcript. Colburn curriculum has been developed as a cohesive collection of courses to support the performing artist. Enrolling in classes outside of the school is a privilege granted by the academic faculty. Transfer credit is not guaranteed, and limits are set as to how many outside credits may replace Colburn requirements. In all cases, the academic faculty has complete authority to make such decisions.

Credit for Experiential Learning

Extension of Post-Baccalaureate Program

Program extensions must be approved by the Dean, in consultation with the faculty. The student must describe the reason for the extension request; approval is not guaranteed. PSC students who wish to extend their programs beyond two years must complete the Extend Program Form by November 1 of the second year of enrollment. In general, extensions to the PSC are reviewed and decisions made by the end of the Fall semester.

All BM, PD, CD, MM, AD-conducting emphasis, and AD-chamber-ensemble-in-residence students are admitted to programs with specific lengths and are expected to complete those programs within the stated time frame. In general, extensions to these programs are granted only under exceptional circumstances.

Change of Program (Academic)

Students are admitted to the Conservatory of Music in a specific program (BM, PD, AD, CD, PSC, MM), and are expected to complete that program on time. A student who wishes to change his/her program must request the change by completing the Change of Program form, documenting specific reasons for the change. Approval is not guaranteed.

Change of program requests are reviewed according to the timetable in this policy. Program changes must be approved by the Dean, in consultation with the faculty. Requests to extend a program should follow the Extension of Program policy below.

Students who wish to request a change of program in one of the following must complete and submit the Change Program form by November 1:

- AD to PSC
- PSC to AD
- BM to PD
- MM to AD or PSC

Approval is not guaranteed. If the program change is approved, it does not extend a student's length of residence at the Colburn School.

Students who request approval to move from the AD or PSC program to the MM program must complete and submit the Change of Program Form by August 1 in order to take the appropriate placement exams at the start of the Fall semester. Such students must take the music theory and music history placement exams and any other required activities. Admission to the MM program will depend, in part, on the student's undergraduate work, the results of the assessment tests, and the student's proficiency in the English language (if not a native English speaker). Approval is not guaranteed. If the program change is approved, the student is expected to complete the MM program in two years, not including time already spent in the AD or PSC program.

Students admitted as Conducting Fellows (Conducting Diploma and the Artist Diploma – Conducting Emphasis) are not eligible to change programs.

Any requests for exceptions to the process or the timing of changing programs must be made to the Dean of the Conservatory.

Faculty or the Dean may also initiate a change of program. If it is deemed in the best interest of the individual student and/or the school, the student shall be notified that his/her program has been changed. A student has the right to accept this change, to appeal this change, or to withdraw from the school.

Program Length Policies

All full-time students, regardless of program length or possible extension of the program, are required to enroll in applied lessons and all required ensembles and ensemble classes (as dictated by the instrument or program) every semester of enrollment.

Bachelor of Music

The Bachelor of Music degree is designed as an eight-semester program, to be completed within four academic years (eight semesters) of consecutive enrollment starting from the semester of initial matriculation. Students who matriculate in the Performance Diploma program for ESL reasons and then move to the BM program shall have an additional two semesters to complete their BM studies, for a total of one year in the PD program and four years in the BM program. Approved long-term leaves-of-absence or other special circumstances may extend program length up to a maximum of six years or twelve semesters from the date of matriculation.

Students who transfer to the Colburn School from another college or university to earn a Bachelor of Music degree are required to complete a minimum of four consecutive full-time semesters at Colburn.

If a student has not completed his/her BM degree within the allotted number of semesters due to illness or approved leaves, the Dean and the faculty may approve an extension, or award a Performance Diploma to the student instead of a BM, assuming all PD requirements have been met.

A student who has not met BM graduation requirements within eight semesters (or eight semesters plus two semesters in the PD program) due to lack of academic progress, and not due to illness or approved leaves of absence, may submit a written petition to the Dean to request an extension. The Dean shall consult with the faculty to determine whether it is appropriate to approve or deny the extension. Such an extension is very rare and shall be granted for a maximum of two additional semesters.

In cases where a student has not completed his/her program and an extension is not approved, the student may be administratively withdrawn from the school, and his/her record marked inactive. Should a student in this situation wish to re-enroll, in either the same or a different program, the student will be required to re-apply and re-audit; re-admission is not guaranteed.

Other special circumstances that require an extension of expected enrollment, and that are not covered by this policy, shall be considered on a case-by-case basis by petition to the Dean for approval. The Dean will consult with appropriate parties and render a decision. The Dean's decision in such cases shall be final.

Performance Diploma

The Performance Diploma is designed as an eight-semester program, to be completed within four academic years (eight semesters) of consecutive enrollment starting from the semester of initial matriculation. Approved long-term leaves-of-absence or other special circumstances may extend program length up to a total of five years or ten semesters from the date of matriculation.

Students who transfer to the Colburn School from another college or university to earn a PD are required to complete a minimum of four consecutive full-time semesters at Colburn.

If a student has not completed his/her PD degree within the allotted number of semesters due to illness or approved leaves, the Dean and the faculty may approve an extension.

A student who has not met PD graduation requirements within eight semesters due to lack of academic progress, and not due to illness or approved leaves-of-absence, may submit a written petition to the Dean to request an extension. The Dean shall consult with the faculty to determine whether it is appropriate to approve or deny the extension. Such an extension is rare and shall be granted for a maximum of two additional semesters.

In cases where a student has not completed his/her program and an extension is not approved, the student may be administratively withdrawn from the school, and his/her record marked inactive. Should a student in this situation wish to re-enroll, in either the same or a different program, the student will be required to re-apply and re-audition; re-admission is not guaranteed.

Other special circumstances that require extended enrollment, and that are not covered by this policy, shall be considered on a case-by-case basis by petition to the Dean for approval. The Dean will consult with appropriate parties and render a decision. The Dean's decision in such cases shall be final.

Conducting Diploma

The Conducting Diploma is a three-year (six-semester) program. A student who has not completed the CD in the designated three years is not eligible to transfer to another program. If a student has not completed his/her CD within the allotted number of semesters due to illness or approved leaves, the Dean and the Director of the Negaunee Conducting Fellows Program may approve an extension.

A student who has not met CD graduation requirements within six semesters due to lack of academic progress, and not due to illness or approved leaves-of-absence, may submit a written petition to the Dean to request an extension. The Dean shall consult with the Director of Conducting to determine whether to approve or deny the extension. Such an extension is rare and shall be granted for a maximum of two additional semesters.

In cases where a student has not completed his/her program and an extension is not approved, the student may be administratively withdrawn from the school, and his/her record marked inactive. Should a student in this situation wish to re-enroll, in either the same or a different program, the student will be required to re-apply and re-audition; re-admission is not guaranteed.

Other special circumstances that require extended enrollment, and that are not covered by this policy, shall be considered on a case-by-case basis by petition to the Dean for approval. The Dean will consult with appropriate parties and render a decision. The Dean's decision in such cases shall be final.

Artist Diploma

The Artist Diploma is a minimum of two years (four semesters) and a maximum of four years (eight semesters) in length. The exact program length is established in the Fall semester of the second year of enrollment, based on the applied teacher's assessment of the student's needs, progress, and goals. By November 1 of the second year, the student must complete an Artist Diploma Program Length Form, noting the program length, and submit it to the Dean. In the absence of such a form, it will be assumed that the student will complete the program within two years. Additional recitals may be required as part of program extension approval. Artist Diploma students requesting an extension to meet the recital requirement may be denied and graduated with a PSC instead.

Artist Diploma students who have completed a Bachelor of Music, Performance Diploma, Master of Music, or Professional Studies Certificate at the Colburn School must complete the AD program in two years (four semesters). Students in the Artist Diploma – Conducting Emphasis or Artist Diploma – Chamber Music Emphasis are not eligible for an extension of the program.

Other special circumstances that require extended enrollment, and not covered by this policy, shall be considered case-by-case by petition to the Dean for approval. The Dean's decision in such cases shall be final.

Professional Studies Certificate

The Professional Studies Certificate is designed as a four-semester program, completed within two years of consecutive enrollment starting from the semester of initial matriculation. However, in the Fall semester of the second year, a student in the PSC program may request an extension by completing an Extend Program form, obtaining the signature of the applied teacher noting approval, and submitting the form by November 1 to the Conservatory Office. It should be noted that approval for a third year in the PSC program is not uncommon, but approval for a fourth year is rare and should not be assumed.

In cases where an extension is not approved and the student has not completed his/her program, the student may be administratively withdrawn from the school, and his/her record marked inactive. Should a student in this situation wish to re-enroll, in either the same or a different program, the student will be required to re-apply and re-audit; re-admission is not guaranteed.

Professional Studies Certificate students who have completed a Bachelor of Music, Performance Diploma, Master of Music, or Artist Diploma at the Colburn School must complete the PSC program in two years (four semesters).

Other special circumstances that require extended enrollment, and not covered by this policy, shall be considered case-by-case by petition to the Dean for approval. The Dean's decision in such cases shall be final.

Master of Music

The Master of Music degree program is designed as a four-semester program, to be completed within two years of consecutive enrollment starting from the semester of initial matriculation. Approved long-term leaves-of-absence or other special circumstances may extend program length up to three years or six semesters from the date of matriculation.

In cases where an extension is not approved and the student has not completed his/her program, the student may be administratively withdrawn from the school, and his/her record marked inactive. Should a student in this situation wish to re-enroll in either the same or a different program, the student will be required to re-apply and re-audit; re-admission is not guaranteed.

Other special circumstances that require extended enrollment, and not covered by this policy, shall be considered case-by-case by petition to the Dean for approval. The Dean's decision in such cases shall be final.

Attendance Policy: Absences and Tardiness

1. The Conservatory's attendance policy applies to ALL students in all programs.
2. All students must be available all weekdays for rehearsals, coachings, etc. that may be scheduled.
3. Students are expected to approach all studies in a professional manner. Attendance and punctuality is expected at all scheduled classes, lessons, coachings, rehearsals, and performances.
4. All absences must be approved via the process described below.

Extended absences: Students who become involved in performance activities that require them to be away from the school more than 30% of a semester (approximately four weeks total) will be asked to take a leave-of-absence for that semester. The student may apply to the Dean to request an exception to this policy. A leave-of-absence may only extend for a total of two semesters before a student will be required to re-apply to return.

Late arrival/Early Departures: students arriving after the first day of classes at the beginning of a term or departing before the end of a term must request approval through the absence request process.

General absence policy

Failure to attend a minimum of 70% of any individual class, including lessons, ensembles, and Forums, will result in the student being required to withdraw from the class, or, in some circumstances, receiving a grade of F in the class, regardless of whether absences are excused. The absence and tardy policies for the Colburn Orchestra (ENS 111) are outlined in detail in the ENS 111 syllabus.

Absence for religious observance

Students may be excused from class for observance of a religious holiday or ceremony. Students will not be excused from completing required assignments, but if the holiday coincides with a test or other required assignment, accommodation will be made to make up that work. Students planning on being absent from class due to religious observance must obtain instructors' signatures on an Absence Request Form no less than one week in advance of the absence.

Individual class policies

Individual instructors may set attendance policies for a specific class. Such policies may include provision for a grace period and/or specific details about how tardiness affects the grade for that particular class. All classes share the minimum 70% attendance requirement as described in the General Absence Policy above.

Artistic attendance policy

Students may not have any unexcused absences from an artistic class. Unexcused absences for artistic classes shall be defined as any absence from a requirement presided over by an applied faculty member, including but not necessarily limited to lessons, chamber music rehearsals and coachings, large ensemble rehearsals and sectionals, Performance Forum, and Chamber Forum, for which an absence request was not submitted and approved in advance. Unexcused absences from artistic classes shall result in disciplinary action as follows:

- First violation – A warning letter from the Registrar shall be sent to the student
- Second violation – A warning letter from the Registrar shall be sent to the student, Dean and the student's applied teacher.
- Third violation – The student shall be placed on probation (see Probation, Suspension, and Dismissal).
- Fourth violation – The student may be dismissed from the school.

Conflicts between applied courses and academic courses

It is every student's responsibility to ensure that there is no conflict between scheduled academic class times and times set for rehearsals, lessons, and recitals. Rehearsals, lessons, and recitals must NOT conflict with academic classes. If a student is asked to participate in a school-related performance that conflicts with an academic class, there should be no assumption on the part of the student that the performance takes precedent over the academic class. Though the Colburn office involved in the booking should verify with the Registrar as to a student's availability, it is the student's responsibility to inform the office making the inquiry of any class conflicts for the engagement or rehearsals.

Tardiness

Students are expected to attend all scheduled classes, rehearsals, and examination periods on time. Excessive tardiness, like unexcused absences, shall negatively affect the student's grades. Specific policies are listed in class syllabi.

Request for excused absence

Students may request an excused absence to participate in performance activities such as competitions or auditions.

Absence requests are considered based on:

1. the significance of the invitation/opportunity,
2. the Colburn commitments that will be missed and implications for the Conservatory community,
3. the academic standing of the student, and
4. the total number of absences permissible within a semester.

The school is not obligated to approve an absence and may deny a request for any reason deemed sufficient by the school to maintain the educational integrity of the institution. Failure to follow the required procedure, including failure to submit the completed Absence Request Forms as described below, may result in unexcused absences and subsequent sanctions.

Before making such a request, the student should discuss with their applied teacher whether the opportunity would meet the standard for an excused absence from their Colburn activities. Please note that this discussion does not constitute approval of the absence. Participation in outside activities should be governed by the guidelines for Outside Activities that are a part of this Attendance Policy. Students are reminded that they are, first and foremost, students at the Colburn School, and are expected to treat all Colburn School classes, rehearsals, coachings, performances and other activities—including those of the Colburn Orchestra, chamber music and other ensembles—as their first priority.

Excused absences may also be requested for non-performance reasons, such as medical or family circumstances. In general, such absences will be handled on a case-by-case basis directly with the Dean. It is important to note that issues such as cost and convenience for travel are not considered sufficient reasons for an excused absence.

Absence Request Timing

Absence Requests must be submitted as early as possible but at least 21 days before the first date of the requested absence, and well in advance of any response date that is required of the student. If the Absence Request is not completed and submitted within the appropriate timeframe prior to the first day of absence, then the absence is unexcused.

Unexcused absences will affect the student's grade and may result in sanctions up to and including probation and/or dismissal. Please note that excessive excused absences may still adversely affect the student's grade, and count in the overall requirement of 70% attendance (see the General Absence Policy). If a request is submitted late due to short notice on the part of the invitation/opportunity, the date of the invite will be taken into consideration.

Once the Online Absence Request Form has been submitted, and the Registrar has received the completed Absence Request Signature Form and documentation of the reason for the absence, the Dean will review all of the paperwork with the applied teacher. The Dean and the applied teacher will make the determination regarding approval of the absence, and the Registrar will email notification regarding whether the absence has been approved to the student. Students should not accept a contract or engagement, or book any travel, until receiving notification that the absence has been excused; should a student make any plans prior to receiving approval the school does not have any obligation to the student for loss of funds if the absence is not approved.

Documentation

All requests for excused absences must include documentation of the reason for the absence. Documentation may be in the form of a letter or invitation, a concert/recital program, advertising, or other proof of the reason for absence. This documentation must be submitted with the Online Absence Request Form.

Absence Request Process

When absences conflict with any Colburn commitments, an Absence Request Form must be completed AND SUBMITTED at least 21 days prior to the absence.

The Absence Request Process is as follows:

1. IF THE ABSENCE IS FOR 3 DAYS OR LESS AND DOES NOT INCLUDE MISSING ANY PERFORMANCE ACTIVITIES,
  - a. The student will:
    - i. complete the Online Absence Request Form 21 days or more in advance of the first date of the absence,
    - ii. download the Absence Request Signature Form from Canvas or pick it up from Conservatory Office,
    - iii. obtain signatures from applicable faculty, and
    - iv. return the form to the Conservatory office with required documentation.
  - b. The Dean will review all forms and documentation to determine if there is any concern relating to academic standing or total number of days absent for the semester.
  - c. The Conservatory Registrar will notify the student whether the request has been approved.
2. IF THE ABSENCE INCLUDES MISSING PERFORMANCE ACTIVITIES,
  - a. The student will:
    - i. complete the Online Absence Request Form 21 days or more in advance of the first date of the absence,
    - ii. download the Absence Request Signature Form from Canvas or pick it up from Conservatory Office,
    - iii. obtain signatures from applicable faculty, and
    - iv. return the form to the Conservatory office with required documentation.
  - b. The Dean and appropriate applied faculty will meet to review the forms and documentation to determine if there is any concern relating to the significance of the invitation/opportunity, the Colburn commitments that will be missed and implications for the Conservatory community, the academic standing of the student, and/or the total number of absences permissible within a semester.
3. The Conservatory Registrar will notify the student whether or not the request has been approved.

Outside activities and absences

Participation in activities outside the school should be regulated by the following guidelines:

- Musical activities that require absences must be professional in nature. Examples are invitations to perform with professional chamber music organizations or professional orchestras, professional orchestra auditions, and invitations to solo or chamber music competitions.
- Musical activities that may not interfere with Colburn activities and do not qualify for excused absence include private teaching, freelancing in per-service orchestras, personal work outside the school, and off-campus student ensembles.
- Employment outside of the Colburn School should never interfere with a student's studies, and it is advised that such employment not exceed 10 hours per week. Students should consult their applied teachers, academic advisor, or the Conservatory Dean with any questions.

Faculty and administration realize that many opportunities are available to students. The hope is that the student's focus while at the Colburn Conservatory shall consist of activities that will enhance one's long-term goals.

Illnesses and Emergencies

In the case of illness or family emergency, students are required to notify all of their teachers at the time of the absence, and to provide written documentation as proof of illness or emergency; such documentation should be provided to the teacher(s) after the student returns to classes. Acceptable documentation includes doctor's notes, a note from a family member in residence with the student, or proof of family emergency.

Make-up work

Students who are absent from classes are required to make up all assignments and tests that were missed during the absence and are solely responsible for doing so. This applies to both excused and unexcused absences. In the case of an unexcused absence, depending on the circumstance, individual teachers may or may not allow make-up work.

Jury Requirement

The jury is one of the principal tools for evaluation of progress within the Conservatory. Below are the requirements for all student juries and individual department requirements:

- All strings, brass, harp, percussion, and conducting students are required to perform a jury at the conclusion of every semester (fall and spring) of enrollment. Woodwinds and pianists are required to perform a jury at the end of the spring semester only.
- Juries will be documented with the jury form, which will be placed in the student's file.
- Juries may be waived only under very specific circumstances as detailed by the Jury Waiver Form. Each department has discrete guidelines under which a student may request a waiver. For all students, a performance on a Performance Forum (excluding with an ensemble), within reasonable proximity of a jury date, may function as that student's jury, on the recommendation of their teacher. The Performance Forum program must be provided with the Jury Waiver Form. The student's applied teacher will submit a Jury Form evaluation for such a performance waiver. Other circumstances that allow a waiver are:
  - Strings, Piano, and Percussion: Juries are generally not waived, except for the Performance Forum waiver described above.
  - Brass and Woodwinds: A student who has advanced at an audition or a competition may, on the teacher's recommendation, have the jury waived. Documentation of the audition/competition invitation must be provided with the Jury Waiver Form.
  - Brass only: On the teacher's recommendation, required recitals may be used to waive the jury if a second faculty member, in addition to the primary teacher, attends the recital or reviews a recording of the recital. Both faculty members will be required to submit recital evaluations to the Registrar as documentation of the waiver.
  - Harp only: On the teacher's recommendation, a required recital may be used to waive the jury. The recital program must be submitted with the Jury Waiver Form, and the applied teacher must submit a recital evaluation to the Registrar as documentation of the waiver.
  - Conducting only: the jury review will be assessed in the annual conducting recital.
- Juries may be rescheduled due to illness, injury, or an approved absence.

Recital Policies

Required Recitals

BM, PD, AD, and MM students are required to perform recitals as defined in "Recital Requirements" below. It is the student's responsibility to schedule a recital by doing the following:

- Scheduling: The first step in securing a recital date is to reserve the date and room for the recital.
  - Recital times MUST NOT conflict with academic class times and times set for rehearsals, lessons, and recitals. Rehearsals, lessons, and recitals must NOT conflict with academic classes, orchestra rehearsals, or coachings with faculty.
  - Students who are expected to graduate must fulfill all recital requirements one week (7 days) prior to the spring jury date in the year of graduation. Any exception to this policy must be approved by the Dean of the Conservatory at least six weeks in advance of the recital date.
  - A student's applied teacher must be in attendance at a required recital. When scheduling, please confirm that your applied teacher is available to attend before booking a hall.
- Room Reservation: Consult with the Production Office (G-186) in-person or via email as to hall availability to determine prospective recital date/time. The Production Office is generally available Monday through Friday during regular business hours.
  - Immediately after holding a date, fill out the Recital Form and obtain your applied teacher's signature. This indicates that they are available to attend on the desired date.
  - No more than 72 hours after holding the date, submit the signed form to the Production Office to confirm and reserve your date. Holds will be released if the form is not received within 72 hours.

- Once a recital is scheduled and confirmed, it cannot be re-scheduled within the same semester unless there are extenuating circumstances due to illness or injury. There are financial penalties up to $300 for cancelling a recital within 21 days of the recital date.
- Programs:* For the purpose of consistent presentation, the school shall print programs required recitals. The student must complete the Student Recital Program Information Form a minimum of THREE WEEKS prior to the performance. If this information is not submitted by the deadline, no programs shall be printed and the student will need to produce the program.
  - A minimum of THREE WEEKS before your recital date, submit your program information via the online form to the Conservatory Office. You will work with Eva Della Lana in the Library to finalize your recital program copy. If modifications need to be made, the student will be notified and asked for a revised copy.
  - All programs for required recitals must include the following statement at the bottom of the program: "This recital is in partial fulfillment of the requirements of the [XX] degree [or program]." "First name of student] is in the [1st/2nd/3rd/4th] year of [undergraduate/graduate] studies with [teacher] at the Colburn Conservatory of Music."
  - Programs will be produced by the Conservatory Office and will be delivered to the Production department the day of the recital. The Conservatory Office uses the program information in its annual filing with music licensing agencies.
  - Students who do not provide their recital program to the Conservatory Office at least three weeks prior to the performance will be provided with a template to produce their own program. The student is required to submit a copy of the self-produced program to the Conservatory Office for their student file one week prior to the recital so that it can be reviewed for any edits or formatting changes that may be needed.
- Recital form:* A signed recital form will be submitted to the Registrar before the recital from production. This document is the official record of your required recital. Grades for recitals can only be entered after the graded recital has been performed and graded by the applied teacher.
- Publicity:* The school shall publicize required recitals within its regular publicity schedule, but only if recital information is provided in a timely manner (as set by the school's Communications staff).
- Stage Manager:* The school shall provide one stage manager for required recitals at no cost to the student.
- Recording:* The school records audio and video of all required recitals. An AV engineer will be scheduled by the school for this purpose. A link to the recording will be provided to the student. Please allow 5 business days for the recording to be made available. Email avoffice@colburnschool.edu for recordings. Students may choose to make a recording using their own recording equipment in addition to the school's archival recording.

CD and AD-Conducting Emphasis students are required to perform recitals as defined in "Recital Requirements" below. It is the student's responsibility to schedule a recital by doing the following:

- Scheduling:* The first step in securing a recital date is to reserve the date and room for the recital.
  - Conducting recitals must be booked by the end of September.
  - Recital times MUST NOT conflict with rehearsals, academic classes, juries, or final exams.
  - Students who are expected to graduate must fulfill all recital requirements by one week (7 days) prior to the spring jury date in the year of graduation. The Dean of the Conservatory must approve any exception to this policy at least six weeks in advance of the recital date.
  - A student's applied teacher must be in attendance at a required recital. When scheduling, please confirm that your applied teacher is available to attend before booking a hall.
    - Conducting Recitals must be recorded and the recording must be provided to the Director of Conducting as soon as it's made available to the student if the Director cannot be at the recital.
- Room Reservation:* Consult with the Production Office (G-186) in-person or via email as to hall availability to determine prospective recital date/time. The Production Office is generally available Monday through Friday during regular business hours.
  - Conductor Recitals are scheduled in Zipper Hall and must be booked in September. Rehearsals are scheduled in ORH.
    - The Zipper Hall Reservation will include a 2-hour sound-check on the day of the recital.
    - Two 2.5-hour rehearsals may be scheduled in ORH prior to the recital.
  - Immediately after holding a date, fill out the Recital Form and obtain your applied teacher's signature.

- o No more than 72 hours after holding the date, submit the signed form to the Production Office to confirm and reserve your date.
  - o Once a recital is scheduled and confirmed, it cannot be re-scheduled within the same semester.
  - o There are financial penalties up to $300 for cancelling a recital within 21 days of the recital date.
- Programs: For the purpose of consistent presentation, the school shall print programs for required recitals. The student must complete the Student Recital Program Information Form a minimum of THREE WEEKS prior to the performance. If this information is not submitted by the deadline, no programs shall be printed and the student will need to produce the program.
  - o A minimum of THREE WEEKS before your recital date, submit your program information via the online form to the Conservatory Office. You will work with Eva Della Lana in the Library to finalize your recital program copy. If modifications need to be made, the student will be notified and asked for a revised copy.
  - o All programs for required recitals must include the following statement at the bottom of the program: "This recital is in partial fulfillment of the requirements of the [XX] degree [or program]." "[First name of student] is in the 1st/2nd/3rd/4th year of [undergraduate/graduate] studies with [teacher] at the Colburn Conservatory of Music."
  - o Programs will be produced by the Conservatory Office and will be delivered to the Production department the day of the recital. The Conservatory Office uses the program information in its annual filing with music licensing agencies.
  - o Students who do not provide their recital program to the Conservatory Office at least three weeks prior to the performance will be provided with a template to produce their own program. The student is required to submit a copy of the self-produced program to the Conservatory Office for their student file.
- Recital form: A signed and graded recital form will be submitted to the Registrar after the recital by the applied teacher. This document is the official record of completion of your required recital. Grades for recitals can only be entered after the graded recital form has been turned in.
- Publicity: The school shall publicize required recitals within its regular publicity schedule, but only if recital information is provided in a timely manner (as set by the school's Communications staff).
- Stage Manager: The school shall provide up to two stage managers for required conductor recitals at no cost to the student
  - The sound-check may have up to two stagehands.
  - The two rehearsals in ORH leading up to the recital may have one stagehand.
- Recording: Conductor recitals will be both video (single shot) and audio recorded. An AV employee will be scheduled for this purpose. A link of the recording will be provided to the student. Students may choose to make a recording using their own recording equipment in addition to the school's archival recording.
- Music: The Performance Librarian can provide a list of repertoire available in the School's Orchestra Library.
  - Any repertoire that requires prep assistance from the Librarian must be submitted 2 months in advance.
  - A student worker may be assigned to assist with music.
  - If the music is not available in the library or online, there is the possibility of a music rental, but not guaranteed.

Non-required Recitals

- Room reservation: All students are welcome to schedule non-required recitals on the recommendation of their teacher in Grand Rehearsal Hall or Olive Rehearsal Hall depending on availability. Performance halls are not available for non-required recitals.
  - o Students must contact the Production Office (G-186) to reserve a hall, date, and time. Students may inquire about the availability of a performance hall for a non-required recital within two weeks of a scheduled non-required recital date; if a performance hall is available on the same date as already booked, the Production Office may be able to change the hall.
  - o The Production Office shall provide the student with a recital information packet containing all necessary forms.
  - o The signature of the student's applied teacher is required (even for non-required recitals) before the hall and date can be confirmed.
- Programs: For the purpose of consistent presentation, the school shall print programs for non-required recitals as well as required recitals. However, the student must complete the Student Recital Program Information Form a minimum of THREE WEEKS prior to the performance. If this information is not submitted by the deadline, no programs shall be printed and the student will need to produce the program

- Recitals that are NOT required should have the following text at the bottom of the program: “[Student name] is a candidate for the [degree/program] at the Colburn Conservatory of Music in the [1st, 2nd, etc.] year of studies with [applied teacher’s name]”
- Stage Manager: The school shall provide one stage manager for the recital at no cost to the student.
- Recording: Students who wish to record non-required recitals have two choices:
  - The student may make their own recording, using their own “engineer” and sound equipment, at their own expense.
  - The student may hire one of the school’s approved engineers who are authorized to use the school’s equipment. (The list of approved engineers is available from the Production Office.) The student shall make all arrangements directly with the approved engineer and shall pay them directly.

Recital Cancellation Policy

If the recital is canceled due to Extenuating Circumstances:

- The student may reschedule the recital at any time, by following normal recital scheduling procedures and submitting a new Recital Reservation Form.
- No fine is incurred.
- Extenuating Circumstances may be defined as serious personal illness/injury, a death in the family, or other dire emergencies.

If the recital is canceled due to Non-Extenuating Circumstances:

- If the recital is canceled with fewer than three weeks of notice, a cancellation fee will be charged and assessed to the student’s account as follows:
  - $100 fee for cancellation 15-21 days before the scheduled recital
  - $200 fee for cancellation 14-8 days before the scheduled recital
  - $300 fee for cancellation 7 or fewer days before the scheduled recital
  - Graduating students will be rescheduled based on space availability, within the same semester.
  - Non-graduating students will not be rescheduled within the same semester. The recital must be rescheduled in a later semester following normal recital scheduling procedures.
  - Non-Extenuating Circumstances include lack of preparedness, scheduling conflicts, and problems with assisting artists.

Recital Requirements

In order to receive credit for required recitals, students in all programs must secure his/her applied teacher to attend and grade each required recital. It is the student’s responsibility to contact the applied teacher, inform him/her of the recital date, time and location, and receive confirmation of attendance as described above under “Room Reservation.” At the conclusion of the recital, the applied teacher will submit the graded recital form to the Registrar within 48 hours of the recital. It is the student’s responsibility to provide the Registrar with a copy of the program for the recital for his/her student record.

Bachelor of Music students are required to perform two recitals to complete the degree. The first is given in the junior (third) year and the final degree recital is given in the senior year of the program. The senior recital may involve an accompanying project such as program notes or an analytical paper, which will synthesize the student’s performance and academic education. Students who wish to present required recitals outside of these periods must submit an official request to the Conservatory Office a minimum of one semester before the proposed date (semester) of the required recital. The Dean, Artistic Advisory Committee, and applied teacher will review the request for approval.

Performance Diploma students must perform two recitals to complete the diploma, but may perform up to four recitals for credit, at the discretion of the applied teacher. PD students must present one recital in the third year and one recital in the fourth year of the program. Students who wish to present required recitals outside of these periods must submit an official request to the Conservatory Office a minimum of one semester before the proposed date (semester) of the required recital. The Dean, Artistic Advisory Committee, and applied teacher will review the request for approval. Additional recitals may be given for credit in the first and/or second years of the student's program.

Conducting Diploma students must perform one recital to complete the diploma. The recital will be under the supervision of the Director of Conducting and may involve an off-campus ensemble or a student-formed recital ensemble with the approval of the Director of Conducting and the Dean. At the discretion of the Director of Conducting, recital credit may also be given for individual works conducted on more than one concert.

Master of Music students must perform one recital in the second year of residency.

Master of Music – Chamber Music Emphasis students are required to perform four ensemble recitals, one in each semester of the four-semester program. Recitals may be on campus or at another venue, with the approval of the Director of Chamber Music.

Artist Diploma students must perform four recitals. Students in the AD program must give a minimum of one recital each year of enrollment and a maximum of two recitals in any given semester. Failure to fulfill the annual recital requirement may result in a transfer to the PSC or dismissal from the school. Additional recitals may be required as part of program extension approval.

Artist Diploma – Chamber Music Emphasis students are required to perform four ensemble recitals, one in each semester of the four-semester program. These recitals may take place at Colburn or at an off-campus location.

Artist Diploma – Conducting Emphasis students must perform two recitals to complete the diploma. These recitals will be under the supervision of the Director of Conducting and may involve an off-campus ensemble or a specially formed recital ensemble with the approval of the Director of Conducting and the Dean. At the discretion of the Director of Conducting, recital credit may also be given for individual works conducted on more than one concert.

Professional Studies Certificate students are not required to perform recitals in order to complete the program. However, PSC students may elect to perform recitals, and recitals outside the school may meet the requirement for outside activities.

Academic Information

Academic Freedom Policy

The Colburn School values and upholds the principles of academic freedom, recognizing its essential role in fostering creativity, critical thinking, and the pursuit of knowledge. This policy outlines the rights and responsibilities of faculty, students, and staff in maintaining an environment conducive to free expression and inquiry.

Principles:

Freedom of Expression: Faculty, students, and staff have the right to freely express their artistic, scholarly, and pedagogical ideas without fear of censorship, retribution, or institutional interference.

Curriculum Development: Faculty members have the autonomy to develop and implement curricula, choose instructional materials, and employ teaching methods that align with their professional judgment and expertise.

Research and Creative Work: Faculty and students are entitled to conduct research and engage in creative work in their fields of study. They may publish, exhibit, or perform their work without undue restriction, provided it adheres to ethical standards and legal requirements.

Institutional Support: The Conservatory commits to providing resources and support necessary for faculty and students to pursue their academic and artistic endeavors. This includes access to facilities, funding opportunities, and administrative assistance.

Responsibility and Integrity: With academic freedom comes the responsibility to maintain scholarly integrity, respect the rights of others, and contribute to a respectful and inclusive academic community. Faculty and students must adhere to professional and ethical standards in their work.

Grievance and Appeals: The Conservatory provides mechanisms for addressing grievances related to academic freedom. Individuals who believe their academic freedom has been compromised may seek resolution through established institutional procedures.

Within the school's mission to educate performing musicians to the highest level, the principles of academic freedom and freedom of inquiry are upheld. In turn, each faculty member is expected to adhere to the institution's ethical standards in all teaching, research, performance, and mentoring, and to discharge responsibly their obligations to the institution as a teacher, scholar, performer, and member of the community.

This policy applies equally to verbal and written communication, as long as it is in line with other existing policies and in compliance with legal requirements.

Academic Progress and Student Achievement

A student in the Colburn Conservatory is expected to progress through the coursework in his/her program as outlined in the Conservatory program charts (Appendix C), and to satisfactorily complete all the requirements of that program in the time prescribed (e.g., eight semesters for the BM and PD programs, four semesters for the MM degree, etc., see Program Length Policies). Appropriate levels of progress are established by the following:

- Satisfactory performance in applied studies, ensembles, and juries (defined as a grade of B- or higher).
- Attainment of the expected level of accomplishment in performance as demonstrated in concerts and graded recitals (when required).
- Passing grades in all classes (a passing grade is defined as D- or higher in all except applied and ensemble coursework in the BM, PD, CD, AD, and PSC programs; a passing grade is defined as a C or higher in the MM program).
- Satisfactory attendance in all classes and events as required (see Attendance Policy below).

A student whose academic GPA falls below 2.25 will be placed on academic probation for the following semester. Students who do not achieve an academic GPA of 2.25 or higher in the following semester will be subject to either removal from a degree program and placement in a non-degree program or dismissal from the school. Please refer to "Probation, Suspension, and Dismissal" for details of probationary status.

A student who receives a C+ or lower in applied studies or ensembles, or a grade of F on a required recital is placed on probation for the following semester. If the student remains on probation and does not receive a grade of B- or higher in the subsequent semester for applied studies and ensembles or perform a passing recital, they will be dismissed from the school.

A student who, for any reason, falls behind in fulfilling credit requirements to such an extent that an on-time graduation is not possible, will be subject to probation and all the stipulations of that status (please refer to "Probation, Suspension, and Dismissal"). In consultation with the academic advisor, the student will submit a plan in writing to the Registrar & Manager of Student Services to rectify the situation and graduate on time. A student who does not make up the deficit of credits in the time required will be subject to dismissal from his/her program or from the school. Remedies for rectifying the situation may include enrolling in extra course work in subsequent semesters and/or enrolling in summer course at an approved college or university. Please see "Credit Transferable from Other Institutions" for procedures for obtaining approval for an off-campus course. Program length will not be extended due to lack of sufficient earned credits.

If a student is unable to complete credits due to extenuating circumstances, either personal or professional, it may be appropriate to request a Leave of Absence for one or two semesters (see "Leave of Absence"). If a leave is granted, the student must return to the school on the date designated or lose his/her place in the program; students who wish to re-enroll will be required to re-audit in the regular audition cycle.

Academic Advising

Each degree student is assigned an academic advisor upon entering the Conservatory; the advisor tracks the student's progress through graduation in partnership with the applied teacher. The academic advisor is available throughout the student's program for guidance in all matters that a student may encounter, including curricular counseling, academic progress, and any other issues that may arise. The advisor will guide the student throughout the program and provide referrals to other faculty and staff as needed. The advisor will also serve as the primary contact for international students admitted to the PD program who wish to be considered for transfer to the BM in the second year.

Academic Support, Counseling, and Assistance

Individual students who are not making adequate progress in their academic classes may consult with their academic advisor to request academic support. In these cases of academic intervention, the advisor may consult with the Registrar and the faculty to provide whatever support is necessary to enable that student to make satisfactory academic progress. Likewise, faculty may inform the Registrar of a student's lack of progress, who shall then intervene with the student as necessary.

It should be noted that faculty and students have the responsibility of alerting the appropriate Conservatory staff (the Registrar or Dean) to the need for intervention of any kind so that assistance may be provided to the student.

Transcripts

Transcripts may be requested by writing to the Conservatory Registrar; email requests are acceptable, although verification may be required. The request must include the name and address of the institution to which the transcript is to be sent, as well as any deadline. Only current students, previous students, graduates, or authorized parents/guardians may request transcripts. Parents/guardians seeking transcripts must provide written authorization from the student. Most requests are filled within one week of the date of request. For more information about access and review of records, students may contact the Conservatory Registrar.

Textbooks

The purchase of textbooks and music for classes and lessons is the responsibility of the student. Textbook requirements are noted by faculty in the course syllabi. Students are expected to have the required books for the first class meeting, or as soon as possible after the instructor notifies the class about required materials.

Change in Status (Informational)

All students are required to notify the Conservatory Office when a change in status occurs, e.g., a change in address, phone number, attendance, marital status, or any other change that may have an impact upon the completion of the student's education or the student's permanent record.

International students are required to notify the Dean and the International Student Advisor of any changes that would affect the status of their Form I-20.

Special Student Status

A Special Student is a student who is enrolled short-term in the Conservatory but not in a Conservatory program leading to a degree, diploma, or certificate. Special Student status is conferred by the Dean, who shall use their discretion in assessing the special circumstances and assigning such status. The specific terms of enrollment in Special Student status shall be explained to the student in writing by the Dean. Typically, such students follow the PSC curricular requirements. Students who are enrolled as Special Students may subsequently choose to apply for a regular Conservatory program, but admission is not guaranteed.

Practical Training

The curricula for the Bachelor of Music degree, Performance Diploma, Conducting Diploma, Artist Diploma, Professional Studies Certificate, and Master of Music degree include a requirement for practical training as part of Applied Studies (see Course Descriptions). All students are required to participate in musical rehearsals, performances, and/or reading sessions. Such activities may take place within or outside of the school, may be paid or unpaid, and may take place during the academic year or during breaks.

Internships

Practical training in the music profession is encouraged by the school. This training may be in the form of an internship—part-time or full-time, paid or unpaid—depending on the organization sponsoring the internship. (The policy for short-term practical training is found below under “Practical Training.”) A student must have the approval of his/her applied teacher before accepting an internship, and must register for INT 100 – Internship in order for the class to appear on the transcript. (See “Internship Courses” under Course Descriptions above.)

One type of internship is employment in a symphony orchestra or other professional performing ensemble. Other types of internships include arts administration positions, teaching positions, apprenticeships, etc. Part-time internships are those that take place concurrently with the student’s enrollment in classes. In such cases, the internship does not lengthen the student’s program. When the internship is full-time and the student is unable to attend classes required to complete the program, the student shall be enrolled at the school in INT 100 – Internship full-time, with the assumption that the student may return and complete the program following the end of the internship if sufficient requirements remain for graduation. In some cases, the student’s program may be lengthened by the term of the internship (one semester or one year, maximum) or the length of time needed to complete program requirements, or the student may be advised to fulfill remaining requirements at another institution and transfer credits to Colburn, as determined by the Dean in consultation with the applied teacher and academic advisor. Students who are not attending classes during the internship period shall not reside in the school’s residence hall until such time as they return to complete their programs. (Note the limitations on long-term leave-of-absence in the Leave of Absence policy below.)

For international students, such practical training must be pre-approved by the PDSO or DSO, and shall be documented in their SEVIS records, according to DHS regulations.

Performance Diploma for ESL Reasons

International students must have a minimum TOEFL score of 79 plus the approval of the Admissions Committee in order to be admitted to the BM program. If it is determined that an accepted BM applicant does not have sufficient English language skills for the degree coursework, the student will be admitted to the PD program in order to allow adequate time to make progress musically and not be overwhelmed by academic studies. Once in the PD program, the student has two options:

Option 1: The student may choose to remain in the PD program for the entire four years. Note that most schools will require a BM degree for study in a graduate Master of Music degree program. A PD is not considered acceptable preparation for an MM degree.

Option 2: If the student wishes to move from the PD to the BM, the school offers an individualized assessment exam at the end of the first year of enrollment in the PD program to students who have demonstrated promise for success in the BM. This exam includes a reading and writing test, an oral exam, and a spoken conversation.

In addition, in the first semester of the Performance Diploma, the student will be required to:

- enroll in ESL 100, English for Non-native Speakers, and ESL 001, English as a Second Language tutoring, to provide English language support;
- the student may, on the recommendation of the academic advisor, be required to audit classes to support English studies.

At the conclusion of the first semester, on the recommendation of the ESL instructor, the student may officially apply to move to the BM.

In the second semester, if the student is approved to apply for the BM, the student will be required to continue enrollment in ESL 100.

Based on the student's performance in ESL 100 and the assessment exam, a decision will be made regarding moving into the BM degree program at the conclusion of the first year of study.

The following will be criteria for denying the application for the BM:

- Students on academic, performance, or disciplinary probation will be ineligible for transfer from the PD to the BM.
- Students whose performance on the assessment exam does not demonstrate adequate ability to be successful in the BM.

Students who are not prepared to transfer to the BM at conclusion of the first year of study must remain in the PD program and will graduate in the prescribed four years.

The final determination of a student's application will be made by the Dean in consultation with the appropriate department chairs and academic faculty. If the consulting group finds that the student is prepared for study in the BM program, the student will be permitted to begin study in the BM program the following semester. The first semester of enrollment will be with probationary status. The student must meet all the academic requirements of probation as described on p. 40 of this catalog. In this case, the student will then be enrolled at the Colburn School for a total of five years (one year in the PD and four years in the BM). If it is determined that the student's English language skills are not adequate for the BM program, the student must remain in the PD program and will be enrolled for four years.

Independent Study

Independent Study in the Conservatory refers to a credit-bearing project created by the individual student in consultation with a faculty advisor, and with the approval of the appropriate department chair and the Dean of the Conservatory. The project contract must include a timeline, specific goals and outcomes, and a specific number of credits to be granted (maximum of three). An independent study is intended for the highly-motivated student who wishes to research a topic in depth; it does not involve weekly instruction by the project advisor. The contract must be signed by the student, the project advisor, and the Dean. The signed and approved contract must be filed with the Registrar so that the project may appear on the student's transcript. Projects may be proposed in the areas of music theory, music history and literature, or humanities.

There may be circumstances in which independent study is needed in order for a student to meet graduation requirements. In such cases, approval for using independent study to complete a graduation requirement must be sought by the student from the student's academic advisor, the appropriate department chair, and the Dean of the Conservatory, who shall assign a faculty advisor/instructor for the independent study. The Dean and the faculty member overseeing the independent study will set a deadline for completion of the course, usually at the end of the semester in which the class is initiated. As with any required class, failure to complete such independent study may delay certification of graduation.

Make-up Exams

If a student requests a short-term leave that conflicts with a scheduled class exam, that conflict must be resolved as part of the absence approval process. Make-up exams may only be requested and approved prior to the exam date. It is the instructor's prerogative to schedule or deny the request for a makeup exam. Requests for make-up exams made after-the-fact shall be denied.

Adding a Class

A student may add a class through the end of the second week of the term by completing the Add/Drop form, obtaining faculty approval and signature, meeting with his/her academic advisor for approval and signature, and submitting the completed form to the Registrar. After the second week of the term, students cannot add classes. The SEM 020 microcourses are exempt from this rule. If you wish to add a micro-course during the semester, please consult the Registrar or the Center for Innovation and Community Impact.

Dropping a Class

A student may drop a class through the end of the second week of the term by completing the Add/Drop form, obtaining faculty approval and signature, meeting with his/her academic advisor for approval and signature, and submitting the completed form to the Registrar. The Registrar & Manager of Student Services may require documentation from the student as to how the class will be made up, given the degree requirements and the limited number of classes offered. Classes dropped according to this policy shall not appear on the student's official transcript. Beginning the third week of the term and through the 7th week, students cannot drop a course, but may request to withdraw from a class (see "Withdrawing from a Class" below for further information). Please note that SEM 020 micro courses are exempt from this policy.

Auditing a Class

A student may audit a class that is not required within his/her program with permission of the instructor. The student must fill out a Class Audit Form and submit it to the instructor who will detail the requirements and expectations for auditing the class (e.g., attendance, work to be completed, etc.). The student will take the signed form and meet with his/her academic advisor for the advisor's approval and signature. The student must submit the completed form to the Registrar. An audited class shall appear on the student's transcript with a grade of "Audit" and for no academic credit.

Incomplete Grade Policy

A student may request a grade of INC (incomplete) from a class instructor if special circumstances warrant the request. The student must complete the Incomplete Request form, stating a valid reason (such as illness) for the request. The instructor shall indicate on the form what work is required to complete the class, the deadline for completion, and the grade to be given if the work is not completed by the deadline. In general, requests for INC grades are made at the end of the semester in which the student is enrolled in the class. A student is not eligible for the grade of INC due to late or missed work.

Once the Incomplete Request Form is signed by the student and the instructor and approved by the student's academic advisor, it constitutes a binding contract. No further extensions are permitted, and the grade shall be final.

Students who are unable to complete a class due to excessive unexcused absences, not meeting deadlines, failing to turn in assignments, etc., are not eligible for an Incomplete and are urged to withdraw from the class rather than earning a failing grade. (See "Withdrawing from a Class" policy below.) Such withdrawal will necessarily impact a student's academic load in future semesters.

Withdrawing from a Class

After week two but before week eight of classes, a student may request to withdraw from a class by meeting with his/her academic advisor, completing the Class Withdrawal Form, obtaining the signature of the course instructor on this form, and submitting the form to the Registrar. The Registrar will pass the request to the student's academic advisor for review. (The instructor's signature acknowledges the withdrawal, but neither approves nor disapproves the request.) The student's academic advisor and the Registrar may require documentation from the student as to how the course shall be made up, if the course or the course credits are required for graduation. Courses dropped according to this policy shall appear on the student's transcript with a grade of W. Courses dropped from week eight through week eleven of the semester will appear on the student's transcript with a grade of WP (Withdraw Pass) or WF (Withdraw Fail). Students may not withdraw from courses after the 11th week of the term.

Leave of Absence (Long-term)

Students who provide adequate evidence of extenuating circumstances may interrupt their studies and apply for a Leave of Absence (LOA). This is a long-term absence, as opposed to a short-term absence requested using the Absence Request Form. Long-term leaves may be granted for academic, artistic, medical, military service, or personal reasons. Students should request a long-term leave by filling out the Leave of Absence form. In general, long-term leaves are granted for a maximum of one academic year. The student must petition for an extension of leave beyond the time granted. Depending on the circumstances, a student with an extended leave may be required to re-apply and/or re-audition. In cases where the leave was related to a professional position, a maximum leave of one academic year shall be granted. Academic progress toward graduation following a long-term leave of absence shall be assessed on a case-by-case basis. Depending on the circumstances of the leave, a student may be permitted to continue course work while not on campus in order to stay on track for completion of his/her program.

Requests for a long-term leave must be made to the Dean of the Conservatory and must be approved in writing by the Dean. The Leave of Absence form may be accompanied by an explanatory letter further detailing the length of absence, the purpose of/reason for absence, and documentation verifying the purpose. Only students making satisfactory progress in their studies shall be granted leave. Students who do not contact the Dean for leave approval shall be dismissed after five school days of consecutive absences.

Withdrawal from School

Students who wish to permanently withdraw from the school for any reason should consult with the Dean of the Conservatory prior to filing the Notice of Withdrawal form. This form is the only manner of withdrawal considered official (except for cases of administrative withdrawal). Courses left incomplete following withdrawal shall appear on the student's transcript with a grade of "W." For information on refunds of monies paid to the School, please see Cost of Attendance, Fees, and Refund Policies in this Handbook.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Financial Assistance Policy

While the Colburn School does not participate in any state or federal financial aid programs, there may be times when students have particular needs for financial support beyond the tuition, room, and board scholarships provided. All CSCM financial aid is need-based. Because financial assistance is limited, applying for aid does not guarantee you approval of funds or full reimbursement. Only students with significant financial need will qualify for aid. The amount of aid awarded depends on funds available in the financial aid budget.

Applications are reviewed by the Financial Aid Committee (FAC), which includes the Registrar & Manager of Student Services, the Dean of the Conservatory, and the Finance Accounting Manager. The FAC awards financial aid to CSCM students and is required to work within the budget set by the school and to apply its standards fairly.

Financial aid awards are divided into two distinct types of support: Work Aid and Grant Aid.

- Work Aid: All students receiving need-based financial aid from Colburn are expected to work on campus to earn all or a portion of their financial assistance. Work Aid may be earned by obtaining a job on campus. Wages earned on campus through a Work Aid award will not be directly applied to the student account. It will be the responsibility of each student to pay down their account with earned wages. Receiving the specified Work Aid award amount is dependent on the student working a sufficient number of hours to earn the award. Therefore, the award will be earned over the course of the school year.
- Grant Aid: In addition to Work Aid, students with the highest need will also be considered for Grant Aid. Unlike Work Aid, Grant Aid is direct funding and will be applied to your bill. Should you feel that you are not able to, or are not interested in, work on campus, you will not be eligible to receive Grant Aid.

As a CSCM student, you may request support for the following:

- Medical insurance (if you are on the school's Gallagher Student Health Insurance plan)
- Comprehensive fee
- Travel (for professional auditions or engagements during the school year only)

Any returning student needing financial assistance must make a request to the Financial Aid Committee by completing the Financial Aid Application by May 1st, providing supporting documentation as appropriate (see the Financial Aid Application for details). New students are required to submit the Financial Aid Application by May 15th. Students are responsible for meeting all deadlines and for providing all documentation, as listed on the application form. Forms are available in the Conservatory Office.

Prior to considering requests for aid, the Financial Aid Committee shall review the student's account for holds. If the student's account is current, the Financial Aid Committee shall then determine if the school can provide support for the student's request. Financial assistance is awarded based on need, as demonstrated by the student in the financial aid application. Any tax liability resulting from such aid is solely the responsibility of the student. International students who are not U.S. permanent residents for tax purposes may have tax withheld from financial aid grants, per IRS regulations.

Student Loans

Students in graduate programs or undergraduate transfer students may have incurred student loans before enrolling at the Colburn School. Because the Colburn School does not accept funding from the Federal Government, the school is not recognized by many lending organizations as a deferrable institution. We will make every effort to work with a student's lending institution to obtain a student deferral while enrolled at Colburn, and usually we are able to either secure the deferral or guide the student through income-based deferral, but success is not guaranteed. This should be taken into consideration when planning individual finances for the period of enrollment at Colburn.

Financial Aid and Loans

The Colburn School does not participate in any federal or state financial aid programs. Students who obtain loans while enrolled at Colburn, or who have obtained loans at previous institutions, are solely responsible to repay the full amount of the loans plus interest (if any). Students who have received federal aid funds are entitled to a refund of the monies not paid from federal student financial aid program funds.

According to California State Senate Bill 1289, Chapter 623, Statutes of 2012, federal student loans are required by law to provide a range of flexible repayment options, including, but not limited to, income-based repayment and income-contingent repayment plans, and loan forgiveness benefits, which other student loans are not required to provide. Federal direct loans are available to students regardless of income, although not through the Colburn School (which does not participate in federal financial aid programs).

Outside Scholarships

An outside scholarship is one that a student brings to the Colburn School from another institution or organization. Examples include but are not limited to Rotary scholarships, foundation scholarships, corporate scholarships, and civic scholarships. Outside scholarships will be used as directed by the donating organization (see below, in "Student responsibilities"). Students may request that an outside scholarship be applied to the Comprehensive Fee, if such usage meets the criteria for application of the scholarship. All outside scholarships received by students must be reported to the school for proper credit.

A student who has received an outside scholarship will likely be asked by the donor organization to provide the name and address of the school in which he or she will be enrolling. The donor organization usually makes the check payable to the school and sends it directly. Students should provide the following information to scholarship donors for their donations:

Colburn School
Conservatory of Music
200 South Grand Avenue
Los Angeles, CA 90012

Student responsibilities for outside scholarships: As the recipient of an outside scholarship, the student is required to provide the school with a copy of the award letter, or a letter from the donor specifying how the scholarship is to be used (for example, for tuition only, for books, for room and board, etc.). Make sure that the check references you as the recipient, so that the award is credited correctly.

When required by scholarship donors, it is the student's responsibility to request any supporting documentation (such as class schedules or transcripts) from the school. If documentation is required more than once, it is the student's responsibility to make the request each time and to meet all deadlines.

Taxes and Withholdings on Financial Awards

Most scholarships, grants, financial aid, and allowances from the Colburn School are considered taxable income and may have tax implications for international students as determined by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) of the United States. Colburn is required to withhold taxes owed on these financial awards, and pay them directly to the U.S. government. As a result, you will see the amount of these taxes appear as a bill on your student account.

In general, for nonresident aliens for tax purposes, the U.S. government considers the amount of scholarship in excess of tuition and required fees (the Comprehensive Fee) - also described as non-service fellowship/scholarship income - as taxable income. Nonresident aliens on an F-1 visa are subject to a 14% tax-withholding rate on non-service fellowship/scholarship income, in the absence of a claimed tax treaty. (Those on different visa types may incur a different withholding rate.)

These tax-withholding requirements are only applied to non-qualified fellowships/scholarships, such as:

- housing
- meal plan
- student health insurance
- travel reimbursements for auditions and competitions, etc.

Additionally, this income will be reported to the student and to the U.S. government on a form 1042-S, prepared in March each year.

The Colburn School is required to withhold taxes per the IRS and the withholding amount depends on each student's tax status and whether the U.S. has a tax treaty with the student's home country (or country of tax residency if different from home country). The tax withheld by Colburn is sent to the IRS and is associated with the student's name and U.S. tax identification number (which is either a U.S. social security number (SSN) or individual tax identification number (ITIN)).

In cases where this tax withholding is required, the tax amount sent to the IRS by Colburn will appear as a charge on the student bill. Students are required to, and are responsible for, paying this along with any other charges on the bill according to payment arrangements with The Colburn School.

We recommend that all students discuss possible tax liability and filing of tax returns with a tax advisor or a certified public accountant (CPA). The Colburn Conservatory cannot offer tax advice or prepare tax returns.

Opening Weeks Events

In collaboration with the Conservatory Office, the Office of Housing and Residence Life plays an essential role in Orientation Week at the Colburn School. Students are to prioritize their schedules in order to attend all Conservatory's mandatory sessions during move-in and opening weeks. The Office of Housing and Residence Life also hosts numerous social and educational events during this time. Students are encouraged to attend these events to become acclimated to the school and Downtown Los Angeles.

Access to Residence Hall

The Residence Life staff are available for all residents to help with transitioning with move-in and move-out each year. Residents are responsible for moving in and moving out their personal belongings each year.

Move In

For the 2024-2025 academic year, all new incoming students begin to move in on Aug. 24, 2024. For all returning students, move in begins Aug. 25th -Aug. 27th.

Note: Students may send packages to the Colburn School for move-in each year. Packages can begin to arrive at the Colburn School on August 1st. Packages that arrive between August 1st and move-in will be placed in the student's assigned bedroom, which will be locked until the student assigned to the room has arrived for move-in. Packages that have not been placed into the student bedrooms on move-in day can be picked up from the mailroom during mailroom hours.

Winter Break

For Winter Break, all students must move out of the residence halls on December 18th by 12 p.m. (noon). Students can leave all their belongings in their assigned suites. Note that the Engineering team may need to enter your room to make repairs and updates during this time.

Move Out

For summer Break, all residential students must move out on May 6th by noon. Students must pack their belongings and move them off campus.

Residence Hall Furnishings Information

Room Condition Inspections and Reports

For the protection of the Colburn School and its residents, the School requires both move-in and move-out inspections of all suites by a Residential Life staff members and members from the Engineering team. During the inspection, a Room Condition Report will be completed that documents the overall condition of the suite, including bedrooms and bathrooms, as well as any specific damages, cleaning needs, and/or maintenance problems. Residents will be billed for any damage beyond normal wear and tear and any additional cleaning beyond what is normally completed identified at move out. Residential students will not be charged for any damages that they listed on their student Room Condition Report at the beginning of Fall semester. All charges will be removed from the student Damage Deposit Fee. Should the charges accrued during the move out inspection exceed the Damage Deposit Fee, the student will be charged the remaining balance over the summer.

Furniture

Beds: Residents must leave their mattresses and bed frames, fully assembled, in their rooms throughout the school year. Should a resident need to disassemble their bed for any medical reason, please contact Residence Life. Beds must be fully reassembled before the resident moves out. Bed frames not reassembled by inspection time will result in a fine of $50 for reassembly.

Moving Furniture: Residence Hall furniture is placed according to fire and safety codes. Residents may not move furniture or remove furniture from suites or bedrooms and may not move or remove any lounge or common area furniture. Residents who move furniture within a suite at any point during the academic year must replace it by move-out or their student account will be charged a fine. Please see Appendix D for a list of possible fines associated with moving dorm room furniture. Please note that this list is not exhaustive and is subject to change as circumstances dictate.

Damaging Furniture: Residents are expected to take care of Residence Hall furniture. Residents will be held financially accountable and billed for all damaged furniture.

Extra Furniture: Due to strict fire and safety codes, the addition of extra pieces of furniture (e.g. couches, beds, desks, dressers, etc.) is not allowed.

Appliances

Residents of each suite are provided with a small refrigerator and a microwave. Students may purchase a personal mini fridge for their room.

Additional non-external heating electronics may be approved for use. All personal appliances must be UL-approved and have automatic shut-off features. These include personal mini fridges, steamers, rice cookers, electric kettles, and coffee makers (e.g., Keurig and Nespresso). Additionally, the use of handheld clothing irons and steamers with automatic shut-off timers is acceptable when stored and used safely. The use or possession of appliances that have a heating element or coils and/or produce excessive heat is strictly prohibited for safety and fire code reasons. This ban includes, but is not limited to, the following common items: halogen lamps, sunlamps, toaster ovens, hot plates, deep-fryers, electric skillets, and electric heaters.

Keys and Access – see also, Safety and Security

- ID Badge (suite key): Residents are required to have their ID Badge (suite key) visible at all times when on the Colburn School campus. ID badges should be worn on a lanyard around the neck. Lanyards are available through the Security Department. Residents are expected to maintain control over their own ID badge at all times.
- Under no circumstances should a resident lend another person their ID badge. Residents who lend their ID badge to someone else will be required to meet with the Director of Security and the Manager of Residence Life and Summer Residential Programs. The duplication of School keys and access cards is prohibited.
- Lost ID Badges should be reported to Security immediately at security@colburnschool.edu. A $25 fine will be charged to replace a lost ID badge. Residents who need a new ID badge or have questions about room access must schedule an appointment with the Director of Security at security@colburnschool.edu .
- Storage / Mechanical Areas: Except in an emergency, students are not permitted to access storage rooms, mechanical rooms, emergency-only doors, elevator shafts, or other areas marked as off-limits.
- Windows: Residents are not permitted to enter or exit the windows, or throw or hang items outside of their suite or bedroom windows.
- Access Restrictions: Conservatory students are not permitted to access suites other than their own without prior permission from the resident or an administrator. Conservatory students may never enter Academy floor and suites unless accompanied by a Housing and Residence Life staff member or Security guard.
- Bedroom Keys: Residents have the option of checking out a personal bedroom key to their assigned bedroom during the academic year. Students who may need to replace their key for any reason will be charged a $65 replacement fee.

Lock-outs

Residents who are locked out of their room or suite should contact the Residence Life staff member on call at 213.590.7277 or via Security either in person at the Olive Security Desk on the 3rd floor of the Olive building or by phone at 213.621.4500. We expect residents to keep lockouts under 3 times per academic year. All subsequent lockouts will result in a $10 fine posted to the resident's account.

Property Renter's Insurance

The Colburn School does not provide property insurance or financial protection, nor does it assume any responsibility or liability for any loss of, damage to, or destruction of students' personal items, or for any articles left during Winter Break, Spring Break, or after vacating the premises in May. Residence Life strongly recommends that residents purchase personal property insurance as well as instrument insurance.

Move-out Procedures

The Office of Housing and Residence Life coordinates an efficient and effective move-out at the end of each school year. Toward the end of the school year, students will attend a mandatory move-out floor meeting where they will receive a move-out packet from their RA or a member of the Residence Life staff. This packet will include a move-out letter explaining all important details for move out for the current year, a move out check list, a damage declaration form, and key packet for students who checked out a bedroom key and for all students to return their mailroom key. Students will be expected to dispose of all trash and properly remove all excess furniture from their room and suite, as directed by Residence Life staff. Students are required to return their ID badges to the Residence Life staff at move-out regardless of their enrollment status.

Summer Storage

Residents are responsible for securing their own summer storage, purchasing their own boxes, transporting belongings to the storage site, and picking their belongings up when they return to campus. Residents are encouraged to collaborate with other residents to reduce costs. The Office of Housing and Residence Life has collaborated with U-Haul's Collegeboxes, a company used to assist students moving in and out of their residences in need of a storage unit.

Summer storage in faculty studios, practice rooms, or any other spaces on campus is prohibited. Students are not allowed to leave any personal items or instruments in their teacher's studio during the summer months. Any student who leaves personal items or instruments within a space on campus over the summer will be subject to a fine. Please note, the Colburn School is not liable for any damages or theft for items stored during the summer months.

Facilities and Engineering

Laundry

The resident laundry room is located on the 2nd floor of the Olive Building (O243). The washing machines and dryers use the Kiosoft System© system. The Kiosoft© system is card-operated and accepts credit cards and debit cards. With the Kiosoft© system, you may use your smartphone to see which machines are being used and to check the status of a machine you are using via the CleanPay Mobile app. To report a broken machine, please email the Office of Housing and Residence Life at housing@colburnschool.edu. Laundry left in the machines may be removed and placed on the folding tables if needed and will be discarded after 7 days.

Janitorial

Report janitorial issues to Residence Life via e-mail at housing@colburnschool.edu. Once the email has been sent, a member from Residence Life will contact our Janitorial staff to create a work order for the student's request. Janitorial staff will respond within 24 hours. If the request is emergent, please contact security or call the on-call phone at 213.590.7277.

Maintenance and Repair Work Orders

To place a non-emergency work order for your suite or bedroom, send an e-mail to housing@colburnschool.edu with:

- Your name (first and last)
- Your suite and room number (example: 816-B)
- Your cell phone number, in case we need to contact you quickly
- The exact location of the problem (be as specific as possible)
- A complete description of the problem
- A photo of the problem, if possible

Most non-emergency maintenance and repair orders will be attended to within 2-3 business days. Residents should expect that a Colburn employee will enter their suite/room in order to fix the problem. Residents are expected to report problems quickly to ensure that they do not grow larger or cause more permanent damage. Residents may be billed for permanent serious damage caused by failure to report problems. Residents should expect that a Colburn employee will enter their suite/room in order to fix the problem. Residents are expected to report problems quickly to ensure that they do not grow larger or cause damage that is more permanent. Residents may be billed for permanent serious damage caused by failure to report problems. To report an emergency maintenance or repair problem, contact Security at the 3rd floor Olive Security Desk or via telephone at 213.621.4500. Examples of emergency maintenance/repair problems are:

- Flooding
- Sewage spill
- Broken glass
- Structural damage
- Person(s) stuck in elevator
- Electrical outage or short-circuit
- Any other problem that might cause injury or harm to residents

Residence Hall Policies and Procedures

General Conservatory Housing Policy

- Students must be 16 years of age as of September 1, 2024, and enrolled in the Conservatory to be eligible for housing in the Residence Hall.
- Undergraduate students are required to live in the Residence Hall for their first two years of study, unless married, over 21, or living with a parent or legal guardian in the Los Angeles area. Proof of these circumstances will be required (e.g., copy of marriage license; proof of age; name and address of parent/guardian; or other proof as required by the School) for those first- and second-year undergraduates requesting an off-campus exemption.
- Students who choose to live off campus will not be compensated for the cost of their room.
- The Colburn School does not provide housing for spouses or children of Conservatory students.

Housing Exemption (Undergraduates Only)

In some circumstances, undergraduate students in their first two years of study may not be able to live on campus due to specific individual circumstances. Those circumstances may include but are not limited to the following:

- The student is married or is a legal domestic partner to someone who is not a Conservatory student.
- The student has children or dependents.
- The student has a medical condition that prevents community living or necessitates accommodations that the Residence Hall cannot provide.
- The student requires a medical exemption and is unable to receive required vaccinations/immunizations.

The following procedure must be followed for a student to be considered for an exemption:

- Write a letter requesting an exemption. This letter should include a detailed description of the circumstances that pertain to the student not living in the Residence Hall and complete contact information, including e-mail address and phone number.
- The Manager of Residence Life and Summer Residential Programs should receive the letter no later than the first day of June.
- Students who are approved for an off-campus exemption may still choose to participate in the School's meal plan.
- All students living off campus are required to provide the School with their physical address.

Off-Campus Housing Option

Continuing post-baccalaureate, new post-baccalaureate, third- and fourth-year undergraduates, and transfer students over the age of 21 may opt to live off campus. The cost of off-campus housing is the responsibility of the student. The average rental cost for a studio apartment in the area close to Colburn ranges from $2,000 - $3,500 per month. Finding an apartment in Los Angeles can be a challenging experience. With that in mind, Residence Life can provide some resources that may help students transition from the campus community to off-campus housing options. Locating off-campus housing, however, is the sole responsibility of the student. First and second year undergraduate students who do not qualify for an exemption but who wish to live off campus must submit a written petition to the Office of Housing and Residence Life. The deadline for petitions is the 1st of June prior to the student's arrival. Students who do not find off-campus housing prior to August 1 may petition in writing to return to campus. As Residence Hall space may be limited at that time, Residential Life cannot guarantee that all requests will be met. Students who live off campus may choose to participate in the meal plan but will not qualify for any financial aid or compensation toward the cost of room or rent. All students living off campus are required to provide the school with their physical address.

Parking Policy for Off-Campus Residents

Students who opt to live off campus and students who have been granted an exemption to live off campus are subject to the same parking lottery and parking policies as residential students. Any student residing off campus who needs on-campus parking must enter the parking lottery to be eligible to park in the garage. The expense for the space is the same as that for on-campus residents and will be the responsibility of the student. If there is no parking available, off-campus students will have to park in an adjacent parking lot or pay the day rate for the Colburn lot. See Resources Section for rates.

Guests

Because the residence hall is everyone's home away from home, it is important that each resident feels safe. Daytime visitors are welcome, and overnight guests are allowed with approval from the Office of Residential Life. The Colburn School reserves the right to deny access to the Residence Hall to any guest for any reason. Residents are always responsible for their guests. Residents must always remain with their guests while in the Residence Hall. Residents are strictly prohibited from sharing their ID cards with guests. Failure to comply with these rules may result in the revocation of guest privileges for the semester or academic year.

Guests Entering the Residence Hall Must Sign in and Out: To gain access to the residential floors, guests must sign in with Security at the 3rd-floor Olive Security Desk on the plaza level of the Olive Building. Guests must provide Security with a valid form of photo identification to sign in. This identification will be kept at the Olive Security Desk until the guest signs out. Guests that are not signed in or are in the Residence Hall past 10:00 p.m. without an approved Overnight Guest Request Form from Residential Life may be asked to vacate the Residence Hall and the resident will face sanctions in order of offense.

Sanctions for Guests Violations are as follows:

- First Offense: Guest Privilege Revoked for a semester and $50
- Second Offense: Guest privilege revoked for 1-year Guest Privileges revoked and $100
- Third Offense: Guest privilege revoked for the remainder of enrollment and meeting with Residence Life staff, Disciplinary Probation, and $200

Requests for Overnight Guest (Conservatory only):

- Residents wishing to host an overnight guest (past 10 p.m.) must receive prior written approval from their suitemates and the Office of Residential Life using the Overnight Guest Request Form available in the Residential Life office.
- Requests must be submitted at least 48-hours prior to the guest's arrival
- Security will not allow a guest to enter the Residence Hall for an overnight stay without an approved request.

Overnight Guest Limit:

- Overnight guests may not stay for more than three consecutive nights or more than a total of six nights in one 30-day calendar period.
- Each time a resident has a guest, that guest may stay up to 7 consecutive nights.
- A resident may only have one overnight guest at a time and each guest counts towards a night.
- No guest should be signed in by multiple students and exceed the allotted time period for staying on campus.

Consent of Suitemates for Overnight Guests: Residents are required to gain approval from all suitemates before hosting overnight guests. This expectation is important since overnight guests may have access to the common area, bathroom, and personal property in the suite common areas, and it is important that all suitemates feel comfortable with the guest's presence.

Guest Policy Violations: It is expected that students will take prompt and reasonable action to stop the violation of Residential and School policies by their guests. If a resident or their guest violates the guest policies, they must meet with the Manager of Residential Life and Summer Residential Programs and may be given the sanctions listed above.

Guest Parking: Overnight guest(s) may not park in the Olive parking structure for more than seven consecutive nights. It is also expected that no student resident will have an excessive number of guests parking within any month. Guests must park in unnumbered spaces on P3 and will be charged $20 per/night. Guests may be asked to move their cars at any point if spaces are needed. If a resident abuses guest parking privileges, Residential Life and/or Security has the right to revoke the guest's parking privileges.

Room Selection Process

The Office of Housing and Residence Life allows returning students to select their rooms and roommates through a room selection process during the final months of the Spring Semester. Students are required to complete a housing application. The housing application is used to assign suites, suitemates, and roommates. In order for a student's request to be honored, all students must complete the housing application and agree to live together. Once the room and/or roommates have been assigned, students will sign their Roommate Agreement Forms and all housing assignments will be final. Room assignments are made based on a variety of factors such as suitemate preferences, lifestyle habits, age, and program. Room selection for returning residents typically occurs in early April with priority determined by program. Room assignments for new residents usually occur in late July/early August based on submitted preference and room availability..

Room-swapping Requests

If any two students wish to swap rooms, a request must be submitted to the Office of Housing and Residence Life. Once agreed on by the two students, both residents must request a room swap and the other roommates must agree. Once approved, the students will need to complete a Room Condition Report for the room they wish to move out of, as well as a Room Condition Report for their new room. Both students will need to meet with a representative from the Office of Housing and Residence Life before making any room swaps either within their suite or to another. Due to space limitations, room reassessments are at the discretion of the Office of Housing and Residence Life. Dependent upon availability and situational concerns, the managers of the Office of Housing and Residence Life may arrange for a room reassessment. Residents are not permitted to move without the consent of the Office of Housing and Residence Life. All room switches require a move-out and move-in room inspection, re-coding of key cards, cleaning and sanitizing of suites, and changing of resident records – all to be coordinated with the Office of Housing and Residence Life.

Right to Enter

The School recognizes residents' desire for privacy and will make every effort to be respectful of residents' living spaces and need for privacy. That said, School staff may enter your suite or room under the following conditions:

- There is an indication of an immediate health or safety risk or medical, safety, or facility emergency.
- When the building is being evacuated for any reason.
- Whenever you have requested, or the staff determines there is need for, maintenance or repair.
- The staff needs to conduct a health and safety check of every suite and room.
- To silence noise (like an alarm clock, stereo, or computer) in your absence.
- Whenever there is suspicion of violations of the Standards of Student Conduct or the law.

Whenever possible, a staff member will enter your suite or room accompanied by another staff member. The Managers of Housing and Residence Life will be notified of the need to enter a room or suite in these extreme situations and will weigh the safety and community good issues before giving any staff member permission to access any resident living space and will accompany any other staff members who need to enter whenever possible.

Commercial Enterprise

Suites and rooms in the Residence Hall are to be used for living and studying purposes only. The operation of a business or commercial enterprise from the Residence Hall is prohibited. Soliciting, peddling, or selling from the Residence Hall and in or around the Residence Hall is prohibited.

Public Safety

Residents are prohibited from throwing items out of the windows in the Residence Hall. Throwing anything out of a window will result in a fine of $100.

Fire Safety

The Colburn School recognizes the importance of fire safety and has put in place policies that are designed to prevent needless threats to the safety of our residents and to comply with strict guidelines set by the Los Angeles Fire Marshal.

- Evacuation/Compliance with Alarms
Residents are expected to evacuate the building during fire or smoke alarms and to congregate in the designated evacuation assembly area. Failure to evacuate the building quickly—using stairs, not elevators—is seen as an extremely serious matter and may result in disciplinary sanctions or fines.
- Tampering with Fire Equipment
Tampering with, damaging, altering, or disconnecting fire safety equipment including but not limited to smoke detectors, fire alarm horns, fire pull stations, fire door exit alarms, sprinkler heads and fire extinguishers, is strictly prohibited. A violation of this policy may result in disciplinary sanctions or fines.
- Occupancy Limits
Large gatherings in residential suites (encompassing bedrooms and suite living area) are prohibited due to fire code and safety regulations. Suites may not have gatherings that exceed double the number of residents the suite is designed to hold.
  - 2-bedroom suite: 4-person maximum occupancy
  - 3-bedroom suite: 6-person maximum occupancy
  - 4-bedroom suite: 8-person maximum occupancy
- Candles and Open Flames

The possession of items that produce an open flame, including but not limited to candles/decorative candles, incense, torches, propane cooking grills, is not permitted. The responsible storage of small cigarette lighters/matches is allowed.

- Explosives / Combustibles

The possession or use of any item that has the potential to cause an explosion, excessive sparks, or heat, is prohibited. Also, storage of chemicals or substances, which have the potential to explode or cause burning or other injury, is prohibited.

- Cooking

Due to limited ventilation and sensitive fire and smoke detector equipment, cooking in the Residence Hall is not permitted except for that done in the microwave provided by the School.

Alcohol, Smoking, and Controlled Substances Policies

Alcohol

The possession, consumption, and/or manufacture of alcoholic beverages is not allowed in the Residence Hall. The dry residence hall of Colburn School starts at the elevator shaft of the 3rd floor. This policy applies to all Conservatory students and guests irrespective of age or residency status. In addition, students may not be visibly intoxicated while moving about in the Residence Hall. Students are expected to follow all policies and to act responsibly if they have chosen to consume alcohol off campus.

As a reminder, California State law prohibits anyone under the age of 21 from consuming or possessing alcohol anywhere in the State. In addition, it is illegal to drive a motor vehicle with a BAC (Blood Alcohol Concentration) of .01 or more if under the age of 21. This level of .01 percent is less than one beer. Persons 21 years of age or older may not drive if they have a BAC of .08 or higher. Drinking laws in the U.S. are different from laws in other countries and are even different from state to state. If the police catch you, you are subject to criminal penalties, which could include fines and jail time. Students are encouraged to have a designated driver for a safe return to campus when planning to drink alcohol.

All international students are responsible for following Federal immigration regulations. Federal laws are established at national level, and Federal laws override State laws. International students are subject to Federal law and must adhere to these regulations to maintain their F-1 immigration status. Failure to comply can result in deportation or being barred from entry into the U.S.

Smoking

The Colburn School is a non-smoking campus. At Colburn, the smoking of substances will not be tolerated, including but not limited to tobacco, marijuana, and/or vapes. Students may have these items in their possession (if over 21 for marijuana) but may not smoke on campus. Students that are found to be smoking on campus or in the possession of prohibited paraphernalia (see below in Controlled Substances) will be liable to the sanctions below.

Controlled Substances

The Colburn School requires the observance of all California State laws pertaining to illegal and prescription drugs. The Colburn School cares about the health and safety of its students and provides assistance for students who may need counseling or other services related to drug use or addiction.

- Illegal Drugs: The possession, sale, manufacture, and/or use of illegal drugs will not be tolerated anywhere on campus – including the Residence Hall.
- Drug Paraphernalia: The possession of any items commonly thought to be associated with the use of illegal drugs, including but not limited to pipes, bongs, and hookahs, is prohibited on campus – including the Residence Hall.
- Prescription and Over-the-counter (OTC) Drugs: The use of prescribed drugs by persons other than those to whom the drugs were prescribed is prohibited. The on-campus sale of any prescription drug is prohibited. The use of over-the-counter drugs for any purpose other than that for which they were intended is prohibited. The Colburn School reserves the right to require proof of prescription for drugs and/or controlled substances, including medical marijuana.

Enforcement

When a Housing and Residence Life Staff member or other Colburn School staff member is made aware and/or suspects a potential violation, it will be the responsibility of the Housing and Residence Life staff to enter the suite and each of the bedrooms to determine whether there is a violation of the fire code and/or consumption/possession of alcohol, drugs or controlled substances. After making note of what may be found, the alcohol/drugs/paraphernalia will be confiscated. The staff member will ask to see the students' identification. Non-Colburn guests will also be required to show identification and may be removed from the Residence Hall. An Incident Report will be filed with the Manager of Housing and Residence Life. An individual meeting with the Manager of Housing and Residence Life will then be held to determine the level of responsibility of each person in the suite/rooms at the time, and the appropriate sanction to be given based on the circumstances.

Pets

Animals are not permitted in the Residence Hall. Students who require service animals or emotional support animals are expected to provide the appropriate legal documentation and work with the Office of Housing and Residence Life, Wellness, and Summer Residential Programs on arrangements for this accommodation. Students may email the Office of Housing and Residence Life for more information about the process and documentation required.

Posting of Signs / Notices and Hanging Items

- Posting on Suite Doors: Due to fire code, residents may only post one personal flat item on the external suite door, the size of which may not exceed 11" x 17". Staff may, from time-to-time, post informational or decorative items on the doors.
- Windows: Nothing may be posted on the interior or exterior sides of building windows.
- Common Area Bulletin Boards:
- Prior permission from the Office of Housing and Residence Life is required for posting on Residence Life staff-maintained bulletin boards.
- Hanging of Items within Suite: Holes from items hung cannot be larger than a pinhole. Painter's tape may be used to affix posters, pictures, or other items to the wall, as it is easily removable. Do not use any other tape as tape other than painter's tape is known to rip paint off the wall. Upon checkout, residents are expected to return the room to its original check-in state.
- Posters in the Residential Elevators:
- Should a resident want to post any information about upcoming events, recitals, or concerts, approval must be given by The Office of Housing and Residence Life. Residents will need to stop by The Office of Housing and Residence Life and get their poster stamped and laminated.

Community Living

Quiet Hours

It is expected that residents will treat their fellow residents with respect and be courteous at all times. To ensure that all residents have the right to sleep and study in peace, "quiet hours" have been established from 9 p.m. to 9 a.m. During quiet hours, noise should not be audible outside of residential suites, and residents and guests should be careful to keep noise in common areas and hallways to a minimum.

Noise Level and Practicing in Suites

There is to be no amplified sound in the Residence Hall. The School has provided an adequate number of practice rooms on campus, and residents are expected to practice in those dedicated rooms. Only in the rare event that a practice room is not available, residents are allowed to practice in their bedrooms with the door and windows closed from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and in accordance with your suitemates and neighbors. Practicing in the communal areas of the suite is not allowed. There is a $25 fine if a student is found practicing in their room outside of the hours above or to the disturbance of their suitemates or neighbors. Repeated violations may result in sanctions limiting or revoking a resident's permission to practice in their room. Also, note that practicing in the Residence Hall is a temporary privilege that can be revoked at any time.

Lewd Conduct

Disorderly or lewd conduct in the Residence Hall is prohibited. This includes posting or using language or images that may be offensive and/or intimidating to others.

Threats, Harassment, Bullying, Intimidation, Hazing

Activities that threaten the health and safety of other community members, including hazing, bullying, intimidation, and harassment, will not be tolerated. This policy includes intimidation and harassment through the use of electronic communications like text messages, web forums, e-mail, chat, or instant messages and applies to students, staff, faculty, and guests of the Colburn School. See also page 94.

Apartment Living and Hygiene

- Living Space Cleanliness: Residents are expected to keep their living space—including suite common area, kitchenette, bathroom, and bedroom—clean and free of excessive clutter for safety and personal health reasons. As needed, Residence Life staff will conduct health and safety inspections of each suite and room under their right to enter. Unhealthy/unsafe levels of filth or excessive clutter may result in cleaning or damage fees and additional disciplinary action. If more than one resident is associated with the total cleaning bill, the bill will be divided among the residents associated with the space and charged to the residents' accounts.
- Cleaning Supplies: Vacuums are available to residents throughout the entire school year.
- Dishes: Dishes and cutlery from the Café are property of the Colburn School Café. Please return all dishes and cutlery to the Café immediately after use.
- Toilet Paper/Trash Bags: Toilet paper and trash bags are available in the trash room on each floor.
- Excessive Suite/Personal Trash: Residents are required to dispose of their trash on a regular basis. Accumulation of more than one large bag of trash in any suite or one small bag of trash in any bathroom or bedroom is a violation of community standards. There is a $10 fine for each resident within a suite where the suite refuses to dispose of trash properly and in a timely manner. A cleaning schedule that includes trash removal developed between suitemates can be helpful in avoiding excessive trash buildup.
- Janitorial Services: Janitorial services are not provided in residential suites. Residents are expected to keep their own suites, bathrooms, and bedrooms clean. The janitorial staff will service the corridors, stairwells, and other public areas several times each week.

Cleanliness of Common Areas

It is expected that residents will clean up after themselves when using common areas and School facilities, including hallways and the laundry room.

Trash and Recycling

Residents are expected to dispose of their own trash using the trash chute in the trash room on each floor of the Residence Hall. To prevent pests and rodents, trash must be sealed in plastic trash bags before being placed in the chute. Trash should never be left in the hallways or in the trash room. Larger items that may clog the chutes should be taken to the dumpster in the Olive parking garage. Trash bags are available in the trash room on each floor. A blue recycling bin is also available for recycling. Visit www.dpw.lacounty.gov/epd/rethinkla/default.aspx for a list of recyclable items.

Posters

The vandalism of signs and notices in the elevators is unacceptable. Cameras located in the elevators will identify vandals and those responsible will be held accountable for their actions and be fined $100 plus the cost of the poster for the first offense. Repeated offenses may incur more severe penalties.

Propping/Bolting Doors

Residents are expected to help keep the buildings safe by not propping or bolting doors at any time. Propping/Bolting Doors is considered a safety violation and a suite will be charged $75.

Roof

Neither residents nor guests are allowed on the roof of the building at any time. Roof access doors are equipped with alarms.

Telephones

The Colburn School recognizes that mobile phones are widely used by students; however, the School has provided a shared common phone in each residential suite for receiving incoming calls, making internal campus calls, and dialing 911 in an emergency. The number for all suite phones is 213.830 followed by the 4-digit extension below. Please make sure the phone is properly hung up to receive calls.

Amenities

Games and Entertainment

All students have access to the Student Lounge located on the 2nd floor of the Olive building, in room O246. The Lounge is equipped with board games, a TV, books, and a ping pong table.

Roku TV

Each suite is equipped with a Roku television provided by the Colburn School. The Colburn School does not provide individual subscriptions to television streaming applications. The remote must be returned at the conclusion of the school year. The fine for a lost or damaged remote is $50.

Programming

The Office of Housing and Residence Life hosts multiple programs per month that residents are welcome to attend. The Resident Advisors will email and post all sign-up sheets for student activities.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT ADVISING

Please direct any questions pertaining to international student matters to a Designated School Official (DSO) of the school. The Colburn School has a PDSO (Primary DSO) and a DSO and they can be reached as follows:

- Christine Daniels (PDSO), cdaniels@colburnschool.edu
- Lin Phoong (DSO), 213-621-4788 lphoong@colburnschool.edu

Enrollment/I-20

The school will issue a Form I-20 for an international student only after the student has applied, been admitted, submitted all required paperwork, paid the enrollment deposit, and supplied the information required (including a passport copy and proof of finances – see below). The I-20 is emailed to the student along with instructions about applying for an F-1 student visa.

Proof of Finances

Part of obtaining an I-20 is proving that the student has the means to cover expenses not covered by the school. Because the Colburn Conservatory of Music provides housing and a meal plan grant, and also provides scholarship for the student's tuition, the school requires proof of finances only as stated on the estimated budget sent in the student's admission packet. Proof of finances must be in the form of an official bank statement showing sufficient liquid funds to cover comprehensive fee, health insurance and personal expenses.

Entry into the United States

Students in initial status (i.e., new and non-transfer I-20 students) will only be permitted to enter the U.S. within 30 days of the "Program Start Date" indicated on page 1 of the I-20. Earlier arrivals are not permitted by the U.S. government. Exceptions may apply to students transferring from one school or educational level to another; please speak with a DSO before making plans to travel between programs.

Working in the United States

The U.S. government strictly enforces visa regulations. International students may work up to 20 hours per week on-campus for the Colburn School. Students are not allowed to work off campus, unless they have received a prior authorization from their DSO. All questions regarding visa, employment, and off-campus work authorizations (practical training) should be discussed with the PDSO and, if applicable, the Dean of the Conservatory.

On-campus Employment

At the beginning of each academic year, an email will be sent to all Conservatory students with a list of on-campus opportunities and details regarding the process of securing employment. On-campus employment can only be approved as part-time (20 hours or less per week) during the academic year.

Off-campus Employment ("Curricular Practical Training (CPT)")

Only undergraduates who have been on an F-1 visa for more than a full academic year and all graduate students are eligible to work off-campus in a field that is directly related to the student's area of study while in school. CPT requires authorization from a DSO and students are required to follow the procedure below before committing to any type of employment:

- CPT authorization is employer- and employment-specific. Therefore, operating a private studio and teaching lessons on the side is not permitted.
- The student must request authorization from a DSO before working (a minimum of 3 days in advance).
- The student must bring or send to the DSO documentation showing the name and address of the employer, and the dates of employment.
- Assuming the employment is related to music study and performance, the job will be added to the student's I-20 form.
- The CPT/employment authorization will appear on the second page of the student's I-20. The student can give a copy of this page to the employer to prove eligibility to work that particular job.

Please note that the information above is not related to the process of applying for and/or securing a Social Security Number. CPT approval simply means that a DSO has verified that the employment meets CPT criteria (i.e., that it relates directly to the student's studies, etc.). Approval for CPT does not grant the student a Social Security Number or absolve the student from any financial or tax obligations.

The PDSO will provide instructions to students who need to apply for a social security number. Please note, social security numbers are only available to students who intend to work in the U.S. A student must have applied for an on-campus job before applying.

Traveling with I-20

For a student to properly re-enter the United States while on an I-20, the student must have a valid I-20, and the "Travel Endorsement" section of the I-20 (located towards the bottom of page 2) must be endorsed by a DSO. Each signature is valid for one year and is required for re-entry into the United States.

Proof of Enrollment

Once an international student is enrolled in the Colburn Conservatory of Music, the student may obtain proof of enrollment by contacting the Conservatory Registrar. Proof of enrollment typically states the student's enrollment date, anticipated graduation date, program of study, and whether the student is in good standing.

Graduating Students

Graduating students have 60 days from the "Program End Date" noted on their I-20s to exit the United States and will not be able to re-enter on their Colburn I-20s unless they decide to pursue any of the steps below. (NOTE: in order to accommodate any changes that may take place to the academic schedule throughout the year, a May 31st date may initially be denoted as a student's "Program End Date." However, a DSO may change it to the actual date of Commencement once it is confirmed. Students are therefore encouraged to speak with a DSO before proceeding any further.)

Within 60 days of graduation (or the confirmed "Program End Date" noted on the I-20), a student has the option to either:
1) TRANSFER SCHOOLS – a student decides to pursue studies at another school within the U.S., must give a DSO the name of the school, and the student and DSO will need to coordinate the transfer-out of the student's SEVIS record to the next school.

2) APPLY FOR OPT – students cannot work on their current F-1 visa or I-20 after the "Program End Date" noted on the I-20. However, if a student has a job in place or has plans to secure a job after graduation (as a reminder, the job must be related to the student's major or field of study while in school), the student has the option to apply for Optional Practical Training (OPT). Eligible students can apply to receive up to 12 months of OPT employment authorization after completing their academic studies, and may apply up to 90 days before they complete a degree/program, but no later than 60 days after they complete a degree/program. There are many steps involved in applying for OPT (including an application that must be filed with the government directly) and the approval process may take up to 3 months or more, so students are strongly encouraged to plan early. More information on OPT can be found here: <https://www.uscis.gov/opt>.

If a student plans to attend a summer festival after completing studies at Colburn, this could be tricky. Please see a DSO immediately for guidance.

More Information

Information on studying in the United States and assistance regarding visa matters may be found in the student's home country through EducationUSA advisers. To find an adviser nearby, go to educationusa.state.gov. EducationUSA advisers are affiliated with the U.S. Department of State.

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Publicity

By enrolling at the Colburn Conservatory of Music, students consent to be filmed, recorded digitally or by video tape or other technology, and/or photographed (collectively, "recorded") by the Colburn School or other parties to whom the School has granted permissions. The student grants the school the non-exclusive right to use and license others to use the student's recorded performances, name, and likeness in connection with such performances, as applicable, for promotional purposes as well as for broadcast, distribution, exhibition, in all media, and formats including, without limitation, electronic and digital media, television, and the Internet, throughout the world in perpetuity, and waives any right to inspect or approve performances as recorded. Students agree that the Colburn School may, at its sole discretion, provide photos, sound recordings, or video footage of the student to third parties for commercial, promotional, recruiting, or educational purposes. This includes any medium now known or hereafter devised, including but not limited to radio stations, television stations, and online streaming services. Colburn will be responsible for obtaining any licenses for compositions performed.

Students are required to credit the Colburn School in their résumés, program bios, and in non-school programs as a condition of enrollment. The following wording must be used: "[Student name] is a [list your program: Bachelor of Music, Performance Diploma, Conducting Diploma, Artist Diploma, Professional Studies Certificate, Master of Music] candidate at the Colburn Conservatory of Music in Los Angeles, California, where [he/she/they] studies [instrument] with [applied teacher's name]."

Copyright Policy

The copying of sheet music, books, articles, and sound recordings is generally prohibited. Exceptions to this rule apply if the purpose for duplication is for classroom use under the "fair use" clause.

In determining whether the use made of a work in any particular case is a fair use, the factors to be considered shall include:

- the purpose and character of the use, including whether such use is of a commercial nature or is for nonprofit educational purposes;
- the nature of the copyrighted work;
- the amount and substantiality of the portion used in relation to the copyrighted work as a whole;
- the effect of the use upon the potential market for, or value of, the copyrighted work.

The fact that a work is unpublished shall not in and of itself bar a finding of fair use if such finding is made upon consideration of all the above factors. In addition to the fair use rule, copying is accepted if one of the following conditions applies:

Music scores:

- Single copies for library reserve use (academic purposes other than performance): an entire performable unit (section, movement, aria, etc.) may be copied if the unit is out of print or available only in a larger work.
- Multiple copies for classroom (non-performance) use: excerpts may comprise no more than 10% of a whole work and may not constitute a performable unit.
- Orchestral excerpts for auditions are often available in published sources (excerpt books), IMSLP, the LA Public Library, or from the audition organization. The Performance Librarian is often able to assist with difficult to find and/or copyright protected excerpts only, but will need time to process a request. If a work is protected, rights will need to be obtained from the publisher for use.

Sound recordings:

- Non-music recordings: Discs may not be copied unless there is no replacement recording available commercially. However, recording brief excerpts is considered fair use.
- Music recordings: A single copy may be made by faculty for the purpose of constructing aural exercises or examinations. Otherwise, the restrictions on copying non-music recordings apply.

Any questions regarding copyright and fair use should be addressed to the Director of the Colburn Library.

Recording in Halls

Students may book Thayer Hall, Mayman Hall, or Olive Rehearsal Hall for the purpose of making recordings for competitions, auditions, applications, or further educational opportunities. Currently enrolled students can book up to 8 hours per semester; these hours cannot be transferred to another student. Additional hours in a semester must be approved by the Production Office and will be deducted from the 8 hours in the following semester of the same academic year.

Students are not permitted to use the halls to make personal recordings for any reason. Personal recordings include those for personal practice, social media, etc. In general, any category that is not listed in the above statement. If a hall booked for recording is used for any other activity (rehearsal, unofficial recital, etc.), access to halls for the purpose of recording will be revoked for the remainder of the semester or the following semester, depending on the date.

Students may not have any additional guests in the hall during the recording session, with the exception of a recording engineer and/or applied teacher or coach.

Zipper Hall may not be booked for student recordings under any circumstances.

Building hours in halls for recording:

- Thayer Hall – 8 AM-10 PM
- Mayman Hall – 8 AM-10 PM
- Olive Rehearsal Hall – 8 AM-10 PM

Recording/Photography of Performances, Master classes, Rehearsals, Events, etc.

Current students and their parents or guardians, alumni, faculty and administrative staff are prohibited from:

- Personally recording, filming, or photographing;
- Hiring a third-party vendor to record, film, or photograph;
- Authorizing any member of the Colburn community or a third party to record, film, or photograph.

Students wishing to audio or video record for educational purposes must formally request permission to do so in advance of making any recordings. Requests should be directed to the Conservatory Office. Use of audio or video recordings for public distribution, whether print, digital, or broadcast, must receive express permission from, and in coordination with, the Communications Office.

Recording/Photography of Lessons and Classes

Recording, either video or audio, of lessons and classes may be desirable for educational purposes. Students may not record lessons or classes without express permission of the teacher. Such recordings may only be made for personal use and at no time may be distributed, published, shared or posted online.

Access to Recordings of Public Performances

Students may request recordings of performances that they participated in by emailing the Audio/Visual (AV) department at avoffice@colburnschool.edu. Include “Recording Request” in the subject line; include the name of event, date, time, and location of the event in the body of the email. Please allow 5 business days for the AV department to respond to your email with a link to the recording.

The AV department records the following Conservatory performances in the stated formats:

- Performance & Chamber Forums – audio and video
- Colburn Orchestra – audio only (non-union hall performances only)
- Required Student Recitals – audio and video
- Colburn Chamber Music Society – audio and video
- Colburn Baroque Ensemble – audio and video
- Colburn Contemporary Ensemble – audio and video

Practice Room Policy

Practice rooms at the Colburn School are shared by the Conservatory of Music, the Community School of Performing Arts (CSPA), and the Music Academy. Students should use ASIMUT (room booking system) to reserve practice rooms each day and rooms may be booked up to 7 days in the future. If you have questions regarding the room booking system, please contact the production staff in the Production Office (Grand 186) or at production@colburnschool.edu

To balance the needs of all students, the following policy is in effect. Any changes to this policy will be posted and students will be notified. Please be respectful of all practice room users and direct any issues or concerns to the Conservatory Office staff.

- Usage of certain practice rooms is restricted.
- CSPA Priority Rooms – CSPA students have priority Monday-Friday 1:00-8:00 PM and Saturday-Sunday 8:00 AM-2:00 PM. During all other times, Conservatory and Academy students have priority.

- Piano Priority Rooms – Any Conservatory or Music Academy student may use a Piano Priority room but must vacate if requested to do so by a Conservatory or Academy piano student.
- Specialty Rooms – Certain practice rooms are designated for particular instruments only. These include rooms for harp, percussion, bass, tuba, and chamber music. Conservatory students may reserve chamber music rooms through Production or through the Manager of Performance Activities.
- Chamber Rooms – Conservatory students may reserve chamber music rooms through the Production Office or through the Manager of Performance Activities for chamber rehearsals. Chamber Rooms should only be used for chamber rehearsals of 3 or more people and not for individual practice.
- All other practice rooms in the Grand and Olive buildings are available for use by Conservatory and Academy students.
- Food and drink are prohibited in the practice rooms at all times.
- Students are prohibited from covering practice room windows.
- Do not place any items on top of pianos. This includes instrument cases, metronomes, and writing implements. The Conservatory reserves the right to revoke practice room privileges and fine students for damages to pianos.
- Conservatory and Music Academy students will book a limited number of practice room hours through ASIMUT.
- Under no circumstances may students sign out or give access to practice rooms to persons not affiliated with Colburn.
- Conservatory and Music Academy students access practice rooms by key card.
- Practice rooms in the Grand Building are accessible during building hours. Practice rooms in the Olive Building are accessible to Conservatory students 24 hours per day, seven days per week.
- Conservatory and Academy students may practice in their rooms in the Residence Hall during the hours designated and following all rules and procedures noted in the Housing and Residence Life section of the Handbook.

Students who encounter any issues with practice room usage at the Colburn School are asked to complete a Practice Room Incident Report form (available at the Security desks and in the Conservatory/Music Academy and CSPA offices). It is expected that all who use practice rooms will follow the policies above. Repeated violations may result in disciplinary action.

Winter and Summer Break Practice Policy

While the Residence Hall is closed during school breaks, access to practice rooms may be available, with approval from the Conservatory Office.

Room Usage Policy

Performance and Rehearsal Halls

The Colburn School has several large rooms/halls:

- Zipper Hall (seats 420)
- Thayer Hall (seats 189)
- Mayman Hall (seats 75)
- Olive Rehearsal Hall
- Grand Rehearsal Hall

These spaces are shared by ALL members of the Colburn community. Additionally, these spaces are rented to outside organizations. Because of this, there is one immutable rule for the sake of courtesy and equity: CONSERVATORY STUDENTS MUST OBTAIN PERMISSION FROM THE PRODUCTION OFFICE TO USE ANY OF THE SPACES LISTED ABOVE.

It is recognized that there may be times when Conservatory students need the use of these spaces in preparation for performances that will be occurring in the near future (including juries) or for making recordings. Under no circumstances are these spaces to be used as regular practice rooms.

To maintain the halls and protect the instruments and equipment in them, a reservation must be requested. When a reservation is made, the school schedules Production staff to be in attendance. The Production Assistants shall make any adjustments to the stage set-up; faculty and students may NOT move pianos, nor may they change the stage set-up that is in place when they enter. If a room will not be used after it has been reserved, the student must cancel the room request, thus freeing the room for use by others. If the student fails to cancel the reservation, they will be charged for the time that the Production staff was in attendance.

Halls may only be reserved during the same hours the building is open that Production Assistants are working.

Abuse of this policy may lead to suspension of reservation privileges and/or disciplinary probation.

Use of all halls is coordinated by the Production Office, which is located near the Zipper Hall stage entrance. The Scheduling Office is generally available during business hours Monday through Friday and is responsible for confirming space reservations.

Zipper Hall

- Zipper Hall is a performance space that is shared with all units of the school and is also an important rental space in downtown Los Angeles. It is the school's responsibility to protect and maintain this space as our public performance space.
- Students may not request use of Zipper Hall for any reason. Faculty may request Zipper Hall if there is an extraordinary reason that makes use of a large hall a significant priority
- The Production Assistants shall make any adjustments to the stage set-up; faculty and students may NOT move pianos, nor may they change the stage set-up that is in place when they enter.

Thayer Hall

- Thayer Hall is the preferred recital and recording space for the school. Students are encouraged to use this hall for recitals. Use of Thayer Hall is requested through the Production Office, who will know the status of the room.
- If the Production Office states that the piano is not to be used or moved, students must abide by that statement.
- Thayer Hall MUST be reserved ahead of time by the student. Same-day usage by students is NOT permitted as any use of Thayer Hall requires production staff who must be scheduled in advance
- The Production Assistants shall make any adjustments to the stage set-up; faculty and students may NOT move pianos, nor may they change the stage set-up that is in place when they enter.

Mayman Hall

- This room is a classroom, performance, and recording space. The school must maintain it as such, especially considering use of the pianos in the hall. For example, if the piano is tuned for an evening performance, it must not be played or moved prior to that performance.
- Students are permitted to request use of Mayman Hall, even on the same day.
- Use of Mayman Hall is requested through the Production Office, who will know the status of the room. If the Production Office states that the piano is not to be used or moved, students must abide by that statement.
- The Production Office may deny a student use of the room – even if the room appears unused at that moment. The decision of the Production Office is final.

Classrooms

- Classrooms must be reserved through the Production Office
- Pianos may NOT be moved in classrooms. Any damage to a piano or to a classroom (walls, rugs, etc.) shall be charged to the student responsible for the damage.

Abuses of Policy The following is a partial list of behaviors that are considered an abuse of the Room Usage policy:

- Use of a room that has not been booked, excluding practice rooms
- Booking a room and not using it: Production staff members are scheduled to be on hand when performance spaces are being used. If a staff member is scheduled to work and the student does not show up to use the room and does not cancel the reservation, the student will be billed for the cost of the staff member's time.
- Booking a room and using it for only part of the time: If a student books a room, uses it, and leaves early, the student must notify the Production staff that they are done. If the student books a room and fails to show within 30 minutes of the reservation start time, they will be charged as noted above.

- Booking a room and using it for a different purpose: Production services and safety protocols are different depending on the type of space usage. If a student books a space and utilizes it for a different reason (for example, booking for a recording and then offering a performance), they will have reservation privileges suspended and/or may be placed on disciplinary probation.
- Moving an existing stage set-up without the permission of a member of the Production Office staff.
- Using or moving a piano without permission: Since pianos may be tuned in the morning for an evening event, use of the piano without permission may require that the piano be tuned again prior to the evening event. In such cases, the student will be billed the cost of the additional tuning. If a piano is moved without permission and the move causes damage to the instrument or the room (floor, walls, etc.), the student will be charged for the cost of repairs.
- Damaging a hall or any instruments or equipment in it: Students shall be charged the cost of repairs or replacement and may be disciplined depending on the nature and extent of the damage.
- It is important to note that room bookings in ASIMUT are not a final indication of room availability. Activities that might not be visible to students include, but are not limited to, maintenance, production setup, piano tuning, and holds that have not yet been confirmed.
- The Production Office may deny a student use of the room – even if the room appears unused at that moment. The decision of the Production Office is final.

Privacy and Social Media

Under Education Code Section 99121, Colburn is prohibited from requiring or requesting that a student, prospective student, or student group do any of the following: (a) disclose to Colburn a user name or password for accessing personal social media; (b) access personal social media in the presence of a Colburn employee or representative; or (c) divulge any personal social media information to Colburn.

Under Education Code Section 99120, “social media” is defined as “an electronic service or account, or electronic content, including, but not limited to, videos or still photographs, blogs, video blogs, podcasts, instant and text messages, email, online services or accounts, or Internet Web site profiles or locations.”

Institutions are prohibited from suspending, expelling, disciplining, or threatening to take any of those actions, or otherwise penalizing a student, prospective student, or student group in any way for refusing to comply with a request or demand that violates the aforementioned prohibitions. Institutions are not prohibited from: (1) exercising rights and obligations to protect against and investigate alleged student misconduct or violations of applicable laws and regulations; or (2) taking any adverse action against a student, prospective student, or student group for any lawful reason.

Student Records, Privacy Information, Transcripts

Maintenance of Student Records

In the course of the student’s application, enrollment, and attendance, the school compiles important records concerning the student, including grades, payment records, attendance records, and disciplinary records. In addition, a recorded archive of student performances documents the progress of Colburn students.

The Records Custodian for the Colburn School Conservatory of Music is:

Lin Phoong, Registrar
 Colburn Conservatory of Music
 200 South Grand Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90012

Records of current students are maintained on site in hard copy form in secured and fireproof files; computer records are stored off-site and are backed up regularly. Hard copies of transcripts of records are stored in fireproof files permanently, as required by state law.

Disclosure of Information

Colburn Conservatory of Music follows federal privacy standards. The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974 (20 U.S.C. 1232g) and regulations adopted under (34 C.F.R.99) set out requirements designed to protect students' privacy in their records maintained by the school. The statute and regulations govern access to student records maintained by the school, and the release of such records. These rights include:

- The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the school receives a request for access. To request access, a student must submit to the Dean a written request that identifies the record(s) the student wishes to inspect. The Dean shall arrange for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected.
- The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading.
  - Students may ask the school to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate. The student must write to the Dean, clearly identifying the part of the record that they want changed and specifying why the record is inaccurate. If after reviewing, the school decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the school shall notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his/her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. The right to a hearing under this law does not include any right to challenge the appropriateness of a grade determined by the instructor. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures shall be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.
- The right to consent to disclosure of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.
  - One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the school in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the school has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Directors; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing their tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his/her professional responsibility. Further, upon request, the school discloses education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll.

As of January 3, 2012, the U.S. Department of Education's FERPA regulations expand the circumstances under which your education records and personally identifiable information (PII) contained in such records—including your Social Security Number, grades, or other private information—may be accessed without your consent. First, the U.S. Comptroller General, the U.S. Attorney General, the U.S. Secretary of Education, or state and local education authorities ("Federal and State Authorities") may allow access to your records and PII without your consent to any third party designated by a Federal or State Authority to evaluate a federal- or state-supported education program. The evaluation may relate to any program this is "principally engaged in the provision of education," such as early childhood education and job training, as well as any program that is administered by an education agency or institution. Second, Federal and State Authorities may allow access to your education records and PII without your consent to researchers performing certain types of studies, in certain cases even when we object to or do not request such research. Federal and State Authorities must obtain certain use-restriction and data security promises from the entities that they authorize to receive your PII, but the Authorities need not maintain direct control over such entities. In addition, in connection with Statewide Longitudinal Data Systems, State Authorities may collect, compile, permanently retain, and share without your consent PII from your education records, and they may track your participation in education and other programs by linking such PII to other personal information about you that they obtain from other Federal or State data sources, including workforce development, unemployment insurance, child welfare, juvenile justice, military service, and migrant student records systems.

- The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the Colburn School to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:

Student Privacy Policy Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW

Washington, D.C. 20202-5920
Phone: 1800-USA-LEARN (1800-872-5327)

FERPA defines 'directory information' as information contained in education records of a student that would not generally be considered harmful or an invasion of privacy, if disclosed. Directory information at Colburn Conservatory of Music includes the following:

- Name, address, telephone listing, electronic mail address
- Place of birth
- Field of study
- Grade level
- Enrollment status (full-time, part-time, undergraduate, post-baccalaureate, graduate)
- Dates of attendance
- Degrees and awards received
- Most recent previous school attended
- Participation in officially recognized activities
- Photographs

According to FERPA, the school may disclose student directory information to a requesting third party without first obtaining a parent's or eligible student's written consent. However, a parent or eligible student has the right to direct the school not to designate some or all of this information as directory information, thereby preventing its disclosure to a third party, absent the parent's or eligible student's written consent. A parent or eligible student must notify the school's Dean within two weeks of the beginning of each academic semester if the parent or eligible student does not want any or all of the above-referenced student information designated as directory information.

Notwithstanding the school's definition of directory information, the Department of Defense, pursuant to the Omnibus Consolidated Appropriations Act of 1997 ("Solomon Amendment"), identifies the following information as student recruiting information: student names, addresses, and telephone listings; and, if known, students' ages, levels of education, and majors. If a parent or eligible student chooses not to exercise the aforementioned right and directs the school not to designate some or all of the student's information as directory information, the school shall release to the Department of Defense, or an agency thereof, that student information which the Department of Defense has designated as student recruiting information. This may result in the nonconsensual disclosure of personally identifiable information (any student information not designated as directory information). When student information is released pursuant to a Department of Defense request, notice of the request and the release of student information in accordance therewith shall be posted in a conspicuous location in the Conservatory Office for the period of one academic year.

The information stated here regarding student rights under FERPA serves as annual notification of these rights. Further information regarding the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 may be obtained from the Conservatory Office.

Student Tuition Recovery Fund

The State of California established the Student Tuition Recovery Fund (STRF) to relieve or mitigate economic loss suffered by a student in an educational program at a qualifying institution, who is or was a California resident while enrolled, or was enrolled in a residency program, if the student enrolled in the institution, prepaid tuition, and suffered an economic loss. Unless relieved of the obligation to do so, you must pay the state-imposed assessment for the STRF, or it must be paid on your behalf, if you are a student in an educational program, who is a California resident, or are enrolled in a residency program, and prepay all or part of your tuition. You are not eligible for protection from the STRF and you are not required to pay the STRF assessment if you are not a California resident or are not enrolled in a residency program.

It is important that you keep copies of your enrollment agreement, financial aid documents, receipts, or any other information that documents the amount paid to the school. Questions regarding the STRF may be directed to the Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education, 1747 North Market Blvd., Suite 225, Sacramento, California, 95834, (916) 574-8900 or (888) 370-7589.

To be eligible for STRF, you must be a California resident or are enrolled in a residency program, prepaid tuition, paid or deemed to have paid the STRF assessment, and suffered an economic loss as a result of any of the following:

- The institution, a location of the institution, or an educational program offered by the institution was closed or discontinued, and you did not choose to participate in a teach-out plan approved by Bureau or did not complete a chosen teach-out plan approved by the Bureau.
- You were enrolled at an institution or a location of the institution within the 120-day period before the closure of the institution or location of the institution or were enrolled in an educational program within the 120-day period before the program was discontinued.
- You were enrolled at an institution or a location of the institution more than 120 days before the closure of the institution or location of the institution, in an educational program offered by the institution as to which the Bureau determined there was a significant decline in the quality or value of the program more than 120 days before closure.
- The institution has been ordered to pay a refund by the Bureau but has failed to do so.
- The institution has failed to pay or reimburse loan proceeds under a federal student loan program as required by law or has failed to pay or reimburse proceeds received by the institution in excess of tuition and other costs.
- You have been awarded restitution, a refund, or other monetary award by an arbitrator or court, based on a violation of this chapter by an institution or representative of an institution, but have been unable to collect the award from the institution.
- You sought legal counsel that resulted in the cancellation of one or more of your student loans and have an invoice for services rendered and evidence of the cancellation of the student loan or loans.

To qualify for STRF reimbursement, the application must be received within four (4) years from the date of the action or event that made the student eligible for recovery from STRF.

A student whose loan is revived by a loan holder or debt collector after a period of non-collection may, at any time, file a written application for recovery from STRF for the debt that would have otherwise been eligible for recovery. If it has been more than four (4) years since the action or event that made the student eligible, the student must have filed a written application for recovery within the original four (4) year period, unless the period has been extended by another act of law.

However, no claim can be paid to any student without a social security number or a taxpayer identification number.

Questions regarding the STRF may be directed to:

1747 N. Market Blvd #225
Sacramento CA 95834
www.bppe.ca.gov
(916) 574-8900 or (888) 370-7589.

Holds on Student Accounts

Although charges for tuition, room, or board are balanced out by scholarships and grants, there are other charges that may be applied to student accounts. Examples of such charges include but are not limited to library fines, overages on accompanying charges, parking fees, and charges for damages to residential areas. The student is responsible for paying any charges incurred. Unpaid charges may result in a hold on a student's account. Until such time as the outstanding amount is paid and the hold is removed, a student:

- Will not be awarded a diploma or certificate
- Will not be able to register for classes and may be removed from registration
- Will not be permitted to move into the Residence Hall if not registered for classes
- May be denied financial assistance

Students who cannot make payment due to financial hardship may arrange a payment plan with the Finance Department, and/or may apply to the Financial Aid Committee for assistance (see “Financial Assistance Policy” above). A late fee of $25 will be added every month to the unpaid balance.

Student Teaching on Campus

Students in the Conservatory of Music are enrolled in the school to further their own studies. Conservatory students may not, under any circumstances, use any Colburn School spaces to teach their own private students. This policy is strictly enforced. Any questions on this matter should be directed to the Dean of the Conservatory. Teaching through Jumpstart, Colburn Teaching Fellows, SEM 040, or other community engagement programs is exempt from this policy.

Bulletin Boards

Conservatory bulletin boards are on the second floor of the Olive Building, outside the classroom area, and on the third floor next to the residential floor elevators. These bulletin boards are used to post information such as: official notices (class schedules, jury schedules, orchestra rehearsals, etc.), sign-up sheets, upcoming events, opportunities outside of the Colburn School, and student achievements. Students are responsible for viewing these boards and reading any official postings. Notices for the bulletin boards must be approved by the Conservatory Office before posting.

Smoking

The Colburn School is a 100% smoke-free campus. While previously permitted in designated outside areas, smoking of any kind is no longer permitted anywhere on the Colburn campus, including the south plaza. Smoking includes but is not limited to cigarettes, e-cigarettes, cigars, and the use of pipes, bongs, hookahs, etc. Please see the Alcohol, Smoking and Controlled Substances Policies section for more specific information.

Environmental Policy

The Colburn School takes measures to reduce waste at the source by using low-energy light bulbs, replacing old items with environmentally-responsible alternatives, reusing waste components, recovering and recycling waste, adopting the practice of responsible energy management through reduced consumption and the encouragement of energy efficiency throughout the school, encouraging the use of public transport, providing facilities for the disabled, pedestrians, and cyclists, and aiming for continuous improvement. As such, students are expected to conserve electricity, conserve water, recycle, and reduce waste.

Right to Change Student Catalog and Handbook

The information in this Student Catalog and Handbook is up to date at the time of publication. The Colburn School reserves the right to make changes to its course offerings, program requirements, regulations, policies and procedures, and fees and expenses as educational and financial considerations require. Updates during the school year shall appear in the digital version of the catalog on the school’s website, which shall be the most current version of all policies and procedures.

Email Communication

Conservatory students are given an official Outlook Colburn School email address:

lastnamefirstnameyearofenrollment@colburnschool.edu. This address is used for official communication from the school. Students are responsible for reading and acting on all official communications sent to their school email accounts.

Sexual Assault Policy

Under Section 94385 of the State’s Education Code, the Colburn School must have a written procedure to ensure that students, faculty, and staff who are victims of sexual assault on campus or during a school-related function shall receive treatment and information. Victims of a sexual assault are not required to disclose their name unless they wish, provided the victim is over age 18. As a result, the following activities may need to be adjusted to reflect the victim’s wishes. Per Education Code Section 94385, for purposes of this policy “sexual assault” includes, but is not limited to, rape, forced sodomy, forced oral copulation, rape by a foreign object, sexual battery, or threat of sexual assault.

- Sexual assault is illegal and not tolerated at the Colburn School.

- The Los Angeles Commission on Assaults Against Women (LACAAW) is the nearest rape crisis center for men and women. The Center provides a 24-hour hotline (213-626-3393) for the reporting of sexual assault. Victims of assault may find medical aid at California Hospital, located at Grand Avenue and Venice Blvd., just minutes from the Colburn School. California Hospital has a Sexual Assault Response Team (SART) staffed by trained nurse examiners. The LACAAW, at the victim's request, will provide a counselor to accompany the victim to the hospital, 24 hours a day.
- Reporting sexual assault to the police ensures professional assistance for the victim and strengthens the case for prosecution. It is recommended that the police be contacted immediately by calling 911. Assault on any individual under the age of 18 must be reported to the police. An individual over the age of 18 may request confidentiality. However, the hospital is required to report all sexual assaults. Note that the Colburn School encourages report of the assault, for the sake of the victim and to prevent further assaults of other victims.
- Inform a member of Colburn administration of the assault as soon as possible (i.e. the Dean of the Conservatory, Office of the Provost, Security Guard on duty, or Resident Advisor on Call)
- If the assailant is a member of the campus community and is convicted of the assault, they shall be subject to disciplinary action within the school.
- The Dean or other administrator shall refer the victim to follow-up counseling through one of several counseling services that are available in the community.
- The Dean or other administrator shall be responsible for on-going case management, including keeping the victim informed of any in-house disciplinary proceedings, and shall be available to assist the victim with any academic difficulties that may arise because of the victimization and its impact. Additionally, the staff at the Colburn School shall work with LACAAW and/or other help groups to ensure that the victim receives any and all available assistance.
- Students and staff shall refer any inquiries from the press to the Vice President of Communications, who shall protect the confidentiality of the victim and the accused (until the criminal system has determined guilt).

A victim of sexual assault shall be reminded by the Dean or other administrator of all the options and services listed above.

Sexual Harassment and Other Unlawful Harassment Policy

The Colburn School is committed to providing an environment that is free from all forms of discrimination and conduct that can be considered harassing, coercive, or disruptive, including sexual harassment. The Colburn School will not tolerate any actions, words, jokes, or comments based on a person's sex, race, color, national origin, ancestry, age, religion, disability, perceived disability, sexual orientation, gender expression, or any other legally protected characteristic. Online behavior lasts forever, as everything we post, share, or comment on can be stored and accessed indefinitely, potentially impacting our future opportunities and relationships, making it crucial for us to be mindful and responsible digital citizens. This includes private and public communications.

Sexual harassment is defined as unwanted sexual advances, or visual, verbal, or physical conduct of a sexual nature. This definition includes many forms of offensive behavior and includes gender-based harassment of a person of the same sex as the harasser. The following is a partial list of sexual harassment examples:

- Unwanted sexual advances.
- Offering employment or academic benefits in exchange for sexual favors.
- Making or threatening reprisals after a negative response to sexual advances.
- Visual conduct that includes leering, making sexual gestures, or displaying of sexually suggestive objects or pictures, cartoons, or posters.
- Verbal conduct that includes making or using derogatory comments, epithets, slurs, or jokes.
- Verbal sexual advances, propositions, or sexual innuendo.
- Verbal abuse of a sexual nature, graphic verbal commentaries about an individual's body, sexually degrading words used to describe an individual, or suggestive or obscene letters, notes, or invitations.
- Physical conduct that includes touching, assaulting, or impeding or blocking movements.

Unwelcome sexual advances (either verbal or physical), requests for sexual favors, or other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitute sexual harassment when: (1) submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of employment or academic progress; (2) submission or rejection of the conduct is used as a basis for making employment or academic decisions; or (3) the conduct has the purpose or effect of interfering with work or academic performance, or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive environment.

Discriminatory and sexually inappropriate behavior/harassment can be verbal and in writing and includes but not limited to online, phone calls, text messages, emails, social media posts and messages, videos, photos, and verbal and physical contact on and off campus.

Reporting Harassment, Discrimination, or Inappropriate Conduct

The Colburn School is committed to an environment where open, honest communications are the expectation, not the exception. Anyone experiencing or witnessing sexual or other unlawful harassment must report it immediately. The School offers multiple pathways for communication and encourages you to come to the Dean or Office of the Provost. However, we realize that there may be times when you do not feel comfortable reaching out directly and prefer to remain anonymous. Our reporting hotline, operated by an independent company, was established for this type of circumstance. Any student can submit a report via phone or online.

Provider of Hotline Services: The Network

To contact by phone: 877-749-2895

To report online: colburnschool.ethicpoint.com

The information provided will be sent to us on a totally confidential and anonymous basis if the person making the report should so choose. There shall be no punishment or reprisal for reporting sexual harassment, asking questions, or raising concerns about it.

All allegations of sexual harassment shall be quickly and discreetly investigated. To the extent possible, the identities of those involved shall be protected against unnecessary disclosure. When the investigation is completed, the person reporting the situation (unless anonymous) shall be informed of the outcome of the investigation.

Anyone who engages in sexual or other unlawful harassment will be subject to disciplinary action, including dismissal from the school or termination of employment.

NOTE: This policy is not intended to be a substitute for legal advice or to provide legal guidance of any kind.

Stalking Policy

Purpose: The Colburn School is committed to providing a campus environment free of violence and discrimination for all members of the campus community. For this reason, the school does not tolerate stalking and will pursue the perpetrators of such acts as much as possible. The Colburn School is also committed to supporting victims of stalking through the appropriate provision of safety and support services. This policy applies to all students at the Colburn School.

Stalking is a crime in California and is subject to criminal prosecution. Students perpetrating such acts of violence shall be subject to disciplinary action. This can include expulsion from the Colburn School and/or criminal prosecution.

Definition of stalking: Stalking is a course of conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to feel fear. "Course of conduct" is defined as "a pattern of actions composed of more than one act over a period of time, however short, evidencing a continuity of conduct."

Stalking behaviors: Stalking includes any behaviors or activities occurring on more than one occasion that collectively instill fear in a victim, and/or threaten her or his safety, mental health, or physical health. Such behaviors and activities may include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Non-consensual communication, including face-to-face communication, telephone calls, voice messages, emails, text messages, written letters, gifts, or any other communications that are undesired and place another person in fear.
- Use of online, electronic, or digital technologies, including but not limited to:
  - Posting pictures or information on social media or websites.
  - Sending unwanted/unsolicited email or talk requests.
  - Posting private or public messages on Internet sites, social networking sites, and/or school bulletin boards.
  - Installing spyware on a victim's computer, phone, or other electronic devices
  - Using technology to track and to monitor a victim.
- Pursuing, following, waiting, or showing up uninvited at or near a residence, workplace, classroom, or other places frequented by the victim.
- Surveillance or other types of observation including staring or "peeping."
- Trespassing.
- Vandalism.
- Non-consensual touching.
- Direct verbal or physical threats.
- Gathering information about an individual from friends, family, and/or co-workers.
- Threats to harm self or others.
- Defamation—lying to others about the victim.

Reporting stalking: The Colburn School encourages reporting of all incidents of stalking to law enforcement authorities and respects the reporting decision of the victim. Advocates in the Office of Housing and Residence Life, the Conservatory Office, and the Security Office are available to inform victims of the reporting procedures and offer appropriate referrals. Victims of stalking choosing to pursue the reporting process have the right to assistance or consultation of an advocate. The Colburn School offers services to victims even if they choose not to report the incidents. The Offices of Residence Life, Conservatory, and Security provide services, advocates, and information for victims in a safe, supportive, and confidential setting. In some circumstances, a victim may wish to seek an order of protection from a court of appropriate jurisdiction against the alleged perpetrator. Victims also may seek restriction of access to the school by non-students or non-employees in certain circumstances.

Anyone experiencing or witnessing stalking behavior must report it immediately to a member of Colburn administration (i.e. the Dean of the Conservatory, Office of the Provost, Security Guard on duty, or Resident Advisor on Call). There shall be no punishment or reprisal for reporting stalking behavior or suspected stalking behavior or asking questions or raising concerns about it. All allegations of stalking behavior shall be quickly investigated.

Any student, faculty, or administrator who becomes aware of possible stalking behavior must immediately advise the Provost, Dean, or any member of the administration so the allegation can be investigated in a timely and confidential manner. Any person who engages in stalking shall be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal from the school or termination of employment.

In certain instances, the Colburn School may need to report an incident to law enforcement authorities. Such circumstances include any incidents that warrant the undertaking of additional safety and security measures for the protection of the victim and the campus community or other situations in which there is clear and imminent danger, and when a weapon may be involved. However, it is crucial in these circumstances to consult with School Security since reporting may compromise the safety of the victim.

Personal safety concerns are very important for stalking victims. Crisis intervention and victim safety concerns shall take precedence.

Safety for Victims of Stalking: The Colburn School is committed to supporting victims of stalking by providing the necessary safety and support services. Student victims of stalking are entitled to reasonable accommodations. Due to the complex nature of this problem, the student victim may need additional assistance in obtaining help in one or more of the following areas:

- No-contact order.
- Services of a student victim advocate.
- Witness impact statement.
- Change in an academic schedule.
- Provision of alternative housing opportunities.
- The imposition of an interim suspension on the accused.
- The provision of resources for medical and/or psychological support.

For assistance obtaining these safety accommodations, please contact the Dean, Office of the Provost, a member of the Residence Life team, or Director of Security.

If safety is an immediate concern, encourage the victim to contact law enforcement or school security for assistance.

Stalking Victim's Rights: Students on our campus have the right to live free of behaviors that interfere with students attaining their educational goals. Students who report stalking have the right to:

- Treatment with dignity and respect, not subjected to biased attitudes or judgments.
- Not having past and irrelevant conduct discussed during any resulting proceedings.
- Changes in academic and/or living situations, if possible.
- All support services regardless of the choice to file a school or criminal complaint.
- Submission of a written account of the incident and a victim impact statement.
- Having a person of choice, including legal counsel or an advocate, present throughout the proceedings.
- Having one's identity protected to the extent possible in the individual circumstances.

Victims can request immediate on-campus housing relocation, transfer of classes, or other steps to prevent unnecessary or unwanted contact or proximity to an alleged assailant. Requests will be accommodated whenever possible.

Rights of the accused: Students accused of stalking behaviors have rights on this campus. These rights include:

- The right to know the nature and source of the evidence used in the hearing process.
- The right to present witnesses and material evidence relevant to the case.
- The right to an advocate or attorney to aid in the preparation and presentation of the case.
- Access to all usual services provided through the school, including access to the school's Clinical Consultant for Mental Health if requested.
- Residence Hall relocation.
- Consultation with a campus official regarding academic support services and referrals to community resources, when appropriate.
- The right to appeal a disciplinary decision, as noted in the Student Grievance policy above.

Disciplinary process: Disciplinary sanctions for violations of this Stalking Policy shall be imposed in accordance with school policies as defined in this handbook. Sanctions may include probation, suspension, or dismissal, as determined on a case-by-case basis.

Accused parties should refer to this Student Catalog and Handbook for more information on their rights, resolution of disciplinary charges, disciplinary procedures and responsibilities, and appeals process.

The Colburn School takes very seriously its responsibility to individual students, to the student body as a whole, and to the Colburn community. The School reserves the right to act in such a way as to protect the integrity of the educational endeavor. Actions on the part of the school may include, but are not limited to, the temporary suspension of parties involved, the relocation of said parties, or the involvement of civil authorities in order to protect the interests of the community and the institution.

Statutory Rape Policy

This policy addresses the legal limits of sexual relations. The student body of the Colburn Conservatory of Music includes "minors" (defined as persons under the age of 18) and "adults" (defined as persons at least 18 years of age). In addition, the school may house minor residents in the same facility as Conservatory students. All members of the Colburn community must be aware of state law regarding sexual relations with minors (California Penal Code – Section 261.5). While the school does not intend to dictate an individual's right to have a relationship with another individual, the school must abide by State law and follow legal protocol in cases where the law is violated.

Under California law, "Statutory Rape" is defined as any sexual contact including intercourse that occurs between an adult and a minor, even if both parties are minors. There is no legal consent under the age of 18. This may not apply if the parties are legally married. Statutory Rape may result in jail time and substantial financial penalties.

The Colburn School is required by law to report instances of sexual misconduct to the Los Angeles Police Department (LAPD) and its Department of Child Protective Services (DCPS). Once this report is made, the DCPS begins a criminal investigation. While this investigation is under way, the school shall take whatever steps it deems necessary to protect the institution and the individuals involved.

Information Technology (IT) Acceptable Use Policy

The Information Technology (IT) Department of the Colburn School provides computing, networking, and information resources to students, faculty, and staff. The IT Department requires all students to read and sign policies regarding acceptable use of technology on campus. All IT policies and standards are part of this Student Catalog and Handbook, whether contained herein or issued separately. Students are required to abide by these policies; violators of these policies shall be disciplined through the campus disciplinary process, in accordance with school policy and based on the severity of the violation.

Policy Statement: All individuals granted access to the Colburn School's Information Resources must follow the acceptable use rules set forth in the Acceptable Use of Information Resources Policy Agreement Form section below. This policy is established to achieve the following:

- To establish prudent and acceptable practices regarding the use and safeguarding of Information Resources.
- To educate individuals who may use Information Resources with respect to their responsibilities associated with such use.
- To ensure compliance with applicable statutes, regulations, and mandates regarding the management of Information Resources.

Rationale: The Colburn School strives to maintain access for its faculty, staff, and students (the "users") to local, national, and international sources of information, and to provide an atmosphere that encourages sharing of knowledge, creative processes, and collaborative efforts within the Colburn School's educational, research and service missions. Access to these electronic information systems is a privilege, not a right, and must be treated as such by all users of these systems. All users must act honestly, responsibly, and prudently. Every user is responsible for the integrity of these information resources. All users must respect the rights of other computer users and take care in acting responsibly to safeguard the security and confidentiality of electronic resources, information, and similar assets.

The Colburn School relies on networked computers and the data contained within those systems to achieve its missions. This Acceptable Use Policy is to protect these resources in accordance with state and federal laws and regulations, and in accordance with the Colburn School's Human Resources and Information Technology policies and procedures. Formal acknowledgment of the Acceptable Use Policy by all individuals accessing the Colburn School's Information Resources serves as a compliance and enforcement tool.

Scope: This policy applies to all users of Information Resources at the Colburn School including employees, contractors, consultants, faculty, students, alumni, volunteers, guests, external individuals, or organizations and individuals accessing external network services such as the internet via the Colburn School's facilities.

Responsibilities:

Information Technology creates and maintains an acceptable use policy and acknowledgement form for the acceptable use of information resources.

Users must:

- Read, acknowledge, and abide by the acceptable use policy.
- Exercise good judgment regarding the reasonableness of personal use in accordance with all policies associated with the Acceptable Use of Information Resources.
- Limit incidental personal use of Information Resources to activities that do not result in direct cost to the Colburn School or expose the Colburn School to unnecessary risks.

Privacy and Security: There is no inherent expectation of privacy for information stored on the Colburn School's information resources, except as provided by federal and state law and other school policies. Every effort will be made to maintain individual privacy, but the Colburn School will not be liable for the failure of these privacy efforts. While the school does not routinely monitor individual usage of its information resources, the normal operation and maintenance of the school's information resources require the backup and caching of data and communications, the logging of activity, the monitoring of general usage patterns, the scanning of systems and network ports for anomalies and vulnerabilities, and other such activities that are necessary for the rendition of services.

The Colburn School provides information technology (IT) and networks to make information available in an academic setting. Users should understand that this openness brings with it some inherent risks based on the nature of the Internet and other threat sources. Where sensitive information is processed in an official capacity, the IT policies of the Colburn School are intended to provide reasonable and appropriate protections to ensure the confidentiality and integrity of such data while making that information available to authorized persons.

Compliance: Failure to comply with the appropriate use of information resources threatens the atmosphere for the sharing of information, the free exchange of ideas, and the secure environment for creating and maintaining information property, and subjects one to disciplinary action.

The Colburn School reserves the right to place restrictions on the use of its electronic resources in response to complaints that present evidence of violations of Colburn School policies, rules, regulations, or codes, or local, state, or federal laws and regulations. Actions that violate these policies can result in immediate disabling, suspension, and/or revocation of the account owner's privileges pending review for further action. Such unauthorized or illegitimate use of electronic resources including computer accounts, resources, or facilities may subject the violators to appropriate disciplinary, criminal prosecution and/or legal action by the Colburn School and/or the State. If evidence is established, the Colburn School authorities responsible for overseeing these policies and codes will be consulted on the appropriateness of specific actions.

Contacts: Individuals who have concerns about the conduct of a member of the Colburn School community or the propriety of a given situation or activity should notify their department chair, dean, director, or an administrator. If action is deemed warranted by this official, the matter shall be referred to the appropriate Colburn School administrator who shall consult with the Colburn School's Human Resources Director and/or General Counsel. The official responsible shall then respond to Colburn School community members who express concerns about such activities or incidents.

Glossary:

Information Resources: Any and all computer printouts, online display devices, mass storage media, and all computer-related activities involving any device capable of receiving email, browsing web sites, or otherwise capable of receiving, storing, managing, or transmitting data including, but not limited to, servers, personal computers, notebook computers, hand-held computers, personal digital assistants (PDA), pagers, distributed processing systems, network attached and computer controlled equipment (i.e., embedded technology), telecommunication resources, network environments, telephones, fax machines, or printers. Additionally, it is the procedures, equipment, facilities, software, and data that are designed, built, operated, and maintained to create, collect, record, process, store, retrieve, display, and transmit information.

Governing Regulations and Standards:

General Policies

- Information resources are provided for the express purpose of conducting the business of the Colburn School.
- The Colburn School Information Resources must not be used to: engage in acts against the mission and purposes of the Colburn School, intimidate or harass, degrade performance, deprive access to information resources, obtain extra resources beyond those allocated, or circumvent the Colburn School's security measures.
- Information Resources must not be used to conduct a personal business or used for the exclusive benefit of individuals or organizations that are not part of the Colburn School system.
- Pornographic materials must not be intentionally accessed, created, stored or transmitted.
- Students, employees, contractors, and consultants must not give the impression that they are representing, giving opinions, or making statements on behalf of the Colburn School unless authorized (explicitly or implicitly) to do so in email or postings to news groups, chat rooms, or list serves. They should use a disclaimer stating that the opinions expressed are their own and not necessarily those of the Colburn School, unless the posting is related to normal business responsibilities or unless it is clear from the context that the author is not representing the Colburn School. An example of a simple disclaimer is: "The opinions expressed are my own, and not necessarily those of my employer or school."
- Users must not copy or reproduce any licensed software except as expressly permitted by the software license, use unauthorized copies on school-owned computers, or use software not approved for use on system computers (approval from the Information Technology Services management).

Data Protection

- Data will be accessed on a need-to-know basis. Users of Information Resources must not attempt to access data or programs contained on systems for which they do not have authorization or explicit consent.
- All Colburn School data (electronic files) will be saved on network servers to ensure backup of the data.
- All records (electronic or paper) will be maintained in accordance with the Colburn School records retention policies and records management guidelines.

Virus Protection

- All computers connecting to the Colburn School network must run current virus protection software. This software must not be disabled or bypassed with the exception of installation of software, or other special circumstance or procedure that requires the temporary disabling of virus protection software. Computers found to be infected with a virus or other malicious code will be disconnected from the Colburn School network until deemed safe by the Information Technology Services Department.

Email

- The following email activities are prohibited by policy:
  - Using email for purposes of political lobbying or campaigning.
  - Posing as anyone other than oneself when sending email, except when authorized to do so by the owner of the email account.
  - Reading another User's email unless authorized to do so by the owner of the email account, or as authorized by policy for investigation, or as necessary to maintain services.
  - Use of email software that poses high security risks to the Colburn School Information Resources.
  - Sending or forwarding chain letters.
  - Sending unsolicited messages to large groups except as required to conduct Colburn School business.
  - Sending excessively large messages or attachments unless in performance of official Colburn School business.
  - Sending or forwarding email that is likely to contain computer viruses, worms, or malware.

Confidential or Protected Information

- Confidential or sensitive information must be stored on the centrally managed servers and not on a desktop local hard drive. In cases when confidential or sensitive information must reside on a local hard drive, such information is required to be encrypted.
- Confidential or sensitive information is required to be encrypted on all portable devices.
- All confidential or sensitive information (e.g., social security numbers, protected health information, etc.) transmitted over external networks or saved on system servers must be encrypted. This information must not be sent or forwarded through non-Colburn School System email accounts (like Hotmail, Yahoo, AOL, or email provided by other Internet Service Providers), and must not be knowingly transmitted via wireless to or from a portable computing device unless approved wireless transmission protocols and security techniques are utilized.

Incidental Use of Information Resources

- Incidental personal use is permitted by the Information Resources Use and Security Policy but is restricted to the Colburn School's system users (it does not extend to family members or other acquaintances). It must not interfere with the normal performance of the user's duties, result in direct costs to the Colburn School, or expose the Colburn School to unnecessary risks.
- Storage of any non-work-related email messages, voice messages, files and documents within the Colburn School System email system must be nominal (less than 5% of a User's allocated mailbox space).
- All messages, files, and documents stored on the Colburn School System Information Resources – including personal messages, files, and documents – are owned in accordance with the Colburn School's Rules and Regulations.
- Any files, messages or documents residing on the Colburn School system computers may be subject to public information requests and may be accessed in accordance with this policy.
- A Colburn School email account should not be used for confidential personal email correspondence.

Internet Use

- Software for browsing the internet is provided to authorized users for business and research purposes.
- Due to network maintenance and performance monitoring and to ensure compliance with applicable laws and policies, all user activity may be subject to logging and review.
- Personal commercial advertising must not be posted on the Colburn School web site.

Portable and Remote Computing

- All computers and portable-computing devices using the Colburn School Information Resources must be password protected using the "strong" password standard.
- Users accessing the Colburn School network from a remote computer must adhere to all policies that apply to use from within the Colburn School facilities, must conform to the Information Technology minimum standards for portable computing, and are subject to the same rules and security-related requirements that apply to the Colburn School-owned computers.
- Unattended portable computing devices must be physically secure.
- If it is determined that required security related software is not installed on a remote computer or that a remote computer has a virus, is party to a cyber-attack, or in some way endangers the security of the Colburn School System network, the account and/or network connection will be disabled. Access will be re-established once the computer or device is determined to be safe by the Information Technology Services department.
- If critical Colburn School data is stored on portable computing devices, it must be backed up to a network server for recovery in the event of a disaster or loss of information.
- Special care should be taken to protect information stored on laptops and PDA devices, and in protecting such devices from theft.

Passwords

- Users are required to create network and email passwords using the “strong” password standard (at least 8 characters long, containing three or four of the following types of characters: uppercase letters, lowercase letters, numbers, and special characters such as ~!@#$). Users will be required to change passwords periodically.
- Colburn School system account(s), passwords, Personal Identification Numbers (PIN), Digital Certificates, Security Tokens (i.e., Smartcard), or similar information or devices used for identification and authorization purposes may not be shared (including with family members). All users are responsible for all activities conducted using their account(s).
- Users must not circumvent password entry through use of auto logon, application “remember password” features, embedded scripts, or hardcoded passwords in client software. Exceptions may be made for specific applications (like automated backup) with the approval of the Information Security Manager (ISM). Any exceptional situation must include a procedure to change the passwords and must adhere to security policies for password construction.

Harassment, threats, stalking, and similar activities

- Users may not use electronic communications to harass, stalk, or threaten others, or in similar ways create an atmosphere which unreasonably interferes with the education or employment experience. Communication that contains abusive, offensive, or intimidating language and is repeated, unsolicited, unwanted, or unwelcome may constitute harassment.

Abuse, damage, or destruction of electronic resources

- Users must take care not to engage in activities that, without proper authorization:
  - Overload the computing systems and networks, such as excessive use of processor time, data storage, or bandwidth, or activities which otherwise impair or negatively impact performance and availability.
  - Interfere with, disable, damage, obstruct, or in similar manner impede the normal function and accessibility of computer or communication systems, or computer data, files, and other information.
  - Attempt the unauthorized connection, removal, or modification of computer or communication devices.

Students will be held financially responsible and charged for what is caused by themselves or their guests. In addition, students will be charged with violation of policy and held responsible in the disciplinary process for excessive damage, vandalism, and/or theft of School property. In cases where the damage/vandalism/theft is severe or excessive (as determined by the School), legal or criminal proceedings may be pursued. If more than one student is associated with the damage, the total bill will be divided among the students associated with the space and charged to their accounts.

Security

- Security programs or utilities that reveal or exploit weaknesses in the security of a system or that reveal data by circumventing established authorization procedures and systems should not be downloaded and/or used by users. For example, password cracking programs, packet sniffers, or port scanners on Colburn School’s Information Resources shall not be used. Only the Information Security Manager (ISM) and authorized IT staff may utilize security programs and utilities for security audits and vulnerability testing.

Users must report any identified weaknesses in the Colburn School’s computer/information security and any incidents of misuse or violation of this agreement to an immediate supervisor, department head, school administrator, or Information Technology/Security management.

SAFETY AND SECURITY

Building Hours

Building hours vary depending on the time of year. In general, the Grand and Olive Buildings are open to the public during the academic term as follows:

Sunday through Saturday 7:00 AM – 10:00 PM

At the closing times listed above, both buildings shall be closed to the public. Conservatory students shall continue to have access to Olive Building practice rooms throughout the night but will not have access to the Grand Building. Access to Thayer Hall, Olive Rehearsal Hall, and faculty studios is prohibited after closing unless special arrangements have been pre-approved by the Production Department and the applied teacher.

Keys and Access

Students must have their ID Badge (suite key) visible when on the Colburn School campus. ID Badges should be worn on a lanyard around the neck. Lanyards are available through the Security Department. Failure to do so can result in a $25 fine for each offense and meeting with the Director of Security. Students must always maintain control over their own ID Badge. Under no circumstances should students lend another person their ID Badge. Students who lend their ID Badge to someone else will be required to meet with the Director of Security.

Residents must swipe into the Residence Hall with their individual ID badge. Residents are not permitted to swipe other students into the Residence Hall. Residents who use their ID to swipe up other residents into the Residence Hall will be required to meet with the Manager of Housing and Residence Life.

Residents are permitted to swipe their registered and approved day/overnight guests into the Residence Hall. Residents are not permitted to lend their ID badge to their guest at any time. Guests found with a resident's ID Badge may be removed from the Residence Hall, and the resident may have their guest privileges revoked. Lost ID Badges should be reported to Security immediately at security@colburnschool.edu. A $25 fee will be charged to replace a lost ID badge. Students who need a new ID Badge or different badge programming must schedule an appointment with the Director of Security at security@colburnschool.edu.

Students must always maintain control over their own keys and ID badges. The duplication of School keys and ID Badges is prohibited.

Guests

Students who bring guests into school spaces other than the Residence Hall (excluding guests for performances) are required to sign in all guests with Security. Students may not at any time give guests access to spaces that are reserved exclusively for student or school use, including but not limited to halls and practice rooms. In general, guests should be accompanied at all times unless in a public area such as the Café or Plaza.

Guest policies for the Residence Hall are outlined in the Housing and Residence Life section of this Handbook.

Emergency Procedures

Evacuation of the Building in a Fire Alarm or Emergency

If you smell smoke, feel intense heat, or see a fire, do not try to fight the fire. Call 9-1-1 and pull the closest fire alarm at a fire alarm pull station. If you have a mobile phone and can safely do so, call the RA on duty. Because your safety and your time are important to us, the Colburn School provides all occupants with unlimited access to an online, interactive, e-learning fire life safety training system with RJWestmore, Inc. safety experts. Login information for the course will be issued to occupants during your emergency training conducted by our Colburn Security Department.

The Colburn School implements an Emergency Mass Notification using the program InformaCast. All occupants are required to register as recipients by TEXTING #emergencynotification to (562) 543-4269.

Please follow the following procedures in an emergency:

- Proceed to the closest exit.
- Do not use the elevator.
- Look for a green exit sign.
- In general, it is best to move toward the ground floor. If the floors below you are unusable (too hot or too filled with smoke), move to an upper floor and find a window where you can wait for rescue.
- If there is smoke in the area, stay low to the ground and cover your nose and mouth.

- Feel each door before opening it to make sure there is no intense heat on the other side.
- Do not break windows unless it becomes necessary for escape or rescue.
- When you have reached the ground floor and have exited the building, go to the Evacuation Assembly Area to receive vital information, and so the staff may account for everyone and know that you are safe. The Evacuation Assembly Area for the Residence Hall (Olive Building) is the sidewalk at the Northeast corner of 2nd and Olive Streets. This is the gathering place for most emergencies. At the Evacuation Assembly Area, the staff will assess the condition of the students, communicate instructions, and formulate orderly next steps. Whenever there is an emergency evacuation, go directly to this spot, and await directions. Do not, under any circumstances, re-enter the building. If you are trapped, shelter in place. Stay low and put as many barriers as possible between you and the fire. If you are in a room with doors, stuff cloth under the door to prevent smoke from entering. If possible, close vents and turn off air circulating systems.

Earthquake Procedures

If you are inside and feel the building or the earth shake, take cover quickly to protect yourself from falling glass and debris, move away from windows, and stay away from doors that may swing open and harm you. Get underneath a desk, table, or other sturdy object with a solid surface, and hold on. If there is no table or desk or similar object, find an interior wall and sit with your back against it. Lean forward and cover the back of your neck with your hands to protect yourself. Wait. Do not immediately run outside. Many people are hurt or killed by falling debris outside near buildings. Make sure the earthquake is over, and make sure the area around you is safe before moving outside. Remember to prepare yourself for aftershocks. If you are outside and feel the earth shake, move quickly away from buildings and any structure that may have falling debris or glass. Stay away from power lines, trees, and traffic signs and signals.

After the earthquake/aftershock, if your immediate surroundings pose a life-threatening hazard, move slowly and cautiously toward the Evacuation Assembly Area. As you move, assist those who may need help—if it does not put your own safety in jeopardy. As you move, be cautious of possible hazards such as broken glass, electricity sources, leaking chemicals, or gas. Do not use elevators. If you are unable to exit safely, continue to avoid unsafe areas in case of aftershocks. Move to a place where you may call or wave for help. Emergency personnel may not be available, and it is important to expect to help others and take care of yourself. Phone lines may be down, roads may be obstructed, and it may be necessary to survive on limited food and water for some time. The Residence Life staff or other School personnel will oversee distributing and monitoring food, water, and medical supplies, and will provide vital information at the Evacuation Assembly Area. They will need your help. The Residence Life staff or other School personnel may assign students to serve in the following roles: runners, supplies monitors, medical triage, damage assessment, or security patrols.

Tornado Procedures

Because tornadoes are very quick and usually come without much notice, having your plan in place will protect you. First and foremost, once you hear that there is a tornado near the Residence Hall or that the conditions are right for a tornado, move to shelter immediately. If you live on an upper floor, get to the lowest level of the building that you can get to immediately. This could be the parking garage or a lower floor in the building. If you live on a higher floor and do not have enough time to get to a lower level, move to a closet, bathroom, or interior hall without windows.

Once you have relocated to a safe place, lie down on the floor, and cover yourself with pillows, blankets, and mattresses for protection from falling objects and debris. If available, get under a large table for extra protection. Wearing a bicycle or similar helmet will help protect your head from injuries caused by flying debris. It is also a great idea to keep an evacuation kit handy. Your evacuation kit should include a portable radio, flashlight with extra batteries, credit card and cash, first aid kit, spare set of keys, personal identification, and anything else of importance or of value to you. Having this together will save you time and worry during a tornado threat.

If a tornado does come near the residence hall, please use extreme caution when exiting. Watch out for fallen utility lines and tree limbs that may not have fallen yet. Make sure that everyone is all right and provide assistance to your constituents that may need attention. Finally, remember to take pictures of damage to the residence hall's property, if applicable.

Medical Emergency

If you or someone else has been severely injured or has a medical emergency, contact 911 and notify the Residence Life staff on duty and the Security staff. If you or someone is a non-residential student facing medical emergency, contact 911 and notify the Security Staff. Stay calm. Do not move the injured person. Keep others back and wait for help.

Active Shooter Response Policy

1. Immediate Actions:

- Run: If safe, evacuate the area immediately. Leave belongings behind and keep hands visible.
- Hide: If evacuation is not possible, find a secure place to hide. Lock doors, turn off lights, and silence phones.
- Fight: As a last resort, and only if your life is in imminent danger, attempt to incapacitate the shooter.

2. Alert Authorities:

- Call 911 when it is safe to do so. Provide details about the shooter's location, description, and weapons.

3. Communication:

- Follow instructions from law enforcement and campus security. Stay updated through official communication channels.

4. Aftermath:

- Await the "all clear" signal from authorities before leaving your secure location.
- Participate in any debriefings or support services offered by the college.

5. Training:

- Regularly participate in active shooter response drills and training sessions provided by the college.

This policy is designed to maximize safety and provide clear guidelines during an active shooter event on campus.

Bomb Threat/Terror Threat

There is a remote possibility that a student may receive a bomb threat. There are many reasons individuals may choose to phone or mail a threat. It is important that our community react swiftly to avoid putting community members at risk or creating panic. If you receive a phone call indicating the presence of a bomb or other terror-inflicting device, keep the caller on the line as long as possible, and gather the following information:

- Where is the device?
- What type of device is it?
- When is it set to be activated?
- Who are you?
- Why are you doing this?

Do not assume the caller will not give this information. It is likely that if they are calling, they do want to provide information. Also, take note of the following:

- Are there background noises?
- Are there identifying characteristics to the voice of the caller?
- Can you detect the caller's gender?
- Does the caller have a noticeable accent or dialect?
- Is there a strong telephone connection, or fuzzy phone line?

Report the threat immediately by calling 9-1-1 and the Residence Life staff or School Security staff. The School officials or local authorities will determine whether an evacuation is necessary based, in part, on the information you provide.

If you find a suspicious object or substance, do not touch it, or go near it. Isolate the area immediately, tell others to stay away, and contact the staff and authorities. Evacuate the area and move to the Evacuation Assembly Area to await further instructions.

Power Failure

In the event of a major power failure, the building is equipped with a back-up generator that will provide power for emergency signage and stairwells for a limited amount of time. Students should not use elevators during a power failure, even if they are running properly. If the power failure persists for an extended period of time, the back-up generators may run out of power. It is important to listen to instructions from the Residence Life staff and other School personnel. The staff may require that students move to a central location within or outside the building to ensure the safety of everyone, particularly if the power failure continues during nighttime hours. If the fire alarm system fails, students may be asked to assist in a “fire watch” patrol of the building with the Residence Life staff.

Facilities Emergency

If there is a major facilities-related emergency (flooding, sewage spill, broken glass, structural damage, person(s) stuck in elevator, electrical outage, or other problems that might cause injury or harm), contact the Security Command Center at 213.621.4500, and keep yourself and others away from danger. Phone 9-1-1 if anyone has been hurt.

Emergency/Duress (Blue Light) Phones

The Colburn School has placed blue light emergency/duress phones throughout the Olive Building. Pressing the button connects you directly with a Security officer in the 24-hour Colburn Security Command Center. Locations include the residence hallways, the parking garages, and the fourth and fifth floors of the Olive Building. Should a student feel threatened or encounter an emergency, this phone should be used to reach help. Misuse of these phones will result in fines or disciplinary action.

Preventive measures in the Residence Hall

- Keep your doors locked at all times. Residents are not permitted to bolt their suite doors at any time.
- Never open your door to strangers. The Colburn School personnel will always identify themselves prior to entering your suite or room.
- Avoid keeping large amounts of cash in your room.
- Report the presence of suspicious persons or activities to the Security Command Center at 213.621.4500 immediately.
- Prepare a list of personal property including serial numbers and model numbers and keep the list in a secure place.
- If you lose your key card or your room key (if issued), report it to the Residence Life Office immediately. Your key card will be replaced at a cost of $25; your room key will be replaced at a cost of $65.
- In the event that your door has been forced open when you arrive at your room, do not enter. Call the Security Command Center at 213.621.4500 and wait for assistance.

Preventive measures outside the Residence Hall

- If you feel that you are being followed, cross the street, or get to a brightly lit area and remain alert.
- Avoid walking near dark doorways, abandoned buildings, or other locations where someone could be hiding.
- Avoid shortcuts and stay in well-lit areas.
- If a vehicle stops and the occupant asks for directions, remain on the sidewalk, and do not approach the car. To get away from the vehicle, walk in the opposite direction of the car.
- If someone is loitering in front of or inside your residence or if someone may have followed you home, notify the security officers in the lobby of the building. Officers are posted 24 hours in both the Olive Building and Security Command Center.
- Before entering an elevator, check to see who is inside. If your suspicions are aroused, wait for the next elevator. If a suspicious person enters the elevator, stand near the control panel, and if you are attacked, press as many buttons as possible and exit as soon as you can.
- Do not use the stairs unless an emergency has been declared and the building is being evacuated.

Panic Buttons in Practice Rooms

Panic buttons are located in the Olive Building practice rooms. Pressing a panic button notifies Security of the need for assistance and the location of the button pressed. Misuse of panic buttons may result in fines or disciplinary action.

Office Hours

Faculty: Conservatory of Music faculty may keep office hours to provide students with guidance and clarity regarding their classes. These hours are specifically for academic concerns, not for make-up work or tutoring. Faculty may hold office hours by appointment, in which case students are encouraged to contact faculty directly to schedule a meeting time. Students who need special tutoring or counseling should contact their Academic Advisor.

Administrative staff: Staff members are normally available Monday through Friday only, and office hours are typically 9:00 AM – 5:00 PM.

HEALTH AND WELLNESS

Wellness Team and Program

A part of the education and training of Conservatory students, the Colburn School provides information on health and wellness, including the maintenance of professional health and the prevention of performance injuries. While health and safety are the personal responsibility of the individual musician, the school includes the following in support of its students: SEM 010 – The Healthy Musician seminar (required of all students, generally in the first semester of enrollment); a licensed nurse on campus; a consulting mental health professional; access to a licensed physical therapist; access to a licensed massage therapist; access to a licensed physical therapist; and additional wellness programs.

The Wellness Program aims to provide exposure to a diverse array of wellness modalities. Students interested in furthering their education in the areas covered are encouraged to do so. For example, students who are introduced to Alexander Technique in The Healthy Musician class may choose to do additional work with a practitioner, in consultation with their teacher or health care provider, at their own expense.

The Colburn School takes a proactive approach to keeping students physically and mentally healthy. The purpose of the Wellness Team is to allow students immediate access to psychological services as soon as possible, triage students with performance-related physical injuries, provide students with access to medical care for performance-related injuries, assist students in getting such care through their medical insurance, and provide basic medical care in the form of massage or physical therapy on-site. The Wellness Team at the Colburn School works in consultation with other campus departments, such as Human Resources, the Colburn Café, and the Residential Life team.

Dr. Jennifer Langham, PhD, Psychologist

Dr. Gerald Bernardi, LCSW

Kate Fox, CMT, CLMA

Jenny Oldroyd, RN

Dr. Janice Ying, PT, DPT, OCS

Meningococcal Disease Vaccination

All residents are strongly encouraged to have had a meningococcal vaccination by the time of move-in. Otherwise, they may be required to sign a waiver; if the student is under the age of 18, a parent must sign the waiver. Vaccinations are available from the student's local health care provider. More information is available at <http://www.cdc.gov/meningococcal/>.

Medical Insurance Requirement

The Colburn School requires all Conservatory residents to have adequate, year-round health insurance coverage. All International residents are required to enroll in the school's Student Health Insurance Plan.

Student Health Insurance Plan

The School offers a comprehensive student health insurance policy through United Healthcare administered by Arthur J. Gallagher Risk Management Insurance Services. For the 2024-2025 coverage year, the policy costs and effective dates are as follows:

- Annual (08/01/2024 - 07/31/2025)
  - Undergraduates and all International Residents: $2,475
  - Domestic Graduates: $3,5487

Students enrolled in the School's United Healthcare plan will have the premium charged to their student account.

Need-based financial aid is available to help defray the costs of health insurance for students enrolled in the School's student plan. If needed, students can apply for a payment plan from the Finance office. Payment plans will require the pre-authorization of a credit or debit card for regular payments.

Students are required to identify a local healthcare provider before moving into the Residence Hall.

Waiving the Student Health Insurance Plan

Residents who already have adequate, year-round health insurance coverage (e.g., through their parents, spouse, or an individual plan) may request an exemption on the United Healthcare website from enrollment in the United Healthcare plan. The waiver application must be completed in its entirety. Each waiver will then be reviewed by the Manager of Residence Life and Summer Housing to determine if the student's coverage is sufficient.

Failure to waive the Student Health Insurance Plan by the deadline will result in the automatic enrollment of the Resident.

If The Manager of Residence Life determines that the student's plan is insufficient, the student will be required to enroll in either the School's United Healthcare plan or a comparable plan.

Crisis Counseling

Successful musicians and artists must learn to balance the demands of performance with the demands of friends, family, and career. Developing the skills to cope with everyday stress, performance schedules, and reaching your personal goals are an important part of the Colburn educational experience. There are many avenues of support at the School. Students are urged to speak with a member of the Residence Life staff or Conservatory Office staff when in need of help or counseling.

Occasionally life provides us with challenges we are unprepared to handle. This can lead to powerful emotional responses such as intense and unremitting feelings of sadness, overwhelming grief, and even a desire to harm oneself or others. While not unusual, these are serious symptoms that require immediate attention. If you are feeling the urge to hurt yourself or someone else or are having an emotional crisis/emergency, call 9-1-1 immediately and follow the operator's instructions or go to the nearest emergency room for immediate evaluation. Do not wait until your next appointment to get help. Security and Residence Life are available 24 hours a day to assist you in this process. Below are some additional resources:

Placement Services

The Colburn Conservatory provides professional preparation and training for musicians. Employment is typically obtained through auditions. Although the Conservatory does not provide job placement services as defined in the nonmusical world, preparation for employment is given to students through curricular (e.g., SEM 020 – The Working Musician micro-courses), co-curricular (e.g., Jump Start) programs, the Center for Innovation and Community Impact, and one-on-one advising, particularly between students and their applied teachers.

Instruments

Students are expected to provide their own instruments (including reeds, strings, etc., and instrument maintenance) in their applied areas, with the exception of pianos, harps, most percussion instruments, and seldom-used orchestral instruments.

Students using school-owned instruments must sign an Instrument Lease Agreement for each instrument. Students are responsible for maintaining the condition of school instruments and should carefully review the Instrument Lease Agreement for a full understanding of responsibilities. Repairs must be discussed with the studio teacher and the Conservatory Office before taking the instrument into the shop to determine if it is necessary and which repairs the school or student should cover.

School-owned instruments must be returned by graduating students by the day prior to Commencement or the school shall withhold diplomas and transcripts. A student leaving the school for other reasons must return school-owned instruments on the student's last day of classes. Any questions regarding school-owned instruments should be addressed to the Conservatory Office.

Fees related to using a school-owned instrument are stated below:

1. Year-round lease, instrument: $150.00
2. Year-round lease, bow: $50.00
3. Semester/summer lease (auxiliary instruments such as trumpets, English horn): $25
  - a. Note that many of our auxiliary instruments are only used for a specific concert (3-4 weeks). This fee only applies if the student wants to keep the instrument for the semester/summer.
4. If a student feels that they cannot afford to pay the fee immediately, they can be billed and set up a payment plan to pay. The fee cannot be waived.

Collaborative Pianists

Dr. Vivian Fan, Director of Collaborative Piano

Conservatory students work regularly with keyboard accompaniment in lessons, master classes, juries, recitals and other performances. The Conservatory has set aside funds in its budget to underwrite a limited number of accompanying hours for each student's rehearsal and performance needs related to requirements within the curriculum. Funding is provided to support Conservatory-related events; students are responsible for accompanist fees for any events, recordings, performances, etc., that are not part of Colburn activities.

Accompanying Team:

One of the school's professional accompanists will be assigned by the Accompanying Coordinator when requested by the student on www.colburnaccompanying.com. These accompanists are contracted employees of the school and are assigned only through Dr. Fan. It is also possible to employ a Conservatory piano student for accompanying. If a student wishes to employ a piano student, this may also be done by contacting Dr. Fan and indicating which student is to be employed. Piano students employed as accompanists will turn in timesheets to Dr. Fan.

The rules/policies governing accompanying are as follows:

- All accompanying requests for the Accompanying Team must be submitted through the accompanying request website (www.colburnaccompanying.com). The website tracks the approximate number of hours used by the student.
- Each student has an annual cap of 25 accompanying hours; students may not “borrow” from another student’s allotment.
- Accompanying hours are calculated in one half hour increments. Any number of minutes under 30 will be calculated as one-half hour.
- Once a student has used his/her total accompanying hours for the year, the student will be charged per hour to use an accompanist through the Accompanying Coordinator.
- Use of an accompanist for a recital must be booked at least ONE MONTH in advance.
- Use of an accompanist through the Accompanying Coordinator must be booked at least ONE WEEK in advance for all other needs.
- There is a Conservatory-wide cap of 60 accompaniment hours per week. Once the cap of 60 hours per week is reached, students will no longer be able to book accompanists through the Accompanying Coordinator for that week.
- “Curricular” hours – Accompanist hours used to prepare for recitals, lessons or studio class are curricular, and count as part of the student’s total allotment. A student has 25 hours each year to use towards the following:
  - Lessons
  - Recitals
  - Juries
  - Studio Class
  - Showcase
  - Rehearsals for the above
- “Non-curricular” hours – Accompanist hours used that are needed due to a student being assigned or invited to perform at a Colburn event/masterclass. These following hours are not part of the 25-hour annual allotment.
  - Performance Forum
    - Performance and 1 hour toward Forum rehearsals
  - Colburn Orchestra
    - 3 hours towards timing rehearsals with conductor + lesson
  - Master class
    - Performance and 1 hour toward master class rehearsals
  - Concerto Forum
    - 1 hour toward Concerto Forum rehearsals
  - Zipper Orchestra Soloist(s)
    - 1 hour toward Zipper Orchestra Soloist(s) rehearsal
  - Community Engagement:
    - This relates directly to performances in the community through the Center for Innovation and Community Impact (CICI). Note the Zipper Orchestra hours as described above.
      - If the performance is volunteer/unpaid: Performance and 1 hour rehearsal
      - If the performance is a paid gig, you do not receive any pianist hours towards rehearsals or the performance.
  - Donor Events (by invitation from the Dean, the President’s Office, or the Philanthropy Office)
  - Important note: students who feel that they need more “non-curricular” rehearsal hours than listed above may submit a request for additional time to the Accompanying Coordinator. Such requests must be submitted and approved in advance of scheduling any additional time.
- Hours exceeding the 25-hour allotment are billed to the student’s account at the rate of the accompanist used – student accompanist ($30/hour) or professional accompanist ($70/hour) for Colburn related events.
- Students are charged $30/hour to their student account when using Conservatory piano students for non-Colburn events. Professional pianists will charge students directly at $70/hour for non-Colburn events.
- Students cannot hire international piano students for non-Colburn events. For such events, please plan accordingly and hire professional staff pianists or piano students who are U.S. citizens or permanent residents.

- Students may choose to use an accompanist who is not a member of the Team and pay for that accompanist out of their own funds.

Using an accompanist who is not a member of the Accompanying Team:

Students may choose to use an accompanist not a member of the Accompanying Team and not have the accompanying hours charged against their allotment. In this case, the student must pay any charges incurred; the school does not reimburse fees or provide financial aid for using accompanists who are neither members of the Accompanying Team nor approved Conservatory students. A list of freelance accompanists can be found on the accompanying request website. Use of a freelance accompanist for recitals or other performances must be approved by the individual applied teacher.

Oversight of accompanying hours:

The Conservatory Office oversees the tracking of accompanying hours by studio, by individual student, and by each accompanist. The Conservatory Office will notify students when they are approaching their annual limit of accompanying hours, and/or if the use of an accompanist is not approved. The Conservatory Office shall report all accompanying charges to the Finance Office which will then add the charge to the individual student account at the hourly rate.

Library – General Information

A fee of $.20 (20 cents) per day is charged for each overdue title. If items are overdue for more than 28 days, they are considered lost; replacement, billing, and processing fees shall be added to the overdue charges on the student's account. A student with library charges on his/her account shall be subject to the Holds on Student Accounts policy (above). For questions regarding borrowing or fines, please contact the library staff.

Following are the policies for Library material checkout:

Colburn Writing Center

The Colburn Writing Center is housed in the Library (O211). The Writing Center offers support for all Colburn Conservatory students for any writing projects they may have, from class papers and essays, to grant proposals, to personal bios, as well as research assistance for those projects. Students may sign up for a time to meet with Deborah Smith on Canvas Bulletin Board/Writing Center or by dropping by the library office (O216) to set up an appointment. Writing and research support is meant to supplement instruction in academic coursework, in order to facilitate a student's understanding of a topic and provide guidance, particularly for students whose prior education may not have had a robust academic component. In the BM and MM programs, there may be some classes where meeting with Ms. Smith for writing and/or research assistance is part of the requirement of a particular assignment.

On-Campus Parking for the Academic Year

Students requesting parking accommodation must enter a parking lottery for each year.

- For the 2024-2025 Academic Year, 9 tandem parking spaces (18 spots in total) are available for rent in the Olive Building parking garage (Lot 2) for a fee of $550 per semester.
- Additionally, a small number of single spaces are available for rent for a fee of $600 per semester.
  - This is only being made available for the 2024-2025 academic year. Beginning in the 2025-2026 academic year, only 9 tandem parking spaces (18 spots in total).
- Harp and double bass students will be given priority due to the unique challenges posed by the size of their instruments.
- Residential Life administers the Parking application and lottery in late summer each year.
- The Security Office will assign and manage all matters regarding parking and will be the main point of contact.

If Selected for the Lottery

Student Parking Permits:

- Students selected in the lottery must purchase a permit valid for parking on level P3 of the Olive Lot 2 parking garage within the first week of move-in. For 2024-2025, only tandem spaces will be offered.
- Tandem parking spaces involve parking two cars one behind the other. Therefore, students must provide an additional key for their tandem mate. If you do not have a spare key within the first two weeks of school, you will lose your space and will have to find parking off-campus.
- Academic-Year parking permits are active starting on your official move-in date and deactivated on the day of the official move-out date.
- Parking permits are property of The Colburn School and may be revoked at any time for misuse or abuse. Parking permits must always be displayed properly. Permits are non-transferable and may not be duplicated.

Assigned Parking Spaces:

- The Director of Security will assign those selected in the parking lottery. Students who park outside of their assigned space will be ticketed.
- If someone parks in your assigned space, e-mail Security at security@colburnschool.edu. In the e-mail, please include your space number and the make and color of the vehicle occupying your assigned space. Security will ticket the vehicle and instruct you to park in a temporary spot until the vehicle is moved. Ticket fees start at $25.

Parking Tickets:

If you do not park in your assigned spaces, you will be ticketed. The parking fines are:

- $25 for the first offense
- $50 for the second
- $75 for the third and final; your vehicle will be towed at your expense after the third violation and lose your parking privileges.

If NOT Selected for the Lottery

Students who do not request to be entered into the parking lottery by the deadline or who do not receive a space in the lottery will be responsible for finding their own parking spaces outside of The Colburn School for the academic year. See off-campus parking information at the bottom of this document.

Short-term Parking for Students

Current students with an occasional need for a parking spot (e.g. rental cars) may request a short-term parking by emailing security@colburnschool.edu at least 48 business hours (2 weekdays, no weekend requests) in advance with the date and time of your arrival and departure.

All requests must be approved and are subject to availability. Parking rates vary depending on the length of stay. See price chart for more information.

Summer Parking for Students

Summer parking may be available by emailing security@colburnschool.edu at least one week in advance of departure for the summer.

All requests must be approved and are subject to availability. If approved, payment is required to reserve a spot.

Guest Parking

For guests, students must email security@colburnschool.edu with date and time of arrival and departure, and name of their guest a minimum of 48 business hours (2 weekdays, no weekend requests) in advance.

- All requests must be approved before the guest's arrival and are subject to parking availability. Students and guests are expected to obey all posted regulations in the parking facility.
- Questions regarding parking may be referred to the Director of Security.

Overnight Guests

An overnight guest(s) in the Residence Hall must first be requested and approved by Residential Life by emailing housing@colburnschool.edu.

- To prioritize short-term parking availability for current students, the guest(s) in the Residence Hall may not park in the Olive parking structure for more than three consecutive nights, and there is a limit of no more than six nights in one 30-day period for any individual overnight guest to park. It is also expected that no student resident will have an excessive number of guests parking within any month.
- Overnight guests must park in unnumbered spaces on P3 and will be charged $20 per night. Guests may be asked to move their cars at any point if spaces are needed. If a resident abuses guest parking privileges, Residential Life and/or Security has the right to revoke the guest's parking privileges.

Family Members Attending a Degree Recital

Family members (up to 4 cars) attending your degree/graduation recital may utilize the Olive parking structure for $15 per event. Students must request spaces and be approved in advance as outlined above and are subject to availability.

Violations and Penalties

- If you have unpaid tickets, you will lose your on-campus parking privileges. Your car will be towed at your expense, and you will be required to pay all remaining parking fees.

Mail Room and Mail Procedures

Your mailing address is:

YOUR NAME (full name)

The Colburn School

200 South Grand Avenue

Los Angeles, CA 90012

Student mail is distributed to assigned student mailboxes each business day. The mailboxes are on the first floor of the Olive Building near the Mailroom. It is expected that students will check their assigned mailbox several times each week, as all hard copies of important Colburn communications will be delivered there and may be time sensitive. Failure to check your mailbox is not a valid excuse for missing deadlines or not knowing important information. Packages will be accepted by the Mailroom staff and signed for on the student's behalf. The Mailroom staff will then send an email indicating that the student should pick up the item from the Mailroom. Students will be asked to show their student ID card when picking up packages. The Mailroom is open for student package pick up during posted hours. There is a full-service United States Post Office in the lower level of California Plaza where packages may be mailed and where stamps and other supplies may be purchased. It is open Monday through Friday from 11 am – 4 pm.

Mail during Summer Months (May through August move-in)

Students are responsible for notifying all senders and companies of their change of address. Colburn is not responsible for any missed bills, notices, etc. Mail will be held during holiday breaks (i.e., Thanksgiving, Winter Break, and Spring Break). Student mail can be forwarded upon request for the first 30 days following the last day of school.

Lost and Found

The Colburn School Security maintains a lost and found program where students can check to see if a lost item has been found or turned in. To retrieve a lost item, the student will be required to prove the item belongs to them before it is returned. In the case of any loss, a Colburn Security officer will take a report documenting the loss.

Applied studies as a whole includes a requirement for practical training outside the school, whether during the academic year or during summer break.

APL 501b through 504b – Applied Studies, Individual, Chamber Ensemble-in-Residence: APL 501b, 502b, 503b, 504b are used to designate the successive semester of applied study on the individual instrument for students enrolled in as members of a chamber ensemble-in-residence, Artist Diploma program. Individual lessons will be with the appropriate applied teacher and will constitute approximately 25% of applied instruction in the program.

APL 501c through 504c – Applied Studies Chamber: APL 501c, 502c, 503c, 504c are used to designate successive semesters of applied chamber music lessons in the Artist Diploma program -- Chamber Music Emphasis. Applied Studies Chamber is only available to the designated chamber ensemble-in-residence. The Applied Studies Chamber lessons will be primarily ensemble lessons at which all members of the ensemble will be present, unless otherwise specified by the instructor(s). Applied chamber music will often be shared by more than one applied teacher. There will be, as part of Applied Studies Chamber, individual lessons with the appropriate applied teacher, who will likely also be a chamber music instructor (see APL 501b through 504b above). There will be no regimented alternation of chamber ensemble and individual lessons, but there will be a general balance of 3:1, ensemble vs. individual. Although the students are admitted to the program as an ensemble, it is very important to maintain some individual instruction to address each student's needs and to provide time for instruction that may not be pertinent to the ensemble. Applied Studies Chamber will carry four semester credits. Applied Studies Chamber is also coordinated with ENS 201, Chamber Music for Chamber Ensemble-in-Residence.

APL 511 through 518 – Applied Studies: APL 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518 are used to designate successive semesters of applied lessons in the Professional Studies Certificate program. Applied study is at the heart of the performance mission of the Colburn School. All such study is done one-on-one with faculty members who themselves have been trained and have careers at the highest musical levels. Applied Studies may include a studio class organized by the applied teacher. Applied studies as a whole includes a requirement for practical training outside the school, whether during the academic year or during summer break.

APL 521 through 524 – Applied Studies: APL 521, 522, 523, 524 are used to designate successive semesters of applied lessons in the Master of Music program. Applied study is at the heart of the performance mission of the Colburn School. All such study is done one-on-one with faculty members who themselves have been trained and have careers at the highest musical levels. Applied Studies may include a studio class organized by the applied teacher. Applied studies as a whole includes a requirement for practical training outside the school, whether during the academic year or during summer break.

APL 521b through 524b – Applied Studies, Individual, Chamber Ensemble-in-Residence: APL 521b, 522b, 523b, 524b are used to designate the successive semester of applied study on the individual instrument for students enrolled in as members of a chamber ensemble-in-residence, Master of Music program. Individual lessons will be with the appropriate applied teacher and will constitute approximately 25% of applied instruction in the program.

APL 521c through 524c – Applied Studies Chamber: APL 521c, 522c, 523c, 524c are used to designate successive semesters of applied chamber music lessons in the Master of Music program -- Chamber Music Emphasis. Applied Studies Chamber study is only available to the designated ensemble-in-residence. The Applied Studies Chamber lessons will be primarily ensemble lessons at which all members of the ensemble will be present, unless otherwise specified by the instructor(s). Applied chamber music will often be shared by more than one applied teacher. There will be, as part of Applied Studies Chamber, individual lessons with the appropriate applied teacher, who will likely also be a chamber music instructor (see APL 521b through APL 524 b above). There will be no regimented alternation of chamber ensemble and individual lessons, but there will be a general balance of 3:1, ensemble vs. individual. Although the students are admitted to the program as an ensemble, it is very important to maintain some individual instruction to address each student's needs and to provide time for instruction that may not be pertinent to the ensemble. Applied Studies Chamber will carry four semester credits. Applied Studies Chamber is also coordinated with ENS 201, Chamber Music for Chamber Ensemble-in-Residence.

APL 501cf through 504cf – Applied Studies Conducting: APL 501cf, 502cf, 503cf, 504cf are used to designate successive semesters of applied conducting lessons in the Artist Diploma program – Conducting Emphasis. Applied conducting lessons will be an aggregate of observation and assistance to the Director of Conducting. This experience will be both as an assistant to rehearsals of the Philharmonia Orchestra and at the Colburn School. Applied conducting lessons will also include working with guest conductors of the Conservatory Orchestra, as determined by the Director of Conducting. Folded into the Applied Studies Conducting curriculum will be advanced aural skills, directed by Mr. Salonen and in coordination with the Chair of Music Theory of the Conservatory. Applied Studies Conducting will carry four semester credits.

Community Engagement Courses (one credit hour per semester)

COM 201: How do you speak for music that speaks for itself? As virtuoso performers, a commitment to impactful community engagement will be integral to your pursuit of artistic excellence. This course will guide you in acquiring the necessary skills to create meaningful and impactful musical experiences with all audiences, and especially those in non-traditional venues. This class provides the opportunity for you and your chamber music colleagues both to hone these skills and to put them into practice with a culminating performance at a community venue.

Ear Training Courses

(all ear training courses earn one credit hour per semester)

ETR 103 and 104 – Beginning Ear Training I and II: All ear-training courses consist of dictation (identifying musical elements as they are sounded – rhythm, melody, harmony) and singing/sight-singing (the ability to give voice correctly to what is written). The dictation component in the first year focuses on melodic and harmonic intervals, diatonic melodic and harmonic dictation with an introduction to chromaticism near the end of Beginning Ear Training II, and simple and compound rhythmic dictation. Aural identification of triads and seventh chords in inversions will be included. The singing component includes all triads in root position and inversions, as well as diatonic melodies with an introduction to chromaticism in both treble and bass clefs using solfège. For students who are newer to sight-singing with solfège, an additional required sight-singing lab will develop singing skills and provide further support for melodic and harmonic dictation. Placement in the lab will be determined by an exam at the beginning of the school year.

ETR 203 and 204 – Intermediate Ear Training I and II: The second year of ear training further develops melodic and harmonic dictation skills to include chromaticism including Neapolitan and augmented sixth chords, borrowed chords, chromatic mediants, extended chords, etc., and modulation to related and foreign keys. Rhythmic dictation includes more advanced use of syncopation. Aural identification of all triads and seventh chords in root position and inversions, augmented sixth chords, chromatic mediants, and extended dominants will be included. The singing component includes singing all triads and seventh chords in root position and inversions, more advanced chromatic and modulating melodies, exercises in singing counterpoint, and the introduction of alto and tenor clefs.

ETR 303 and 304 – Advanced Ear Training I and II: The third-year ear training courses focus on two- and three-part melodic dictation in various clefs, playing and singing simultaneously using four clefs, transposition, and elements of modern music such as contemporary vertical sonorities, modes, synthetic scales, and rhythmic elements such as asymmetrical meters, etc. Atonality is introduced in both singing and dictation exercises.

ETR 501 and 502 – Advanced Ear Training for Conductors

The graduate level of ear-training study will consist of two semesters of advanced musicianship training and skill development as relates to score-study, rehearsal, and performance. Students will gain fluency in all clefs, with emphasis on the c-clefs, and develop facility in score-reading and transposition. Furthermore, students will develop dictation and transcription skills related to form, orchestration, advanced polyphony, large-scale harmonic motion and modulation, and overall key schemes and relationships. Finally, students will continue to develop their ability to sight-sing advanced tonal and atonal music using both fixed-Do solfège as well as scale-degree numbers and/or numerals related to set theory, applying these methods to excerpts from musical literature.

Ensemble Courses

(ensemble courses except ENS 201 earn one credit hour per semester; ENS 201 earns two credit hours)

ENS 111 – Orchestra: Participation in orchestra is one of the central elements of the programs at the Colburn Conservatory. All students (with the exception of pianists) are required to enroll in orchestra during each semester of enrollment, regardless of previous experience.

ENS 120 – Chamber Music for Strings: Participation in chamber music is one of the central elements of the programs in the Conservatory of Music. Working in small ensembles develops listening and collaboration skills and an appreciation for the challenges of melding unique individuals into a cohesive group. String students (violin, viola, violoncello and harp) are required to enroll in ENS 120 every semester. (Double bass students enroll in ENS 161; see below.) Enrollment in ENS 121 may substitute for ENS 120; enrollment in ENS 122 or 125 may substitute for ENS 120 in any given semester with the approval of the student's applied teacher.

ENS 121 – Chamber Music for Mixed Ensembles: Participation in chamber music is one of the central elements of the programs in the Conservatory of Music. Working in small ensembles develops listening and collaboration skills and an appreciation for the challenges of melding unique individuals into a cohesive group. Piano students are required to enroll in ENS 121 every semester; enrollment in ENS 122 or 125 may substitute for ENS 121 in any given semester with the approval of the student's applied teacher. Other instruments may elect to enroll for additional credit, or as a substitute for ENS 120 – Chamber Music for Strings.

ENS 122 – Baroque Ensemble: This ensemble is dedicated to the performance of seventeenth- and eighteenth-century music. Although the ensemble plays modern instruments, it is geared towards developing an awareness of and sensitivity to the nuances of historically-informed performance practices. Specific areas in which we will work include (but are not limited to): ornamentation, improvisation, articulation, and phrasing, as well as instrument-specific issues such as bowing, etc. Regular rehearsals will be enlivened by frequent guest instructors from the world of historical performance, including members of the historical performance program at the Juilliard School. Although repertoire will be dependent upon specific personnel, we will aim to focus on the performance of "monumental" works (e.g., the Brandenburg Concertos). As historical performance claims an increasingly larger influence in the larger Classical music world, this ensemble is specifically designed to help increase the flexibility and versatility of modern performers playing Baroque music. Enrollment in ENS 122 may substitute for ENS 120 or ENS 121 in any given semester with the approval of the student's applied teacher. A student may also enroll in ENS 122 in addition to other required chamber ensembles.

ENS 125 – Contemporary Music Ensemble: This ensemble open to all students who wish to study and perform music of the 20th and 21st centuries. The ensemble will usually present at least one concert each semester. Enrollment in ENS 125 may substitute for ENS 120 or ENS 121 in any given semester with the approval of the student's applied teacher. A student may also enroll in ENS 125 in addition to other required chamber ensembles.

ENS 132 – Chamber Music for Woodwinds: Participation in chamber music is one of the central elements of the programs in the Conservatory of Music. Working in small ensembles develops listening and collaboration skills and an appreciation for the challenges of melding unique individuals into a cohesive group. Flute, oboe, clarinet, and bassoon students are required to enroll in ENS 132 every semester, and may elect to enroll in ENS 121, 122 or 125 for additional credit. ENS 132 will also explore symphonic repertoire for winds as part of the course.

ENS 140 – Brass Ensemble: All brass students (horn, trumpet, tenor and bass trombone, and tuba) are required to participate in Brass Ensemble. The ensemble is both a performing ensemble and a class that covers a variety of work including orchestral repertoire, mock auditions, solo classes, as well as guest artists. The brass ensemble explores both chamber and large ensemble repertoire, and usually presents a concert each semester. Trumpet, horn, trombone, bass trombone, and tuba students are required to enroll in ENS 140 each semester, and may elect to enroll in ENS 143, ENS 121, or ENS 125 for additional ensemble credit.

ENS 143 — Chamber Music for Brass: Participation in chamber music is one of the central elements of the programs in the Conservatory of Music. Working in small ensembles develops skill and collaboration, as well as an appreciation for the challenges of melding unique individuals into a cohesive group.

ENS 151 – Low Brass Class: All low brass students (tenor and bass trombones and tuba) are required to participate in Low Brass Class. This class consists of chamber music and sectional rehearsals, and other activities as directed by the faculty.

ENS 161 – Double Bass Class: All double bass students are required to participate in Double Bass Class. This class consists of orchestral repertoire study, sectional rehearsals, and other activities as directed by the faculty. Double bass students may elect to enroll in ENS 120, 121, 122 or 125 for additional credit.

ENS 171 – Percussion Ensemble: All percussion students are required to participate in Percussion Ensemble. Repertoire is chosen at the discretion of the instructor. Percussion students may elect to enroll in ENS 121 or ENS 125 for additional credit.

ENS 201 – Chamber Music, Chamber Ensemble-in-Residence: All members of the chamber ensemble-in-residence enroll in ENS 201 every semester of residency. The core ensemble course of the program, ENS 201 will involve both intense coaching with various applied instructors, but also requires the member to be involved as mentors to students in the Conservatory, CSPA, and the Music Academy and as ambassadors in the community.

English as a Second Language (ESL) Courses

ESL 001 through 004 – English as a Second Language (no credit):

Because all instruction at the Colburn School is in English, students must have knowledge of written and spoken English sufficient to complete their programs. The school provides up to eight semesters of remedial, non-credit instruction for those students needing further development of English skills. Assessment is done by TOEFL score and personal interview.

ESL 999 – ESL Tutorial (no credit): Non-native English speakers who need supportive tutoring in English may register for the ESL Tutorial. Tutoring may be individual or in small groups. Instruction focuses on helping students to be successful in their academic classes, using the material from these classes as a basis for such help. This course is repeatable.

ESL 050 -- Group English Instruction (no credit): This course is for all first semester PD, AD, and PSC students who need English language support based on the submitted TOEFL scores. Students will work as a group on developing practical skills in English, including pronunciation and learning musical terms.

ESL 100 – English for Non-native Speakers

(one credit hour per semester)

English for Non-native Speakers is designed to help non-native English-speaking students develop their English academic reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills in order to qualify for beginning a degree program at Colburn. Students enrolled in this course are evaluated at the end of the semester to determine if they demonstrate the necessary English proficiency to enroll in a degree program the following September. The course will cover writing and grammar skills, reading and vocabulary skills, and listening and speaking skills through a variety of in-class and independent exercises and assignments.

General Studies Courses

GEN 301 - Thriving as a Musician: This course will introduce students to theories and protocols from positive psychology, cognitive science, physical therapy, and other alternative practices to help them negotiate and overcome their challenges around practice, memorization, teamwork, perseverance, and performance anxiety. The course will be part theory and part practicum, as students read about different methods and theories and devise concrete strategies for addressing issues that affect many musicians.

Humanities Courses

Note: All students in the Bachelor of Music degree program are required to take at least four semesters (12 credits) of Humanities. The humanities play a vital role in the education of Colburn students. Through the study of literature, history, philosophy, and other liberal arts, students at the Colburn Conservatory develop the critical thinking, reading, and writing skills necessary for citizenship in the 21st century. Exploring subjects other than music and cultures other than their own, Colburn students will develop greater empathy and thus gain a greater understanding of their place in the world, not only as musicians but also as citizens. In his original vision for the conservatory, Richard Colburn expressed a desire not only to attract the most talented young musicians to Los Angeles for their training, but also to retain the best talent in Los Angeles beyond the years of formal education, thus helping to ensure Los Angeles's place as a cultural center of international importance. In keeping with Richard Colburn's vision and in line with the Colburn School's commitment to the humanities, all first-year students in the BM program will take a year-long freshmen humanities seminar that will emphasize the development of critical reading, writing, and thinking skills through an intense examination and exploration of metropolitan Los Angeles.

HUM 151 – First-year Humanities Seminar I: Through a series of field trips combined with classroom discussions, readings, and films, students in the fall semester will explore Los Angeles through a close examination of the arts and the cultural life of the city. In the process, we will emphasize the development of key writing skills essential to a successful college education and a life of literacy. Working individually and in groups, students will complete a series of projects that foster analytical writing, critical reading and thinking, research, personal voice and oral presentation abilities. By the end of the semester, students will have compiled a writing portfolio that will be submitted for review by an external panel of Colburn academic faculty to ensure that all students have achieved mastery of basic writing skills.

HUM 152 – First-year Humanities Seminar II: In the spring semester, students in the freshmen humanities seminar will turn their attention to the most critical political, social, and environmental issues facing Los Angeles. Using a variety of sources, including film, television, photography, fiction, memoir, and even food, students will consider such topics as immigration; poverty and socioeconomic inequality; changing demographics in a multiracial and multiethnic society; and the role of earthquakes, the LA River, and the natural environment in a county of 10 million people. Building on the work done in the fall semester, students will undertake a series of analytical exercises and writing assignments, culminating in a research paper on a topic selected with the instructor.

HUM 304 – Neoclassical to Modern: Art History of the 19th and 20th Centuries: This course will present a critical overview of the major events, themes, and figures in Western Art from the end of the Enlightenment period until the middle decades of the 20th century. We begin with the neoclassical, yet revolutionary, art in the late 1780s, then focus on various forms of modernism and realism produced in the 19th century, the avant-gardes of the early part of the 20th century, and then finish with the modern art of the middle of the 20th century. We will study ways in which these artists have redefined the nature of the image and art object, both with new forms of painting and sculpture, but also with photographic work, collage, and performance so that we can understand how art responds to the political and social realities of its time.

HUM 330 – Creative Writing: This course will introduce students to the principles of writing poetry, fiction, and creative nonfiction. Through in-class exercises, written assignments, and short readings, students will learn such writing resources as voice, imagery, character, dialogue, and narration. Classes are structured in a workshop format, where students offer written and oral critique of others' work, and in the process, learn the principles of constructive criticism and revision. Experimentation is encouraged.

HUM 338 – British Romanticism: The concerns of British Romanticism generally are not at the forefront of what people think when they think of Romantics. Instead of lovers embracing each other's heaving bosoms (though there is plenty of Eros in the novels, poetry, and plays of the British Romantics), the figures of Romantic literature used words such as "conversation" or "intercourse" to talk about sex, but just as likely were referring to an exchange of ideas. Sometimes they meant both. From 1770–1840 in Great Britain, writers now categorized as Romantics gathered together to share their perspectives on overflowing emotions, utopian visions, colonial empires, psychoactive substances, advances in scientific thought, and current events—especially the revolutions in America, Haiti, and France. The new global political realities that emerged after these revolutions mirrored new philosophies of the self, and the Romantics took on the necessary work of transforming literature to reconcile literary tradition with emerging worldviews. In this class, students can look forward to deepening their enjoyment and appreciation of classic Romantic works by the Wollstonecraft-Godwin-Shelley circle, John Keats, Samuel Taylor Coleridge, William Blake and others with feminist thought, postcolonial lenses, psychoanalytic critique, and a dash of historical materialism.

HUM 345 - The Southern Civil Rights Movement in the Twentieth Century: Over half a century ago, the events of the Civil Rights Movement took center stage in newspapers, and on television and radio, from the Montgomery Bus Boycott to lunch counter sit-ins, fire hoses in Birmingham, mass demonstrations, and the signing of the Civil Rights and Voting Rights Acts. This course traces the history and impact of the Southern Civil Rights Movement on American politics and culture. We will examine the trajectory of civil rights activism from the late nineteenth century during Jim Crow segregation through the passage of landmark civil rights legislation in the 1960s and beyond, in order to understand the origins of the modern civil rights movement and political realignment in the South during the twentieth century. Topics of discussion will include complex legal and social strategies, mass protest, student activism, white resistance, the intersection of race and gender within the movement, and the impact of civil rights activism in Northern cities and the American Far West.

HUM 347 - America in the 1960s: The 1960s represent one of the most contested decades in American history. This course offers an in-depth examination of the political, social, and cultural trends that shaped America during this turbulent decade. Taking a thematic approach to the "long 1960s," this course will engage with primary and secondary sources that explore topics such as the African American struggle for civil rights, the "Urban Crisis," Cold War culture, liberalism at high tide, the Vietnam War, sexual liberation, the New Left and counterculture, as well as the rise of the New Right. Topics will not be limited to the strict chronological boundaries of the 1960s; rather the course will incorporate some materials and themes related to the 1950s and the 1970s.

HUM 355 - History of the Hollywood Musical: Survey class on the history and evolution of the Hollywood musical and its derivation from (and rejection of) antecedents both from the 20th Century Broadway stage and from the classical forms of opera and operetta. The ongoing struggle to harmonize the elements of song, dance, and drama into a unified narrative format, and the influence of major Broadway figures including Rodgers and Hammerstein, Agnes DeMille, Leonard Bernstein, and Bob Fosse will be addressed. Musicals are indexes of changing social and aesthetic attitudes, and so the course will embrace historical context and a discussion of shifts in popular musical tastes. Major innovators of the movie musical form, including Walt Disney, Busby Berkley, Stanley Donen, Vincente Minelli, Gene Kelly, Jacques Demy, and Bob Fosse will be approached through biographical sidebars.

HUM 363 -- Psychology of Music and Sound: This 3-credit course introduces students to the psychology of music perception and music performance. For instance, students will learn the basics of psychoacoustics: what sound waves are, how musical instruments produce them, why some spaces have “good acoustics,” how the human brain and auditory system process sound information, and how we perceive sonic characteristics such as pitch, timbre, and texture. Students will also learn some psychomusicology: evidence-based theories about why we perceive certain pitch-combinations as consonant or dissonant, how rhythm can inspire movement in the listener, how music can convey complex emotions, how even “sad” music can make us feel good, and why humans evolved such a remarkable capacity for musicality in the first place.

Independent Study

Internship

INT 100 – Internship: An internship is defined as a position in the music world that provides a student with practical training and career preparation. An internship may be full- or part-time, paid or unpaid, depending on the organization sponsoring the internship. Examples of internships include positions in performing ensembles, teaching positions, apprenticeships, arts administration positions, etc. A student must have the approval of his/her applied teacher to register for this course. Specific policies related to this course may be found below, under “Internships.”

Keyboard Courses

KBH 103 – Keyboard Harmony I: The four-course sequence of Keyboard

Harmony is designed to apply the principles of harmony of the Common Practice Period to the keyboard, by studying diatonic triads through chromatic harmony and on into twentieth-century practices over the course of four semesters. The classes utilize a three-part format: (1) the typical settings of a chord; (2) figured bass in a variety of contexts for the given chord; (3) melodic harmonization utilizing the given chord. All exercises are done in a variety of keys. Students will practice aural recall and critical listening of harmonic progressions. In addition, there are clef reading, score reading, and transposition exercises. Short selections from the keyboard repertoire are also studied to demonstrate the harmonic work studied concurrently. Students in KBH 103 who require additional support as determined by the teacher will also be assigned to Keyboard Harmony Lab.

KBH 104 – Keyboard Harmony II: KBH 104 is a continuation of KBH 103, with a correspondingly higher degree of difficulty in the keyboard exercises. Altered chords and chromatic harmony are introduced. Instruction continues to be based on the multiple format: (1) the typical settings of a chord; (2) figured bass in a variety of contexts for the given chord; (3) melodic harmonization utilizing the given chord. All exercises are done in a variety of keys. Students will practice aural recall and critical listening of harmonic progressions. In addition, there are clef reading, score reading, and transposition exercises. Short selections from the keyboard repertoire are also studied to demonstrate the harmonic work studied concurrently.

Students in KBH 104 who require additional support as determined by the teacher will also be assigned to Keyboard Harmony Lab.

KBH 203 – Keyboard Harmony III: KBH 203 is a continuation of KBH 104, with a correspondingly higher degree of difficulty in the keyboard exercises, and a study of twentieth-century practices. Instruction continues to be based on the multiple format: (1) the typical settings of a chord; (2) figured bass in a variety of contexts for the given chord; (3) melodic harmonization utilizing the given chord. All exercises are done in a variety of keys. Students will practice aural recall and critical listening of harmonic progressions. In addition, there are clef reading, score reading, and transposition exercises. Short selections from the keyboard repertoire are also studied to demonstrate the concurrent harmonic work. Students in KBH 203 who require additional support as determined by the teacher will also be assigned to Keyboard Harmony Lab.

KBH 204 – Keyboard Harmony IV: KBH 204 is a continuation of KBH 203, with a correspondingly higher degree of difficulty in the keyboard exercises, and a continuing study of twentieth-century practices. Instruction continues to be based on the multiple format: (1) the typical settings of a chord; (2) figured bass in a variety of contexts for the given chord; (3) melodic harmonization utilizing the given chord. All exercises are done in a variety of keys. Students will practice aural recall and critical listening of harmonic progressions. In addition, there are clef reading, score reading, and transposition exercises. Short selections from the keyboard repertoire are also studied to demonstrate the concurrent harmonic work. Students in KBH 204 who require additional support as determined by the teacher will also be assigned to Keyboard Harmony Lab.

KBR 111 –Keyboard Repertoire of the Baroque: All BM and PD piano majors are required to take four semesters of keyboard repertoire classes. This class examines and explores piano repertoire and performance practice of the Baroque period, including study of Handel and J.S. Bach. Instruction includes lectures, listening and reading, and may include sessions taught by guest artists and pedagogues.

KBR 115 –Keyboard Repertoire of the Twentieth and Twenty-first Centuries: All BM and PD piano majors are required to take four semesters of keyboard repertoire classes. This class examines and explores piano repertoire and performance practice of the 20th and 21st centuries, including the form and direction taken by piano music in the hands of different composers. Works of the Viennese School are studied (Schoenberg, Webern, Berg), American works (Ives, Barber, Corigliano), and works by Berio, Stockhausen, Messiaen, Prokofiev, Bartók, Hindemith, etc. Instruction includes lectures, listening, and reading, and may include sessions taught by guest artists and pedagogues.

Master of Music Courses – other

MCR 500 –Style and Idea: MM Comprehensive Review: Taken in the final semester of residency for the Master of Music degree, Style and Idea is a synergetic, performance-inspired seminar that will allow each graduating student, through collaboration and negotiation with peers and faculty, to examine performance choices based on stylistic and analytical considerations of repertoire. Each class member will be assigned one work, a movement of a work, or topic related to his/her MM recital, for intensive study, class presentation/discussion, or rehearsal demonstration. The instructor(s) will be involved in the selection of works and topics to ensure that the historic scope of works studied in the class is as broad as possible. Works will be either solo or small ensemble pieces, or possibly a string quartet from the graduating resident ensemble (if applicable). Each student, along with the class, will approach works or the chosen topic in a unique manner based on personal strengths (analysis, history, as a performance practice project, etc.), for presentation to the class. This intensive, collaborative study will inform recital preparation now and in the future, and allow an exchange of ideas and the synthesis of knowledge acquired in the Master of Music degree.

MHL 500 – Graduate Music History and Literature Review: This class provides a review of the major historic style periods, representative significant composers and works, formal and aesthetic concepts, and vocabulary. The class's goal is to develop a practical and accessible foundation in these areas to participate more effectively in the study of music history at the graduate level. Students in the Master of Music degree program will be enrolled in this class based on placement testing during Orientation. Throughout the semester, students will be expected to demonstrate their fluency in the concepts via periodic exams. MHL 500 does not fulfill elective requirements for the Master of Music degree.

MTH 500 – Graduate Music Theory Review: This class provides a review of the following topics: diatonic and chromatic harmonic progressions, part-writing, non-harmonic tones, figured bass realization, melodic and formal analysis, common-chord modulation, secondary chords and other chromatic chords, chromatic modulations, diatonic modes and other scales, non-functioning harmonies, polytonality, and non-tertian chords. The course is structured in a set of modules that divide up the review material. Students in the Master of Music degree program will be enrolled in the course based on placement testing during Orientation. Through this review class, students will be able to demonstrate knowledge of music theory sufficient for study at the graduate level. MTH 500 does not fulfill elective requirements for the Master of Music degree.

Music History and Literature Courses

MHL 108 -- First-year Music Seminar

(Two credit hours)

This course provides an active introduction to fundamentals of music history, music theory, and musical style (western classical, as well as popular and non-western) by critical engagement with select works and musical traditions. Class meetings will involve one of these three activities: 1) a “360 degree” investigation of a particular work (learning vocabulary and concepts); 2) guest artists/specialists for particular musical practices (i.e., Indian classical music, Mexican mariachi, conducting, early-music performance); and 3) smaller-group discussions/activities for going more deeply into a particular topic or reinforcing materials. Frequent guided listening will enhance aural skills, helping students to understand and analyze what they are hearing from a variety of perspectives.

MHL 104 – Music from the Middle Ages through the Early Baroque: The phrase ‘early music’ describes two connected yet distinct musical-cultural phenomena: the renewed interest in music composed before 1750, and the historical performance movement (which seeks to perform music of the past using historically-grounded practices and instruments). Historically speaking, these two phenomena—both crucial elements in today’s classical music culture—developed alongside each other, each one supporting the other. This class will examine the two in tandem, using an overview of the history of the historical-performance movement as a way to explore various corners of early music history. We will also use the points of intersection as a way to examine our own musical world: Why does so much of our focus as contemporary performers lie in music of the past? What does ‘classical’ mean anyway? And how and why did early music inform the style of Romantic, 20th-century, and 21st-century composers?

MHL 205 – Late Baroque to Early Romantic Eras: This course offers a concise overview of the musical developments in Europe during the 18th century and the first half of the 19th century. Study of the late Baroque in the early part of the 18th century will focus on the lives and works of Antonio Vivaldi, Jean Philippe Rameau, Johann Sebastian Bach, and George Frideric Handel. The next section of the course examines the significant changes that occurred in the middle part of the 18th century, both culturally (i.e., the influence of the Enlightenment) and musically, particularly the emergence of comic opera and opera reform, and the development of the symphony, sonata, and concerto. The final part of the course will investigate early Romanticism, including the varying careers and music of Franz Schubert, Hector Berlioz, Felix Mendelssohn, Robert Schumann, and Frédéric Chopin.

MHL 206 – Late 19th Century to 1945: This course is divided into two parts. The first part will return to and examine further some of the concepts covered at the end of MHL 205 regarding 19th-century musical culture, beginning at mid-century through the final bloom of musical Romanticism. In addition to an overview of the major composers, genres, compositions, and developments in musical style of these decades, the lectures and reading materials also will consider such topics as the changing “job descriptions” of the artist-musician (as critics, conductors, entrepreneurs, and theorists), the extraordinary popularity of touring virtuosi, the continued challenge posed by the “Beethoven legacy” in terms of the symphony, and the new challenge launched by Wagner’s “artwork of the future” and his novel, tonally ambiguous harmonic idiom. Another concept that will be followed throughout the course is the influence of nationalism on composer output, including French, Italian, and German opera. The second part of the course examines the complex artistic socio-cultural changes of the early 20th century, leading to the cataclysmic event of World War II. We will study the early European mainstream, including the first “modern” generation (i.e., Debussy, Vaughan Williams, Sibelius, Scriabin, Schoenberg and his students), with special concern for changes in musical styles at the fundamental level of harmony (atonality, dodecaphony, bitonality), melody (new scales, klangfarbenmelodie, coloristic use of chords), and rhythm (cross-rhythms, dissolution of pulse). We also will explore the relationship between music, musicians, and the socio-cultural movements and political regimes in the first half of the century, with particular focus on Stravinsky, "Les Six" in France, Bartók, Hindemith, Prokofiev, and Shostakovich.

MHL 311 – Topics in Music After the Second World War: This course considers how the developments in Western "classical" music during the first half of the 20th century inspired further modernistic innovations, aesthetic backlashes, and postmodern alternatives in the years after WWII. We will explore the myriad issues that influenced compositional methods in the second half of the 20th century to the present day, including the explosion of electronic resources and technologies (musique concrète, the theremin and ondes martenot, synthesizers, computer-generated sound), composer control and performer freedom (determinacy vs. indeterminacy), the expansion of the conventional resources of the orchestra, the "new accessibility" (i.e. minimalism, post-minimalism, crossover), the role of the performer as advocate for "new music," the seemingly oxymoronic category of "contemporary classical," and issues of patronage and audience accessibility. Throughout the course we will consider the relationship between music and other arts such as painting and architecture as well as the nature of such aesthetic concepts as "modernist" and "postmodernist," and the question of what constitutes music itself (sound, noise, tones, form?). Finally, this course will investigate and discuss issues facing classical musicians today as presented in "real-time" sources, including newspaper essays, blogs and social media, and other media.

MHL 319 – The Synthesis of Jazz & Classical Music: Celebrated as "America's Classical Music," since its emergence in the late 1800s jazz has had obvious connections to the Western European classical tradition. Conversely, the works of some classical composers have clearly been influenced by jazz style. Evidence of this symbiotic relationship includes the juxtaposition of Western harmonic concepts, compositional forms, orchestral instrumentation, and other aesthetic principles in synthesis with such jazz-related elements as improvisation, swing rhythms, and timbral nuances. With a loosely-chronological scope from the late 19th through the early 21st century, this class highlights the works of such classical composers as Claude Debussy, Darius Milhaud, Igor Stravinsky, Aaron Copland, and Leonard Bernstein who have utilized elements of jazz in their works as well as those by jazz musicians like Duke Ellington, Artie Shaw, Charlie Parker, Miles Davis, and Dave Brubeck who borrowed from the classical tradition to produce some of the most innovative pieces in the history of modern music.

MHL 518—History of Jazz: This course will examine the history of jazz from its inception as a set of African-American folk music to its current status as a variegated art form that resists generic categories of "classical" and "popular." We will conduct a thorough survey of jazz's general history, from its inceptions in the late nineteenth century through the present-day, examining musical styles, genres, and artists (including such important figures as Louis Armstrong, Duke Ellington, Billie Holiday, Ella Fitzgerald, Charlie Parker, Miles Davis, John Coltrane, Ornette Coleman, and others) within larger social, cultural, and political contexts. As a particular focal point, we will examine jazz's complicated and often uneasy relationship with European and American concert music. On one hand, we will examine ways in which the two traditions have mutually influenced each other, as seen in, for example, the influence of ragtime in certain works by early 20th-century composers, in symphonic jazz of the 1920s, in Duke Ellington's tone parallels, in Miles Davis's cool jazz period, and in Gunther Schuller's third stream. On the other, we will explore how the often-problematic encounters between the two exemplify larger social and political issues of race, class, and cultural hegemony.

MHL 524 – Scoring Films: This course will explore the relationship of music and film in a wide variety of films. We begin with a brief overview of the history of film scoring, from the improvised accompaniment of silent films to the Romantic idiom of Classical Hollywood; from the modernism of mid-century to the pop and pastiche styles in late 20th century to the present. The last part of the class introduces students to the practice of scoring a film. Students will score a short film, workshopping their ideas and drafts, and then presenting their final product at the end of the term.

MHL 525 –Performing the Past: a Social History of Historical Performance: This course offers an examination of the historical performance movement in social, historical, and cultural contexts. The historical performance movement can be defined as the performance of music from the past using performance practices (including instruments) appropriate to the time period; it therefore encompasses the discipline of historical performance in addition to the performance of "early music." While "early music" has traditionally implied music of the Baroque period and earlier, more recent developments in historically-informed performance have included the performance of Classical, Romantic, and even twentieth-century music as well. The past fifty years have seen historical performance move from being a somewhat fringe movement to one occupying a central space in mainstream classical music (perhaps most potently symbolized by the recent creation of a historical performance program at Juilliard). This course will trace the history of the movement from its origins in the late eighteenth and nineteenth centuries to the present day; we will also analyze it within larger cultural and social trends in classical music and in society, as a way of examining these trends from new vantage points: for example, we will examine how the historical performance movement can be seen as essentially modernist or postmodernist. We will also explore links between the early music movement and social movements such as early twentieth-century arts-and-crafts and the countercultures of the 1960s and 70s. We will look for ways in which historical performance influences or even interrogates the values of mainstream classical music culture, and we will delve into criticism and critique of the movement itself, from both within and from outside.

MHL 526 -- J. S. Bach - Past and Present: This course seeks to examine the music of Bach from a variety of historical and cultural vantage points, counteracting what is perhaps an unfortunately common tendency to look at Bach's music as existing in-and-of itself. Broadly speaking the course will consist of two parts: in the first part ("Bach Then"), we will attempt to situate Bach's works within the historical, cultural, and musical contexts in which they were created; in the second part ("Bach Now"), we will explore the impact of Bach's music on Western music and culture after his death. We will begin this part of the class by undertaking a brief survey of Bach reception history, after which we will explore several diverse topics: Bach's impact in the historical development of the early music movement (relating this to Bach's impact on twentieth-century music overall), Bach and contemporary social / cultural politics, and performance practice.

MHL 528 - Improvisation in Theory and Practice: This course will explore the role of improvisation in both historical and contemporary music-making from a variety of vantage points and through several diverse musical traditions. On the theoretical side, we will seek to define musical improvisation by examining its function, musical techniques, and defining parameters at various points in music history; we will also explore topics such as the relationship between improvisation and interpretation, the role of improvisation in creative and compositional processes at various points in the Western survey, and its role in both jazz and in 20th- and 21st-century avant-garde and experimental music. On the practical side, we will explore improvisation through a "hands- on" approach: for example, we will learn how to improvise Renaissance-style polyphony through historical methods, we will see how figured bass can serve as a springboard for improvising Baroque and Classical style cadenzas, and we will see how improvisation can be used to develop musicianship and interpretative abilities. Lastly, we will see how improvisation has become an increasingly important activity for the 21st-century musician.

MHL 552 - The History and Future of American Symphony Orchestras: Systemic Racism and Reparations: In recent years, many, if not all, orchestras have posted social injustice statements and called for racial equity improvements; but how will these predominantly white and privileged institutions repair more than a century of systemic racism rooted in the American classical music world of symphony orchestras? This course is both a historical examination of the institutional practices linked to racial inequities in the American symphonic world, as well as an exploration of strategies and new approaches currently in practice. We begin by reviewing literature on the formation of American symphony orchestras since the 19th century through the lens of critical thinking and ethical reasoning. Students will discuss issues and ideas from different perspectives and consider their implications and consequences. Publications on diversity in the arts will illuminate current challenges faced by performing arts institutions with regards to racial inequities. Specifically, demographics reports from the League of American Orchestras and orchestra data analysis reports from the Institute of Composer Diversity will provide evidence for students to reflect on orchestra repertoires of past and present. We will question what skills, knowledge, and support today's musicians need to integrate more symphonic works by BIPOC into regular programming.

MHL 554 – Work, Labor, and Music: Music performance is work, and therefore, a form of labor. Similarly, performing arts organizations are workplaces influenced by social, political, and economic forces. By considering music performance as labor and its space as a workplace, students develop a deeper understanding of the relationships between music and society at large. In this course, students will learn the fundamentals of labor law, labor economics, and collective bargaining in the performing arts sector. Students will examine how labor has been transformed over the last centuries, as well as the impact of this transformation on musicians. Students will also consider the role of labor movement as force for social justice in performing arts institutions. Last, students will investigate these areas of music labor relations with relevant case studies for each.

Music Pedagogy

MPD 331/531—Introduction to Pedagogical Practice (three credit hours)

This course will introduce pedagogical techniques to help students become proficient and effective studio teachers through discussion, observation, and hands-on practice. Students will meet in a discussion setting for 14 hours over the semester to learn about pedagogical theory and its context within applied music instruction. In the observation section of the course, students will observe lessons taught by various Colburn faculty and reflect on their observations. Finally, students are assigned a mentor teacher who will help them develop instrument-specific pedagogical techniques, and a young student from the Jumpstart program to work with in weekly lessons. Lessons are recorded and reviewed regularly with the mentor teacher to hone skills and develop techniques that will carry students into professional teaching. Required for MM, AD, and PSC students who elect the Teaching Fellows emphasis. Available to upper division undergrads by permission of the Academic Advisor in consultation with appropriate faculty.

MPD 351/551—Pedagogical Research and Practice (three credit hours)

Taught in conjunction with MPD 531 and designed for Colburn students who have expressed an interest in teaching and engaging with the diverse communities of Los Angeles, this course delves into the latest research and practice related to teaching, community engagement, social justice in the arts, and interactive performance. Students will engage with prevailing music education and community impact research in multiple ways, deepening their understanding of and developing their skills in the field of community-based music making. The class will also observe and consider ways Los Angeles organizations like the Youth Orchestra of Los Angeles, Renaissance Arts Academy, Urban Voices Project, and A Place Called Home create a lasting impact on their community. Central to the course will be discussions and research about best practices in 21st century music education pedagogy, ways music education initiatives are funded, the growing role performing arts organizations must now take to fill the music education void left by the public schools, and strategies students in the course can take when trying to extend their reach into underserved communities. This course represents a precursor to MPD 561 and lays the foundation for a capstone project for students interested in pursuing the Teaching Fellows emphasis during their second year in the program.

MPD 561 – Teaching Fellows Practicum (one credit hour per semester)

This yearlong Practicum is required in the second year for Master of Music in Performance, Artist Diploma, and Professional Studies Certificate students who have declared a Teaching Fellows emphasis and have successfully completed MPD 531 and MPD 550. The Practicum builds on skills and concepts learned in the previous courses. During the first semester of the Practicum, students continue their teaching practice under faculty guidance. During the second semester of the Practicum, students become mentors for the newly selected Teaching Fellows. Prerequisites: MPD 531 and MPD 550.

Music Theory Courses

(the following music theory courses earn three credit hours per semester)

MTH 101 and 102 – Diatonic Harmony I and II: The first year of music theory is a comprehensive study of the fundamental materials of tonal music. Emphasis in these courses is placed on part-writing of diatonic harmonic progressions, non-harmonic tones, realization of figured basses, melodic analysis, and basic compositional analysis. Also included is the study of smaller forms and the linear origin of standard harmonic progressions. Students will be asked to compose pieces in these smaller forms. The instruments of the orchestra and their various transpositions will be introduced.

MTH 201 and 202 – Chromatic Harmony I and II: The second year of music theory is an intensive study of modulation, secondary dominants, the half- and fully-diminished seventh chords, the deceptive resolution of all chromatic dominants, the Neapolitan Sixth, and the Augmented Sixth chords. An emphasis on enharmonic spelling and its relation to advanced modulation will be studied during the second semester. The relation of ultra-chromaticism to the breakdown of tonality will also be a focus of study. Original composition will be required, using the chromatic material learned in class.

MTH 301 – Counterpoint: Students in this class study 17th- and 18th- century counterpoint, including its applications to the 20th century. The class explores free counterpoint, techniques of canonic writing, plus the analyses of two-part inventions and three- or four-voice fugues. Students will compose original canons, two-part inventions, and fugues.

MTH 302 – Form and Analysis: This class engages students in intense analytical work on compositions of the Common Practice Era with emphasis on phrase structure, tonal design/prolongation, melodic/harmonic development, and formal structures from a compositional and auditory perspective. Also incorporated will be analyses and discussion of pivotal works of the early 20th century.

MTH 401 – Materials of Modern Music: Students in this class learn to understand the concepts used by composers through the last century musically, philosophically, and audibly. These concepts include atonality, indeterminacy, minimalism, electronic music, and pop culture. After analyses, readings, and discussions of particular processes, students will apply the ideas learned to the writing of two original works.

MTH 503 – The Great Composers of Los Angeles: This advanced analysis course will survey the outstanding contributions made to the development of musical life in Los Angeles by composers like Schoenberg, Stravinsky, Korngold, Frank Zappa, William Kraft, and Esa-Pekka Salonen, among others who taught in local universities or resided, temporarily or permanently, in Southern California. Scores and recordings of chamber, symphonic, and electronic music written in Los Angeles over the past century will be explored from various angles, with an emphasis on understanding the pitch systems, musical structures, and orchestration techniques specific to each composer.

MTH 505 – Composition I: The Art of Music Composition: This course is designed to enhance the understanding and practice of music for the conservatory performer, by channeling artistic creativity through new modes of expression. The main goal of the course is to allow performance students to develop a multifaceted understanding of the musical phenomenon through practical composition and orchestration projects. At the end of the semester all students will be able to compose a short piece incorporating established tonal or post-tonal models, as well as their own aesthetic and stylistic choices. Works may be written for solo instruments, or a chamber group designed around the instruments performed by the students in the class. A final concert will take place in the class or in a recital open to the Colburn community.

MTH 507 -- Analysis, Orchestration, and Arranging: This course will focus on the analysis of orchestration as relates to composer-specific styles within Western Classical Music and in conjunction with observations about harmonic, melodic, and formal construction. Students will complete analysis projects and papers as well as short orchestration assignments for solo instruments and small chamber ensembles. Students will also complete video presentations that allow them to engage with their fellow students. Furthermore, elements of arranging will be discussed and explored, and students will undertake arrangement assignments that synthesize their study of idiomatic orchestration with practical elements of being a performer in the 21st century.

MTH 522 -- Post-Tonal Theory: Analysis of the atonal repertoire with special attention to pitch-class set significance, interaction of melodic motives and harmony, and “tonal analogues” (the feeling of stability/instability in a non-tonal context). Analysis of twelve-tone works with special attention to the compositional choices that constitute individual style.

MTH 532– In Search of Style: Beethoven: Students in this class will pursue an understanding of what makes Beethoven’s music “Beethovean” through the study of a wide range of works, including piano sonatas, string quartets, and symphonies. Undergraduates may elect this course with the approval of the instructor and advisor.

MTH 542 - A Close Look at Contemporary Classical Repertoire: This course will examine the way musical parameters are used in contemporary music being performed today, focusing especially on orchestral repertoire since the 1950’s or so. Students will listen to, analyse, discuss and explore performance implications of key repertoire by composers such as Andrew Norman, Dutilleux, Saariaho, Andriessen and Unsuk Chin. This will include study of works currently being performed by the Los Angeles Philharmonic and/or Colburn ensembles during the semester, where possible. Students will develop their ability to understand, analyse and contextualise contemporary music and reflect on how this may influence their interpretation as performers. Coursework will include weekly listening assignments, score study and analysis, presentations, written papers, and creative projects.

- Board: $7,300
- Comprehensive Fee: $4,500*

These costs are, in part, offset by institutional scholarships and grants for tuition, room, and board, plus any outside scholarships awarded to students. The net cost for tuition, room, and board is thus $0, both for the current academic year and for the student's program. See also the Schedule of Student Charges and List of Estimated Costs for 2024-25. Any tax liability incurred because of this policy is the sole responsibility of the student, whether U.S. citizen or not.

*The Comprehensive Fee is mandatory and is charged to all Conservatory students to underwrite a portion of the institutional costs not covered by the general scholarship support of tuition, room and board. The comprehensive fee supports costs associated with a comprehensive, supportive musical learning environment, including but not limited to student services, campus-wide wireless, technology, graduation and commencement fees, professional development opportunities, transcript requests, accompanying services, instrument maintenance and acquisition, wellness initiatives and services, hall usage, use of school recording equipment, tickets to musical performances, cable television, etc.

The Colburn School charges students in the Conservatory of Music the following fees:

- $140 application fee (a non-refundable one-time fee that must be paid before an applicant shall be considered for admission)
- $500 enrollment (registration) fee (a one-time fee that is required before a student is considered enrolled)
- $4,500 comprehensive fee (an annual fee paid at the beginning of each school year)
- $250 Residence Hall Damage Deposit for all Residential Students

In addition, the Colburn School publishes a list of fees and fines that may be applied to student accounts. (Examples of these additional fees include dorm damage, room lockout, late fees, etc.) Failure to pay a fee or fine shall result in a hold being placed on the student's account. (See "Holds on Student Accounts.")

All students are required to have health insurance. More information on this requirement is provided in this Handbook under "Medical Insurance Requirement."

Student Right To Cancel & Refund Policy – CEC 94920, 5,CCR 71750

The state of California requires that a student has the right to cancel the enrollment agreement and obtain a refund of charges paid through attendance at the first-class session, or the seventh day after enrollment, whichever is later.

The Colburn school's cancellation policy extends the student's right to cancel the enrollment agreement and obtain a refund of charges up thru Friday of the second week of class.

A student is considered enrolled once they have submitted their Enrollment Agreement and paid their Enrollment Deposit. Students who choose to withdraw their commitment after the response deadline must do so in writing to the Admissions Office, using the Cancellation of Enrollment & Student's Right to Cancel Form attached to the Enrollment Agreement. Students may also submit their cancellation of the enrollment agreement or withdrawal from the institution in writing to the Registrar at conservatoryregistrar@colburnschool.edu.

Refunds of charges paid before cancellation or withdrawal will be processed as follows:

- Students who cancel or withdraw before the Friday in the second week of classes will be refunded 100 percent of the amount paid for institutional charges, less a reasonable deposit or application fee not to exceed two hundred fifty dollars ($250). (Includes a complete refund of comprehensive fee and parking amounts paid to date.)
- The refund policy for students who cancel the enrollment agreement after the cancellation period, (the second week of class) and complete 60 percent or less of the period of attendance shall be a pro rata refund. For your convenience see below the approximate time frame for refund in weeks.
  - Withdrawal beginning the Monday in week three through the Friday of week Eight of classes: a prorated refund of institutional charges including the comprehensive fee and parking amounts paid to date, calculated on a 15-week semester
  - Withdrawal beginning on the Monday of week nine of the semester a student will have received 60% or more of the education, and there will be no refund.

Refund of health insurance: Students who have signed up for the school's health insurance plan through Gallagher Insurance are covered for the entire year, even if the student leaves the school during that year. Therefore, health insurance is not prorated or refunded. The only exception to this is if a student leaves to enter the armed forces. This policy is set by our insurance carrier. Questions about health insurance should be directed to the Manager of Residence Life and Summer Residential Programs.

Student Financial Accounts

Students are responsible for making sure that their financial account with the Colburn School is current. Charges are processed at various times during the year. Some examples of student charges are comprehensive fees, parking fees, fines, health insurance premiums, room/suite damage charges, and program co-pays. Students are notified via e-mail when charges are posted to their accounts. The Finance office sends statements to students on a monthly basis. At that point, you have two options, pay the balance in full, either in person at the Cashier's office in the Grand building or online, or enter into a payment arrangement with Finance whereby you make installment payments to your student account. In either case, payments must reach Finance by the first (1st) of each month. Failure to make payments by the 1st of the month will result in a late fee of $25 assessed to your student account. If you have any questions regarding these policies, please see the Cashier's Office.

Schedule of Student Charges 2024-25

This Schedule of Student Charges is required by the State of California and shows the approximate total that must be paid to the school during the first year of enrollment. Health Insurance	$2,475.00/ $3,547.00 (if needed)	In addition to the Comprehensive Fee, school policy requires all students to show acceptable proof of health insurance.
